अहो! अहो! श्री सदगुरु, करुणासिंधु अपार
आ पामर पर प्रभु कर्यो, अहो! अहो! उपकार (१२४)

Thanks! the Holy True Teacher!
Unfathomable ocean of compassion;
I'm highly obliged; Oh! good Teacher,
The Pupil poor has no expression. (124)

शुं प्रभुचरणकने धरुं? आत्माथी सहु हीन,
ते तो प्रभुअे आपियो, वर्तु चरणाघिन (१२५)

What should I offer to you, Lord?
In soul-comparison all is trifle;
The soul is gifted by the Lord,
I wish to act to your oracle. (125)

- Shri Atmasiddhi Shastra, Srimad Rajchandra -

We dedicate ourselves to ceaseless efforts of Acharya Sushil Kumarji and Gurudev Chitrabhanuji, in spreading the principles of Jainism among all the Jains settled in North America.

We congratulate the Executive Committee for their devoted service to JAINA.

From the Editor's desk

The majestic temple of Ranakpur on the cover, represents many of the artistically appealing and religiously inspiring Jain Temples all over India. These temples have stood the test of time and have provided a focal point for socio-religious activities.

History tells us that many of these temples began because of a small gathering of individuals who came together with a divine inspiration. They devoted their lives and everything they had to shape a dream for the benefit of the society. In turn, we must support and recognize the volunteers and the venerable institutions we have established that help maintain our proud heritage for the coming generations.

For many of us, a trip to India includes a visit to one of these famous temples. In our mind we begin to think about the planning, logistics, and money that might have gone in to building these awe inspiring temples. We can compare this to our own experience in North America where

President's Message

Following a very successful YJA Convention in San Francisco, I am pleased to invite you to the upcoming 9th Biennial JAINA Convention which will be held in Toronto, Canada, from July 4 - 6, 1997. The theme of the 1997 convention "Jainism in Practice" will address the challenges of how the unique scientific principles of Jainism can be practiced in our daily lives.

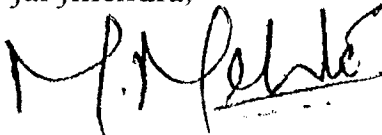

The Jain Society of Toronto and JAINA are hosting the convention in the beautiful and vibrant city of Toronto. A wonderful schedule of seminars, workshops, religious activities, entertainment events, and an interfaith meeting will address the interests of young people, adults, women and senior citizens. Our Marriage Information Service will organize a get together for the eligible young adults. Convention events will be held at the International Plaza Hotel and the Congress Center which offer large exhibition halls, children's play area, pool and many other amenities. The hotel is a five minute drive from the airport and about a fifteen minute drive from the Jain Temple.

Toronto is a popular tourist site and is accessible from many Jain Centers in the U.S.A. and Canada. Niagara Falls, a major tourist attraction, is only an hour and a half drive from Toronto. Visitors from all over the world are expected to attend this event. If you are planning to attend, please register early to facilitate planning.

During the past 18 months, JAINA has made a great deal progress in uniting all Jain centers. Our World Community Service has helped many needy people in India and has been granted exempt status by USAid and the Government of India so it can send humanitarian aid to any country without a long approval process.

Your support and donations are always needed so that JAINA can continue its religious, educational and humanitarian activities. I appeal to you to fill out the envelope in the center of this issue and include your generous donations so that we can continue to promote the principles of Jainism and nurture Jain heritage for our children.

Jai Jinendra,

There is only one JAINA Ratna Award and few Recognition Awards. Nominations may be made on an individual or group basis. Please post this information in your center. We have extended the due date for nominations to April 21, 1997. In order to be considered, all nominations must be post marked no later than April 21, 1997 and mailed to: Hansa Varia, Chairperson, Award Committee, 1114 Midway Drive, Richardson, TX 75081.

Treasurer's Comments

We all like to receive the Jain Digest regularly. It is our joint duty to support it financially. It is our national news bulletin. As mentioned in previous reports, JAINA is in urgent need of general funds. The publishing of the Jain Digest comes from the General Fund.

You can support us by advertising your business/organization in the high quality, prestigious publication that reaches into the homes of over 8,000 families across North America and Canada.

The following rates apply when considering and advertisement in the Jain Digest.

- Full page - 1 year or 4 issues $1,400
- Full page - single issue $ 400
- Half page - 1 year or 4 issues $ 800
- Half page - single issue $ 250

Please send your check, payable to JAINA, and your advertisement information/material or camera ready document to: Kamlesh Shah, Treasurer, 11409 Berland Place, Germantown, MD 20876, phone: 301/353-0481 fax: 301/916-4446.

9th Biennial JAINA Convention

Funds for our upcoming convention in Toronto have started to come in. JAINA would like to thank Kasturbai Shah and his family of Scarborough, Ontario, Canada for the very generous donation of $25,000.

This donation will help set the pace for donations to follow and certainly help to make this year's convention a tremendous success.

communities of Jains have come together to build Jain or Hindu-Jain temples. It appears to me that, because of the broad based support we have built, we may be in the process of democratizing the religion and committing ourselves to more respectable behavior.

However, the meager response we received to more than 7,500 envelopes that were included in the centerfold of our previous issue has been very perplexing.

In all, we received less than 50 envelopes, 11 were Life Memberships and were 30 address changes. We certainly appreciate those of you who responded in both cases.

However, the total count of 41 can hardly pay for the additional expense of including this easy to mail envelope. So we are going to try again. We know that the Jain Community can do better than that!

I hope that many, many of you will become Life Members and support the Jain Digest.

Jai Jinendra.

Concept of God in Jainism

Jainism believes that the Universe and all its substances or entities are eternal. It has no beginning or end with respect to time. The Universe runs on its own by its own cosmic laws. All substances change or modify their forms continuously. Nothing can be destroyed or created in the Universe. There is no need of some one to create or manage the affairs of the Universe. Hence, Jainism does not believe in God as a creator, survivor and destroyer of the Universe.

However, Jainism does believe in God, not as a creator, but as a perfect being. When a person destroys all his karma, he becomes omniscient and omnipotent. He is a liberated soul. He lives in the perfect blissful state of Moksha. This living being is a God of the Jain religion. Every living being has the potential to become a God. Hence Jains do not have one God, but Gods are innumerable and their number is continuously increasing as more living beings attain liberation. Source Unknown

The Jain Society of Alberta

Mahavir Jayanti will be celebrated at the Jain/Hindu Temple on St. Albert Trail and will be followed by Priti Bhojan. For further information, please call Jashvantbhai Mehta.

The President of Jain Society of Alberta and the JAINA Director for Alberta is actively encouraging all the Jains in Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan to register early for the 9th Biennial JAINA Convention and some 30 families are expected to attend.

The Jain Society of Toronto

Toronto is going to be the venue for the 9th Biennial JAINA Convention. The preparations have already started under the leadership of Sobhagya Khamesra our president. Committees have been organized to oversee, programming, fund-raising, souvenir magazine publication, cultural activities, art and exhibition, hotel accommodation and of course the food.

The younger Jains have organized themselves into a formidable group and already chalked out a comprehensive educational, social and cultural program for themselves. The ladies have shown tremendous enthusiasm by launching an arts project, 'Jain quilt' making, cultural programs and many more.

Over 5,000 people are expected in Toronto for the convention and at the latest count, 75% of the rooms at the conventional hotel are already booked. The Delta Hotel next door is now selected to take the overflow. For more information, call the president or any convention committee member. Detailed information can be found on pages 13 - 18.

The pratishtha for relocation of pratimaji in the new gabhara extension was performed on January 5, 1997 under the direction of Dharamchand Shastriji. Over 300 members attended the function starting with a flag hoisting, ghata yatra, vedi suddhi, pooja, shanti holm and abhishek.

The Diwali program was held at Martin Grove Collegiate in November, 1996 and over 800 Jains attended. Young Jains from 6-26 years in age entertained an appreciative audience with music, garba, dances, skits, and a fashion parade. The day concluded with a dinner that was gastronomical delight.

The Toronto Jain Society now has two pathsalas the East and West. The indefatigable husband and wife team of Arvind and Meenaben Shah is now augmented by arrival of Bruce Costain (Balbhadra) and the pathshala is becoming more popular than ever. Bruce Costain has already trained the first generation of young pathshala teachers.

The Annual General Meeting was held on March 23, 1997.

Roop Lal Jain Memorial Lecture was held on March 22, 1997 at University of Toronto was delivered by Paul Dundas.

The Jain Society of Metropolitan Chicago

Acharya Chandanashri of Viraytan, India visited Chicago in September, 1996 with two of her pupils. Their talks were arranged at the Jain Center.

Paryushan Parva was celebrated in September, 1996 in the presence of Rajendra Shah. There were daily talks and Bhanvan. The Swapna ceremony was organized and Samvatsari Pratikraman was performed. The Center was crowded to the capacity on both occasions. Daslakshan Parva was celebrated for 10 days in the presence of Paramatma Bharril.

As usual, many members observed austerities on the occasion of Paryushan. Thirty-three persons including youngsters fasted for eight days or more. About 100 persons observed some form of fasting during Paryushan.

The Council for Parliament of World Religions organized a day long conference for spiritual leaders in October, 1996. Uttam Jain and Manubhai Doshi, were invited to participate on behalf of the Jain community.

The centenary celebration of the Atma Siddhi Shashtra was organized in October, 1996 in conjunction with the installation of an idol of Shrimadrajchendra.

A Jain bowl was organized on the occasion of Mahavir Nirvan day in November, 1996. There were three groups of students who competed. It was a thrilling experience for everyone.

A general body meeting of the Society passed a new constitution on December 15 1996.

The Center elected the following member to its Executive Committee: Mahesh Shah, President; Ashwin Parekh, Vice president; Dilip Punatar, Secretary; Hemant Jain, Treasurer; Jwala Prasad, Education; Swati Jhaveri, Food; Kirtan Patel, Facilities; Ila Punatar, Membership; Jigna Shah, Youth; and Surendra Singhvi and Chandu Shah were reappointed as JAINA Directors.

A course on Jainism was offered at the University of Dayton that was taught by Surendra Singhvi, Sulekh Jain and Jwala Prasad. Ten students who were not Jain took the course. The Center is proud of them and their teachers for such a fine accomplishment.

The total membership has grown from 20 families in 1987 to 145 families today.

The center has its own temple on eleven acres of land in Middletown, Ohio with easy access from Interstate 75.

The Jain Society of Greater Detroit

The Jain Society of Greater Detroit celebrated Paryushan Parva in September, 1996.

The temple project is moving right along, with the completion of the first floor. We expect to complete the first phase of the project shortly.

The Jain Center of St. Louis

The Jain Center of St. Louis has introduced a welcome and worthwhile way of awarding the right to perform the Fourteen-Dream-Ceremony; instead of resorting to the traditional Gheeboli, the members were invited to give advance written commitment to fast, performing Samayika, or maintaining total silence. The highest bidder had the right to garland the token, and yet recognition was given to each and every bidder.

The Center's 10th Anniversary and Mahavir Nirvan day were celebrated on November 16, 1996. The program included a skit, recognition of our young people, annual report and election of the Executive Committee. Kirit Shah is our new President.

The Jain Society of North Texas

The Jain Society of North Texas celebrated Diwali on November 10, 1996 at the Jain Center in Richardson, TX. The youngest children from Jain classes recited Namokar Mantra and sang. Next group of children performed Mahavir Pooja, reciting Slokas and explaining the meaning of the rituals they performed. The Jain Youth Group members presented a skit about the difference between Jain and Hindu Diwali including Mahavir Nirvana celebration by Indra of the Devlok. They also presented a segment on general Jain rituals. Between Diwali and Christmas, JYG members collected about 400 pounds of vegetarian canned food and donated it to the needy.

The Society will celebrate Mahavir Jayanti and Ahimsa Day with the help of Gurudev Chitrabhanuji on April 19-20, 1997. This visit is of extra importance because it is a part of the "Freedom 50," a celebration of 50 years of India's independence is planned by India Association of North Texas throughout 1997.

The new Board of Trustees are K.T. Shah, Mukesh Gandhi, Suresh Ghelani, Pallaviben Mehta, Ramesh Shah and Ashok Shingavi. Our new Executive Committee is Navin Shah - President, Narendra Shah - Vice president, Kishor Shah - Secretary, Hasmukh Shah - Treasurer, Vinod Bilakhia, Suresh Chokshi, Dinesh Lakhia, Vikram Mehta, Sudhaben Parekh, Jagrutiben Shah, Jitendra Shah and Vipin Vaidya.

Just like a PTA meeting, an open house was held this past year that was well attended by young people, parents and teachers. Our pathshala program is gathering new momentum under the guidance of Ujwalaben Shingavi and Pallaviben Mehta. We are getting help from new teachers and the program is becoming more structured.

Rae Sikora from the American Anti-Vivisection Society conducted an interesting and interactive seminar on animal compassion and environment. The seminar was an eye opener.

During the 1996 Shekhar Chandra Jain, Dhirajlal Mehta, Saman Shrutpragna and Saman Ashwinipragna visited our center and held discourses. Our Jain Fellowship, organized a drive for used clothes and articles for the needy as a part of this year's Ahimsa Day celebration.

Gurudev Chitrabhanuji visited the Society in October, 1996, his visit was coordinated through JAINA to help celebrate his 75th birthday and the Silver Anniversary of his arrival in North America. His lectures were part of the program which also included Snatra Pooja, and Sangh Jaman. Navin Shah, President of JSH, Kishor Doshi and Ramanik Velani praised Chitrabhanuji's achievements, career, service to the Jain community and his contribution to Jain causes.

The first anniversary of the temple Pratishtha was celebrated in November, 1996.

The 1996 South Regional Convention where over 200 people gathered at the Jain Center in November, 1996 to discuss and learn about Jainism, was hosted by Jain Fellowship of Houston with the help of volunteers of all ages. The convention's theme "Days of Our Lives: Modernizing Jainism" described the goals of the lectures and discussions programmed for the convention. The conference reviewed modern issues with a Jain outlook, instead of simply presenting Jain ideology and concepts. It addressed issues that affect people in their day-to-day life. The participants took home information to help them transform their daily habits to be more Ahimsak, more healthy and more Jain.

The participants debated topics such as environmentally-friendly habits, animal rights awareness, Jain history and issues that confront the Jain the community, ritual vs. philosophy, abortion and Jain participation in the political arena. A conference culminated in a lively garba-rass.

The members of the Asia Society of Texas visited our center on Saturday, January 18, 1997 as a part of their program to bring greater understanding among Asian organizations. The program included a lecture on understanding of Jainism, the history of the Jain Society of Houston, a visit to the temple, an exhibition of Jain artifacts/pictures/books and cultural program by youngsters.

The highlight of the year was an extremely successful Young Jains of America (YJA) Convention organized from July 4 - 7, 1996. More than 600 young people participated. The event was hosted and organized by the young people from Northern California in cooperation with the national YJA committee. Gurudev Chitrabhanuji provided the inspirational strength for the convention. Several scholars including: Houston Smith, Pravin Shah, and John Robins addressed the convention. A variety of cultural, social, religious, and spiritual activities were scheduled over the three days. All the participants had an excellent and memorable time.

A variety of programs were organized throughout the year which included Mahavir Jayanti, Paryushan Parva, Daslakshana Parva, Samwatsari and Mahavir Nirvana, in addition to monthly bhavna, regularly scheduled youth classes, prekshadhyan classes, and Namokar Mantra Jap.

Several eminent leaders and scholars visited the center and included Jin Chandraji Maharaj, Mahasati Chandanaji, Bhattarakji, Shekhar Chand Jain, Pundit Dhirajlal Shah, Sudhaben Sheth, Pravin Doshi, and Saman Shrutpragna and Saman Ashwinipragna.

A site for the Jain Bhawan is being acquired in the city of Milpitas which is located about 50 miles south of San Francisco between Fremont and San Jose. The plan is to construct a temple and a community center approximately 17,000 square feet. The temple complex will include an all-sect temple, a Sadguru Bhakti Room and several meditation rooms and a community center which will include a large auditorium, kitchen, dining room, library, audio-video room, classrooms, visitor rooms, and offices.

Construction is scheduled to begin in April, 1997 with a cost estimated to be $3,000,000 of which approximately $1,300,000 has been raised so far. The fund raising activities were begun July, 1996 with an inspiring sermon from Jin Chandraji Maharaj. Support is needed from all the friends living in the San Francisco Bay Area and living outside the Bay area to help us build a beautiful Jain Bhawan. Vegging Out!

You want to be a what? both of my parents exclaimed at once. They set down their forks and almost in unison as their jaws dropped.

"A vegetarian. I want to be a vegetarian," I repeated calmly. Then came the onslaught of questions, warnings and predictions."

"What on earth are you thinking?"

"You'll never get enough nutrients."

"This won't last more than a week. Remember when you wanted to be a ballerina?"

My mother declared I couldn't stay away from meat forever. My father swore I'd be in the hospital from malnutrition.

I decided to become vegetarian when I saw a TV program that shocked me. It was a story about factory farms - a term used to describe the setting in which animals are raised for food.

Most people don't think about where their food comes from. They think of beef or chicken as something akin to broccoli or pasta: just another item on their dinner plate. Unfortunately, chickens and cows don't grow in gardens.

Many animals are raised in confinement, and are kept indoors most of the time except for the trip from the factory farm to the slaughterhouse. Birds are raised in cages that are very crowded. The crowded, stressed birds are debeaked with a hot blade to prevent them from pecking each other to death.

When I decided to go meatless I got a lot of hassle, but it has been worth it. I have learned to be an individual, no longer concerned about wearing the exact same shirt or having the exact same haircut or chewing the same kind of gum as my classmates. Being a vegetarian has washed away the camouflage. I wasn't the same anymore, and I found out how much better it was.

I started to think a lot about how great it would be to have a club at school for vegetarians and animal rights advocates. So I started "RAVE" - "Rights of Animals for a Vegetarian Earth." Through RAVE I have met other vegetarians my own age and found out I was not alone in my quest.

Becoming a vegetarian has certainly changed my life. Some of my friends roll their eyes and call me "picky" when I don't want my pizza with pepperoni and everyone else does. But none of this matters because I know I have made the right choice.

Lindsay Starr Muscato, has been a vegetarian for a year and is a junior at Clarence Senior High School, Clarence, NY you may write to her about RAVE at: Clarence Senior High School, 9625 Main Street, Clarence, NY 14031. This article was adapted from a article she wrote for the NeXt section of The Buffalo News, December 3, 1996.

A glimpse of our Agams

Agam is the term used for the authorized texts of Tirthankars' teaching. Lord Mahavir's teachings were compiled by Ganadhars in 12 parts, these were known as Angas. The Sanskrit word for 12 is Dwadash. Therefore those 12 Angas were collectively known as Dwadashangi.

Agams in the Shwetambar Tradition

Of the 12 Angas, the last one, known as Drashtivad has been lost to us for more than 2,000 years. Thus at this present time we only know the following 11 Angas.

Acharang Sutra - is the first and foremost Agam and deals with the code of conduct for spiritual aspirants, particularly for monks and nuns. It covers Lord Mahavir's life during the period of renouncement.

Sutrakrutang - deals with different ideologies, Karma, salvation and other aspects of special importance to the spiritual aspirants.

Sthanang Sutra - deals with various aspects of Jainism, classifying them into ten categories.

Samavayang Sutra - has a pattern similar to the Sthanang. But the classification extends to more than ten categories.

Vyakhyaprajnapiti - is also known as Bhagavati Sutra and deals with thousands of questions pertaining to the spiritual as well as temporal aspects of life raised by Gautamswami and others, with responses to these questions by Lord Mahavir.

Jnatadharmakathang - conveys various aspects of Jainism in the form of stories. The story of Draupadi and the well known story of four daughters-in-law are in this book.

Upasakdashang - describes the lives of Anand, Kamdev and eight other laymen who adopt and rigorously practiced the code for house holders or Shravaks as laid down by Lord Mahavir.

Antakritdashang - describes the lives of ten entities who ended the life cycle and attained liberation.

Anuttaraupapatik - describes the lives of the entities who attained the highest heaven and are destined to attain liberation in the next life.

Prashna Vyakaran - describes violence and other defilements as sources of asrav and narrates how the major five restraints result in Samvar or prevention of Karmas.

Vipak Sutra - depicts the consequences of Karmas that the soul has to bear at the time of fructification of Karmas.

Eighty-four Sutras were compiled including the 11 Angas, however many of them have been lost. Currently only forty-five are available to us. Although those who follow the Sthanakwasi tradition consider only thirty-two of them. Aside from above mentioned 11 Angas, the following Sutras are most prominent.

Dashvaikalik Sutra - presents the code of conduct for monks as prepared by Shayambhavswami for his son Manak by extracting the essence of Purvas.

Uttaradhyayan Sutra - which is the compilation of the last sermon of Lord Mahavir that he gave during his two days' fast and is widely studied by scholars. It deals with many aspects of Jainism and contains many illustrative stories.

Avashyak Sutra - with the six avashyaks or the daily essentials of Samayika, Devvandan, Guruvandan, Pratikraman, Kausagga and Pachchakhan.

Dashashrutskandha - deals with different Jain rituals. Its 9th Chapter is the well known Kalpasutra.

Agams as per Digambar Tradition

All of the twelve original Angas have been lost. The books written by Kundkundacharya and other well known acharyas constitute the main agams. The most prominent of them are:

Pravachansar - which covers the principal teaching of the Lords. It emphasizes right knowledge, known as Samyagjnan.

Samaysar - is the most well known and well read agam. It emphasizes right perception, known as Samyagdarshan.

Niyamsar - deals with the right conduct known, as Samyakcharitra.

Panchastikay - deals with the original of the six substances, the soul, the lifeless atom, pudgal, the ether like substance useful for making movement, another ether like substance useful in stability, space, and time. The first five are categorized as Astikay and are collectively known as Pnachastikay.

Shravakachar - lays down the code of conduct for laymen and covers twelve types of restraints for the laymen.

Aptamimansa - is a detailed discussion about the nature of the soul and its salvation.

Tattvarthasutra - deals with the important aspects of Jainism. Being equally acceptable to Digambers and Shwetambers it is very widely studied and discussed.

Sarvarthasiddhi - detailed commentary of Tattvarthasutra and elaborates all aspects of the Tattvarthasutra.

Atma Siddhi Shastra was written by Shrimad Rajchandra one evening in 1896. It is the poetic version of his well known letter of six fundamentals. It covers everything that a spiritual aspirant needs to know and is widely studied by Jains and others. It is a work meant for self-realization and if regularly chanted is known to have miraculous impact. By covering the essence of all the scriptures within the 142 stanzas, Shrimad has virtually contained the ocean in a bowl.

INVITATION

Dear Friends:

Jai Jinendra! On behalf of JAINA and the Jain Society of Toronto, we are very pleased to invite you to the 9th Biennial JAINA Convention which will be held from July 4 - 6, 1997 in Toronto, Canada. The theme of this year's Convention, Jainism in Practice . . . the New Age, is guaranteed to bring us all together for celebration of Jain religion, art and culture.

Panel discussions, presentations by scholars, video and slide presentations and exhibitions will focus on this theme. JAINA '97 promises to be a wonderful gathering for the Jain community of North America. It will offer opportunities for our young adults to experience a new level of kinship, and for the first time, we are planning an event for Jain businessmen to meet other Jain businessmen.

To make sure that your visit is very pleasant and memorable, we would like to plan this event with you in mind. Please help us by registering for the Convention by April 30, 1997 and take advantage of the Early Bird Special we are offering.

Because the entire event is being funded by your registration fees, advertisements and donations, we strongly encourage you to register early, advertise in our souvenir magazine and make as large a contribution to our effort as you possibly can.

Come to Toronto this coming summer with your family, friends and share in the excitement of this great event.

Most sincerely,

JAINA '97 Hits Toronto

JAINA '97 promises to be an entirely new experience for young people. The upcoming JAINA conference, will be held in Toronto, Canada from July 4th-7th, will feature a variety of youth activities that promises to make it an enlightening experience for those in attendance. The conference is important to Jain youths in North America, since it presents the opportunity for sharpening religious and cultural awareness.

Preparations for the conference are under way in Toronto. Several events are planned for young people during the three days in July. The events encompass the many different areas of interest; social, academic, religious and cultural. Planning within these categories is focused so that young people will develop new friendships, and further their understanding of the Jain religion. Events already being planned strictly for young peoples include a social night (boat cruise, or dinner and dance), a raas-garba, discussion groups, guest speakers, and hands on cooking and meditation sessions.

These events be great fun, and they will provide an outstanding opportunity for young people from all over North America to meet each other and make lasting friendships. The discussion groups will provide the chance to look at controversial topics from a Jain perspective; issues such as hypocrisies in Jainism, Jainism and business ethics, East meets West (a cultural clash). These discussion groups will provide insight into the uniqueness of Jainism. They will provide a forum for young people to talk openly about their feelings towards Jainism, without adult pressures.

JAINA '97 will be an exciting and invigorating experience for everyone. We encourage you to come and take advantage of the vast efforts being made to have a spectacular conference for everyone. Youth registration forms will be arriving in the mail and at your Jain Centers. Registration for young people is free, provided that their families have registered. Hope to see you in July!!!

YJA Accepting Bids for '98 YJA Convention

Once again it is time to prepare for the Young Jains of America Biennial Convention 1998. YJA is looking for enthusiastic and vibrant cities to bid to host the 1998 Young Jains of America Convention. The YJA Convention '98 will be held from July 2 - 5, 1998.

The Invitation to Bid will be available to interested cities by March 1, 1997. Bids must be received by YJA executive board members no later than August 1, 1997. Attention to detail and professionalism in the completed applications will be key in the selection of the convention city. After careful review by the YJA Executive Board members, the most eligible city will be announced September 30, 1997.

There are stringent guidelines and prerequisites for hosting the Convention '98 which YJA will provide. High standards and a strong work ethic are necessities for the host Convention Committee. Detailed guidelines for various aspects of hosting the Convention (i.e., programming, site, finances, registration, public relations) are addressed.

Policies and the relationship between the Convention Committee and the YJA Executive Board are described in the bid application. These points should be thoroughly read by every city interested in submitting a bid application.

Convention '94 and '96 host cities were quite impressive and with YJA produced a highly educational and enjoyable experiences for all participants attending. The past two YJA Conventions have been huge successes and YJA expects nothing less for the 1998 Convention.

Upon receiving the bid applications, the YJA Executive Board will review each application. The city will be evaluated on a point scale system in the areas of youth support, budget, site, adult support, and additional information. Therefore each city will not be competing against each other, but rather attempting to score the highest number of points possible. The YJA Executive Board looks forward to seeing several high caliber bid applications. Please feel free to call anyone on the YJA Executive Board with your questions and concerns.

Young Jains of America (YJA) is the umbrella youth organization of the Federation of Jain Associations in North America (JAINA). The mission of YJA is to be recognized nationally and internationally as an umbrella youth organization for establishing a network to share Jain heritage and religion through youth.

YJA Holds Executive Board Meeting

YJA held an executive board meeting in Dallas, Texas the weekend of January 31, 1997. In addition to meeting new faces and seeing old friends, the thirteen board members succeeded in having a productive meeting, resulting in new projects and the enhancement of old ideas.

YJA has taken on another worthwhile project; the sale of keychains depicting the Jain Om symbol. In addition, the board is selling books in English that detail Jain philosophy. These books and videos depicting cruelty to sacred animals will be available at the JAINA convention this summer in Toronto.

YJA continues its Foster Focus and People to People program through which cities either take on local service projects or involve their community as an aide to the national organization. New ideas for Foster Focus projects have been developed, including the encouragement of school boards to include a vegetarian meal plan, creating local speaker sessions about animal rights, and institute a pen pal system across North America.

The executive board held elections. The following officers were elected: Ravi Gada and Raju Shah, Co-chairs; Jill Shah, Finance; Anish Sheth, Fundraising; Kavita Jhaveri, Events; Gaurav Kapadia, Public Relations; Dina Mehta, Records; Shilpa Shah, Membership.

Lastly, YJA has formulated the bid application for cities interested in hosting YJA's biennial convention during the summer of 1998. If interested, please contact any of the board members. Hope to see everybody at the JAINA convention this summer in Toronto!

Young Jains Honor Gurudev Chitrabhanuji

Gurudev Chitrabhanuji has spent his life spreading Jainism around the world. He has always paid special attention to bringing Jain Philosophy to young people in a way that they can grasp. Therefore, the Jain Youth Association of New York (JYA) chose the 25th Anniversary of Gurudev Chitrabhanuji's arrival in America to be the most appropriate time to recognize his contribution in educating today's youth. They decided to hold an essay competition by focusing on his book. The competition Gurudev Chitrabhanuji: Jain Wisdom for the Youth.

The adult advisors of JYA, Panna Shah and Chhaya Kapadia formulated the essay rules and criteria with the help of Balbhadra Bruce Costain who has a doctorate degree in Jainism and has practiced Jainism for many years. JAINA president Manibhai Mehta enthusiastically made it an JAINA event. Panna Shah and Devendra Peer sponsored this event.

The guidelines for this contest were very demanding. They required the contestants to enhance their knowledge about Gurudev Chitrabhanuji's influence in the United States. The contestants were required to read several of Gurudev Chitrabhanuji's books, and then write a formal paper on them.

The competition was open to all throughout the USA. While essay writing is a tough challenge, several motivated youth enthusiastically took part in this event. The competition was judged by Balbhadra Bruce Costain, Neela Shah and Girish B. Shah. The winners will be awarded their prizes at the JAINA convention in July '97.

Mid-Atlantic Region Holds First Meeting

On November 23, 1996 the first meeting of the Young Jains of the Mid-Atlantic took place in Long Island, NY. This group, named MAR (Mid-Atlantic Region), is a group whose birth was the result of the need to unify the Jain youth of the region, is under the auspices of the Young Jains of America. At this first exciting meeting ideas were exchanged amongst the attendees and concrete goals were set.

Three major means by which MAR will go about its mission to unify and motivate Jain youth in the Mid-Atlantic Region are via the publication of a regional newsletter, a Web Page, and the organizing of a regional convention some time in 1997. In addition to carrying information about Jain activities and announcements in the region, the newsletter, will also be a collection of editorial essays on contemporary topic such as the death penalty.

The creation of a Web Page will allow us to take advantage of an inexpensive and efficient way of transmitting information to our members; the internet. With a growing number of our members having access to the internet, it would be advantageous to all of us if we took advantage of this innovative medium.

The MAR regional convention is a major undertaking and will allow young people to interact with their fellow Jain youth on a regional level, thereby strengthening the existing network. This is an exciting time for the Jain youth of the Mid-Atlantic Region and we would love for everyone to get involved!

With many lofty goals set, MAR needs the support of the youth in the region in order to make these goals come to life. Getting involved with an organization such as MAR will allow you to develop many transferable skills, such as leadership and organizational skills. You will also have the satisfaction of helping your community grow, and you will make many long lasting bonds of friendship with young Jains in your region.

If you are interested in getting involved with YJA leadership on the regional or local levels, please contact one of the Mid-Atlantic Regional Coordinators.

Foster Focus

Foster Focus is a project that was established in 1995. This project was set up to foster and nourish local youth groups nationwide, increase networking and interaction among Jain youth nationwide, and prepare and develop the Jain leaders of tomorrow.

This Year there are several projects that will be undertaken:

- University of Illinois - is setting up a nationwide display of youth presentations at the JAINA convention in Toronto. They are also making a Young Jains of America quilt.
- We are setting up Pen pals across the country. This is a program where anyone can write their interests and hobbies and then we will match you up with a pen pal. You will write to this person up until the JAINA Convention in Toronto you will meet them.
- Oklahoma City - will be collecting pictures from all the center across the nation and creating a Scrapbook. Tulsa will be fostering them in this task since they have put one together before.
- We are trying to find a city that can make decorative cards or postcards for certain Jain holidays.

There is another division under Foster Focus called People to People. People to People is geared towards small centers that are willing to help out the community by making a project and presenting it to their local society. This helps get the youth together and working on a common project to help the community and also help them become motivated as a center.

There are 4 cities participated right now in this project:

- The Jain Youth Group of British Columbia, Toledo and Columbus - which will bake cookies and bring gifts to a nursing home.
 - Seattle - Collected gifts during Christmas and donated them to the local shelter.
- San Francisco - will also be participating in this project at a later date.

If you or your youth group would like to participate in any of these activities, or have any questions, please contact:

Updates

Jain Group of Montgomery

The Jain Youth participated in their annual Diwali Show. Several young people took part in musical songs and dances. They also held a night of music and bhajans shared by everyone.

Jain Society of Southern Florida

The youth group of South Florida has started a project in which they are raising money for an organization called Children International. This organization helps provide schooling for children in third world nations, including India. They have raised over $700, which will go to help school and clothe needy children in Calcutta. For Christmas, they conducted a toy drive for a handicapped children's home and visited the shelter to play with the children.

NORTHEAST

Jain Society of Toronto

The youth of Toronto are quite busy planning various youth activities for the upcoming JAINA convention. Balbadhrji is teaching a Pathshala class every other Sunday to young people ages six through twenty-five.

Montreal

The main event going on in Montreal is that they are preparing an event or ceremony that will be filmed for TV in Quebec. Radio Canada, is going to film a segment on Jainism.

MID-ATLANTIC

Jain Center of Connecticut-Brookfield

The Jain youth are busy trying to strengthen their youth organization and plan many activities for the future. Currently, they are working on improving their Pathshala classes. For more information contact Neemit Shah: 203/375-1699.

Jain Group of Central Jersey and The Jain Youth Association New York

The youth of the New Jersey and New York area came together and held a charity fund-raiser/party last November for their local groups. The party turned out to be a huge success. About 200 young people attended.

Jain Center of Metro Washington

The Washington area youth have been holding biweekly Pathshala classes, geared toward young people between the ages of 8 and 21. For more information contact Archana Shah.

Jain Center of Allentown:

The Jain youth performed dances in the Center's Diwali program. The youth put on the show in conjunction with other Hindu and Sikh young people who all share the same religious center. The Jain youth have also been taking an active role in monthly poojas.

Jain Center of Greater Boston

The youth have been tirelessly working on a petition to McDonald's, Inc. in effort to get an increase in vegetarian selections on the menu. The initiators of this petition are scheduled to meet with the Chairman of McDonald's, Inc. this summer. Pathshala classes, levels 1-4, are being conducted on a regular basis with the youngest children showing great eagerness to learn about Jainism. Other projects that the very active youth of Greater Boston have undertaken include the publishing of a Jain directory and the construction of a Greater Boston Jain youth home page.

SOUTH

Jain Society of Houston

Over 200 people gathered at the Jain Center of Houston this Thanksgiving holiday to discuss and learn about Jainism. The convention's theme, Days of Our Lives: Modernizing Jainism, describes the goals of the lectures and discussions programmed for the convention. Instead of simply presenting Jain ideology and concepts, the convention reviewed modern issues with a Jain outlook. The convention addressed issues that affect people in their day-to-day life. The participants took home information to help transform their daily habits to be more ahimsik, more healthy and more Jain.

Jain Society of North Texas

The group organized a news show with anchors Manish Mehta and Mehul Shah telling the entire audience various stories. There was a lecture by a Jain dignitary, thirteen year old Sudeep Shah, explaining the significance of Diwali. Other stories explained the historical celebration of Diwali and the difference of Diwali in Jainism and Hinduism. The group began classes the first weekend in January.

This is How It Works

Congratulations!!

JAINA would like to congratulate all couples who have come together with the help of the services of the MIS. JAINA wishes to thank them for their generous donation.

Guidelines to all perspective participants

Be positive, constructive, creative and friendly! No match is going to be "perfect." Complement and support each other practicing respect, sharing, acquire knowledge and maintaining your uniqueness while keeping an open mind. These are the qualities that make for human perfection. Our world is shrinking and we are a global village and life is not always easy. However, we can carry our philosophy and our value system that is very worth while, with us. Accept the challenge and make your choice be a worth while one.

Placing an Ad and Registration with us

Anyone wishing to place an ad and register with the MIS - Marriage Information Service - must follow these step-by-step instructions carefully.

• Fill Out

the Registration Form found on pages 27 and 28. The registrant must fill out this form. Do not leave anything blank.

• Mail

- the completed form,
- a check in the amount of $25.00 payable to: Hasmukh M. Shah, LEAVE THE "MEMO" OR "FOR" LINE BLANK,
- and a recent, full-length photo of yourself with your name printed on the back.

To: Hasmukh M. Shah
8721 Scrimshaw Drive
New Port Richey, FL 34653
Phone: 813/376-7989

Upon receipt of this information the MIS will draft an ad for you and it will appear in the Jain Digest - only once.

Placing an Ad Only

If you do not wish to register with the MIS and wish to draft an ad yourself, you may do so in 30 words or less. Remember, that the MIS reserves the right to edit all such ads.

As a rule, all MIS ads include the phone number of the registrant. However, if you do not wish to publish your phone number, you must specifically notify Hasmukh M. Shah.

Responding to an Ad

All those wishing to respond to an ad must follow these step-by-step instructions. Place your bio-data and a recent photograph of yourself in a sealed, stamped envelope with your return address in the upper left-hand corner and the MIS ad reference number in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope.

Remember, MIS is not responsible for responses that do not conform to these instructions.

Please notify the MIS

Please notify the MIS when an engagement or marriage has been announced. This helps us to know if this community service is working to help maintain our traditions.

Please note that if a successful alliance has taken place, both parties will agree to donate what ever amount they wish to JAINA to help defray the cost of publication.

Important Considerations

It is important to remember that the MIS is a non-for-profit, voluntary community service. The MIS and JAINA assume no responsibility or liability for the accuracy or authenticity of the information furnished in the ads or any consequences resulting thereof. The entire responsibility rests with the candidates themselves.

All information furnished to the MIS is confidential. Only those who are sincerely interested in looking for a Jain life partner should send a Registration Form. While matching, photographs will not be passed on to the candidates by the MIS.

Parents/guardians should communicate with the candidate before placing ad and assist them in making a final decision.

If you wish to receive the Jain Digest, please fill out the subscription envelope that is appears in the centerfold.
