FOREWORD

We take this opportunity to place before the world of Sanskrit scholars this Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar, which, we are confident, will be an indispensable reference book for all students working in this field as well as allied branches of knowledge.

Prof. Kashinath Vasudev Abhyankar has the good fortune to inherit traditional Sanskrit learning from his father, Mahāmahopādhyāya Pandit Vasudevashastri Abhyankar, who is well known for his translations of The Brahmasūtra Śāṅkara Bhāṣya and The Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya. Prof. Abhyankar had a brilliant academic career and is a reputed teacher and a very well known scholar of Sanskrit Grammar and Prakrit language and literature. He has himself edited several books, and is at present bringing out revised editions of The Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya and Paribhāṣenduśekhara and has compiled a Paribhāṣāsāṅgraha all of which are being published by the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute, Poona. His exhaustive introduction to The Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya is enough to show that he is pre-eminently qualified for preparing this Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar, which is a valuable product of a life-time of devoted scholarship.

We are thankful to the University Grants Commission and the State Government for the liberal financial assistance they have given towards publication of this work.

INTRODUCTION

Object of this Dictionary

No apology is needed for undertaking the compilation of the present 'Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar', which, although concise, is expected to meet the needs of Sanskrit scholars and research students of Vyākaraṇa and other Shastras by serving as a useful reference book in their study of, and research work in, any branch of Sanskrit learning. The many independent treatises in the several Shastras and the learned commentaries upon them, as also the commentaries on classical poems and dramas, are, in fact, full of grammatical explanations of words and constructions, involving a liberal use of grammatical expressions and technical terms at several places. The elementary knowledge of grammar which a general scholar of Sanskrit possesses, is not found sufficient for his understanding fully the grammatical references in these books, especially so at present, when the practice of sending young boys to the Tolls and Sanskrit Pāṭhashālās to study the standard classical works with commentaries along with some standard elementary treatises on grammar, has already stopped. The number of Sanskrit Pandits and Shastris, who had to obtain a sound footing in grammar before they undertook the study of the higher texts of the several Shastras, and who therefore could be consulted by young scholars and research workers in the several Shastras, has also diminished considerably. The usual Sanskrit Dictionaries such as those of Monier Williams, V.S. Apte and others are found of no avail in supplying explanations of the grammatical technique which confronts modern scholars at every step in their critical reading of the several Sanskrit texts. In these circumstances it is only the technical dictionaries of the type of the present 'Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar' that can render a valuable assistance to scholars and research workers in their reading of the higher Sanskrit texts in the several Shastras.

Beginnings of Sanskrit Grammar

Every science has necessarily its own terminology and a special vocabulary. The remark is true with respect to Sanskrit Grammar or Vyākaraṇaśāstra which has developed as a science during the last two thousand years and has got several technical terms and numerous words with a special grammatical significance. The origin of grammar can well-nigh be traced to the Period of the Brāhmaṇas i. e. about 2000 B.C., when Vedic scholars began to discuss the meaning of the inspired Vedic hymns by carefully showing disconnected, the words of the Vedic hymns and noting down the differences in accents as also the changes caused by their coalescence in the continuous recital or the Saṁhitāpāṭha. They also tried to explain the sense of the Vedic words by tracing them back to the roots of suitable senses and laid down rules for their proper and correct pronunciation. These three pursuits viz. (a) the discussion of the features of the Pada text, (b) the derivation of words, and (c) directions regarding the proper pronunciation of the Vedic words, were carried on with vigour with a view to preserving the Vedic texts intact, and the treatises dealing with these three branches were respectively called by the names Prātisākhya, Nirukta and Śikṣā, all of which could rightly be called Vyākaraṇa or Grammar, as they were devoted to determining the correct words as distinguished from the incorrect ones. Although a number of books were written by Vedic scholars in these three branches, not more than five or six Prātisākhya works, a solitary Nirukta work, and a few Śikṣā works are the only available works at present.

Development of Sanskrit Grammar

In course of time, on the analogy of the derivation of words, an analysis of the word into its constituent elements such as the base, the affix, the augments and the modifications, was undertaken by grammarians. This separation of the different elements of a word constituted Vyākaraṇa or grammar, which was developed as an art by ancient grammarians like Āpiśali, Śākaṭāyana and others before Pāṇini. It was Pāṇini who carried it to perfection, and his work, the Aṣṭādhyāyī, compact yet exhaustive, and laconic yet clear, is simply a marvellous product of art by a man of amazing intelligence. As a result, the works on grammar by all ancient scholars who flourished before Pāṇini disappeared in course of time leaving only a few quotations behind them. Pāṇini was followed by a number of grammarians who wrote popular treatises on grammar, based, no doubt, on Pāṇini's grammar, some of which, in their turn came to have auxiliary works, glosses and explanatory commentaries. These different treatises, written by Śarvavarman, Candragomin, Devanandin, Pālyakīrti Śākaṭāyana, Hemacandra, Kramadīśvara, Jumarānandin, Supadma and others with their auxiliary works and commentaries, came to be looked upon as different systems of grammar. These treatises present two kinds of treatment: some of them are arranged in Sūtras in the same manner as the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini which treats one after another the several grammatical elements such as technical terms, padas of roots, case-relations, compound words, krt affixes, taddhita affixes, substitutes, accents and euphonic changes; while others give a topic-wise treatment following in that respect the ancient grammarians before Pāṇini such as Indra, Vedic Śākaṭāyana and others who treated one after another the different topics of grammar such as the euphonic changes, declension, conjugation, compound formation, nouns derived from roots, nouns derived from nouns and the like. The special feature of all these grammars was that they entirely omitted the Vedic peculiarities and accents.

Sanskrit Grammar as a Science

The subject of Sanskrit grammar was first treated as a science by the two epoch-making grammarians, first by Kātyāyana a few centuries after Pāṇini, and then by Patañjali, the exponent of Kātyāyana who lived in the second century B. C. It was carried to perfection by the stalwart grammarian Bhartṛhari of the seventh century A. D. Later grammarians, prominent among whom were Jayāditya, Vāmana, Kaiyaṭa, Haradatta, Bhaṭṭoji, Koṇḍabhaṭṭa and Nāgeśa, developed by their substantial contributions, the work of Pāṇini as a science to such an extent that the number of smaller and greater works well nigh rose to eight hundred and that of the authors to four hundred. The grammar of Pāṇini, which is looked upon as the standard one at present gives about a hundred technical terms, more than two hundred suffixes, about two thousand primary roots and more than five thousand special words arranged in more than two hundred and fifty classes according to the special grammatical peculiarities shown by each class. The number of independent primary words, besides these five thousand special words, if roughly estimated, may exceed even twenty-five thousand. Besides these primary roots, primary nouns, affixes and technical terms in the different Shastras, there is a vast number of secondary roots and secondary nouns, which is rather impossible even to be approximately determined.

Nature and Scope of this Dictionary

The preparation of a comprehensive dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar, a subject which has been developed fully by Sanskrit Grammarians for the last two thousand years, is certainly a stupendous work which can only be done by a band of grammarians who have got a sound footing in the subject. In the light of what has been said above, the present dictionary is only an honest and humble attempt in that direction, made by the compiler who was inspired to undertake this rather arduous venture by his close study of the subject for more than sixty years according to the traditional method of the East, combined with the critical and comparative method of the West. As the work was done single-handed, and finished within a limited time with a view to making it available to students and scholars of Sanskrit at as early a date as possible, the number of books consulted was a limited one. The number of entries is more than four thousand out of which the important ones are in the form of short articles supplying very briefly the necessary information from the different sources with quotations from or references to the original works. All the standard works in grammar have been carefully consulted including the available Prātiśākhya works, the Mahābhāṣya, the Kāśikā, the Vākyapadīya, the Siddhānta-Kaumudī and others. The Kātantra, the Śākaṭāyana, the Jainendra, the Haima and other grammars, as also the different Paribhāṣā works have been consulted at important places. Minor works and commentaries are not consulted as the important words and topics occurring therein have been mostly included here on account of their occurrence in the major works. Attention is, of course, paid to grammatical importance and significance, and only such words and such senses of them as have a grammatical significance, have been included in the present dictionary along with affixes, augments, substitutes and technical terms mostly given in Pāṇini's grammar. Names of authors and books, printed as well as found in a manuscript form, have been included as far as practicable in the present work. A scrupulous attention has been paid to the Prātiśākhya works, the Mahābhāṣya and the Kāśikā which are looked upon as supremely authoritative in the field of Sanskrit grammar. It must be admitted that the scholarly index works of Dr. Bōthlingk and Dr. Renou were found very useful in providing references to standard grammar works. The abbreviations for the titles of books consulted and those of grammatical terms are given separately at the beginning of the present 'Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar.' Names of books and authors have been sometimes given in the Roman script and sometimes in the Devanāgarī script.

Conclusion

Acknowledgements are due to Mr. M. N. Chapekar, Aryasanskriti Mudranalaya, Poona, who has given ample co-operation in getting this Dictionary printed in the shortest possible time. For facility of printing, accents of Vedic passages and words are not shown, nor italics have been used for Sanskrit terms written in the Roman script nor the breaking of a word at the end of a line is done scrupulously at the end of a syllable or a constituent part. In spite of all possible care, some slips have crept in for which the indulgence of the reader is craved. It is expected that Sanskrit scholars will make full use of this work and offer their valuable suggestions for future undertakings of this type.

A sincere sense of gratitude must be conveyed to Dr. Bhogilal J. Sandesara, the Director of the Oriental Institute, Baroda, at whose initiative the project of this 'Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar,' undertaken some years ago, but postponed from time to time, was not only pursued with vigour, but completed and turned into a volume in the Gackwad Oriental Series.

HINTS FOR THE USE OF THIS DICTIONARY

1. Words in this dictionary are arranged in the serial order of the Sanskrit alphabet which is current everywhere, viz. the fourteen vowels beginning with अ and ending with औ, and then the thirtythree consonants consisting of the five guttural, the five palatal, the five cerebral, the five dental and the five labial consonants and then the four semi-vowels and the four sibilants. क्ष is taken as a combination of क् and श्, and श् as one of ज् and झ्.

2. Words are given in their noun-base (प्रातिपदिक) such as अकर्मक, अकार, अक्षर etc., without the addition of any case affix.

3. At places of option where any one of the anusvāra and the parasavarṇa could be used, the anusvāra is consistently used, and a place after the vowels and before the consonants is assigned to it in the alphabetical order. For example, the words containing anusvāra such as संकर्म, संक्रम, संचय, संज्ञा, संतान, संधि, संप्रसारण, संयोग, संवरण, संसर्ग, संहिता etc., are all placed after स and before सक्र, सकर्मक etc.

4. Each word entered, has got only one paragraph assigned to it, although the explanation of the word may cover sometimes a full page or more.

5. The meaning or meanings of a word are given immediately after it, and therefore no capital letter is used at the beginning of the word with which each meaning begins.

6. The various senses of a word are given one after another with serial numbers placed before them. The several senses of a word are arranged as far as possible in their chronological order of origin.

7. The various senses are usually illustrated with quotations from standard authors with full references as far as possible. From among the Prāṭisākhya works, the Ṛkprāṭisākhya is generally quoted, while from among the numerous grammar works, the Mahābhāṣya and the Kāśikā are quoted profusely.

8. The first figure in references, which is generally the Roman one, refers to the main section such as the adhyāya or the Kāṇḍa or the Paṭala, while the next one refers to the subordinate sections, such as the stanza or the Sūtra or the like. When there are three figures they refer to the adhyāya, the pāda and the Sūtra in the case of Pāṇini, and to the Maṇḍala, the Sūkta and the stanza in the case of the Ṛksaṁhitā.

9. When a particular form is illustrated, the illustration begins with the abbreviation 'e. g.'; while usually, when the sense given, is illustrated, the explanation or the quotation in Sanskrit begins with the abbreviation 'cf.'.

10. Each of the different senses of a word or of the uses of a word in different ways, begins with a separate number (1), (2), (3), etc.; when however, the same sense is given with different shades of it, by words which are practically synonymous, no separate numbers are given, the shades of senses being separated by a colon, or by a comma.

11. As the senses given in such dictionaries are more or less technical or conventional, the literal or the usual sense of the words is given only when it is allied to the conventional sense.

12. Sanskrit words are generally given in the Devanāgarī script; when, however, the Roman script is used, the diacritical marks which are in current use at present, are employed.

A Dictionary of Sanskrit Grammar.

अ (1) the first letter of the alphabet in Sanskrit and its derived languages, representing the sound a (अ); (2) the vowel a (अ) representing in grammatical treatises, except when prescribed as an affix or an augment or a substitute, all its eighteen varieties caused by accentuation or nasalisation or lengthening; (3) personal ending a (अ) of the perf. sec.pl. and first and third pers.sing.; (4) kṛt affix a (अ) prescribed especially after the denominative and secondary roots in the sense of the verbal activity e. g. बुभुक्षां, चिन्ता, ईक्षा, चर्चा etc. cf. अ प्रत्ययात् etc. (P.III. 3.102-106); (5) sign of the aorist mentioned as añ (अङ्) or cañ (चङ्) by Pāṇini in P. III.1.48 to 59 e.g. अगमत्, अचीकरत्; (6) conjugational sign mentioned as śap (शप्) or śa (श) by Pāṇini in P. III.1.68, 77. e. g. भवति, बुद्धति etc.; (7) augment am (अम्) as prescribed by P. VI.1.58: e. g. द्रष्टा, द्रक्षति; (8) augment af (अद्) prefixed to a root in the imperf. and aorist tenses and in the conditional mood e. g. अभवत्, अमूत्, अभविष्यत् cf. P. VI.4.71; (9) kṛt affix a (अ) prescribed as अद्, अच्, अञ्, अण्, अन्, अप्, क्, ख्, घ्, ज्, ट्, ड्, ण्, etc. in the third Adhyāya of Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī; (10) tad. affix a (अ) mentioned by Pāṇini as अच्, अञ्, अण्, अ etc. in the fourth and the fifth chapters of the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini; (11) the samāsānta affix a (अ), as also stated in the form of the samāsānta affixes (ङच्, अच्, टच्, षच्, घ्, अप्, and अञ्) by Pāṇini in V.4. 73 to 121; (12) substitute a (अच्) accented grave for इदम्

before case-affixes beginning with the ins. case; (12) remnant (अ) of the negative particle नञ् after the elision of the consonant n (न) by नलोपो नञः P. vi. 3.73.

अं (ँ) nasal utterance called अनुस्वार and written as a dot above the vowel preceding it. cf. स्वरमनु संलानं शब्दोक्ति इति; it is pronounced after a vowel as immersed in it. The anusvāra is considered (1) as only a nasalization of the preceding vowel being in a way completely amalgamated with it. cf. T. Pr. V. 11,31; XV. 1; XXII. 14; (2) as a nasal addition to the preceding vowel, many times prescribed in grammar as nuḥ (नुद्) or num (नुम्) which is changed into anusvāra in which case it is looked upon as a sort of a vowel, while, it is looked upon as a consonant when it is changed into a cognate of the following consonant (पस्सवणे) or retained as n (न). cf. P. VIII.4.58; (3) as a kind of consonant of the type of nasalized half g (ग) as described in some treatises of the Yajurveda Prāṭisākhya; cf also R. Pr.1.22 V. Pr.14.148-9. The vowel element of the anusvāra became more prevalent later on in Pali, Prakrit, Apabhraṃśa and in the spoken modern languages while the consonantal element became more predominant in classical Sanskrit.

धिकरणे P. II.2.1 and the following P. II.2.2 and 3; e. g. पूर्वकायः, अपरकायः, अर्धविष्यली etc.

अंशुगण, also अंधादिगण a class of words headed by अंशु which have their last vowel accented acute when they stand at the end of a tatpuruṣa compound with the word प्रति as the first member. cf. P. VI. 2. 193.

अः (:) visarga called visarjanīya in ancient works and shown in writing by two dots, one below the other, exactly of the same size, like the pair of breasts of a maiden as jocularly expressed by Durgasimha. cf. अः इति विसर्जनीयः । अकार इह उच्चारणार्थः । युगारोस्तनयुगाकृतिर्वर्णो विसर्जनीयसंज्ञो भवति (दुर्गासिंह on कातन्त्र 1.1.16). विसर्ग is always a dependent letter included among the Ayogavāha letters and it is looked upon as a vowel when it forms a part of the preceding vowel; while it is looked upon as a consonant when it is changed into the Jihvāmūliya or the Upadhmanīya letter.

अ ॠ क् (ॠ) जिह्वामूलीय, represented by a sign like the वज्र in writing, as stated by Durgasimha who remarks वज्राकृतिर्वर्णो जिह्वामूलीयसंज्ञो भवति. The Jihvāmūliya is only a voiceless breath following the utterance of a vowel and preceding the utterance of the guttural letter क् or ख्. It is looked upon as a letter (वर्ण), but dependent upon the following consonant and hence looked upon as a consonant, e. g. विष्णु ॠ करोति.

अ ॡ प् (ॡ) Upadhmanīya represented by a sign like the temple of an elephant as stated by Durgasimha who remarks " गजकुम्भाकृतिर्वर्णो उपध्मानीयसंज्ञो भवति." Kāt. I. It is a voiceless breath following the utterance of a vowel and preceding the utterance of the labial letter प् (प) or फ़ (फ). It is looked upon as a letter (वर्ण), but dependent upon the following consonant and hence looked upon as a consonant.

अःकार name given to the nom. case in the Taittirīya Prātisākhya. अःकार इति प्रथमाविभक्तेःपलक्षणम् T. Pr. I. 23.

अक् (1) condensed expression (प्रत्याहार) representing the letters अ, इ, उ, ऋ and लृ in Pāṇini's Grammar cf. P. VI. 1. 12, 101; VII. 4. 2. (2) sign (चिह्न) of the benedictive in Vedic Literature in the case of the root इष् e. g. वितरं च दशेषे P. III. 1. 86 V 2; (3) remnant of the termination अक्च् P. V. 3. 71; (4) substitute (आदेश) अक्च् for the last vowel of the word सुधात् (P. IV. 1. 97) e. g. सौधातकिः.

अक् (1) affix अक् substituted for the affix वु given in Pāṇini's Grammar as -वुच् as in आशिका, शायिका (P. III. 3. 111); एल्ल as in कारकः, भोजको व्रजति, विचारिका (P. III. 1. 133, III. 3. 10, 108); वुच् as in उपकः (P. V. 3. 80); वुच् as in निन्दकः, राजकम्, मालवकः (P. The word was originally applied in the Prātisākhya works to vowels (long, short as also protracted), to consonants and the ayogavāha letters which were tied down to them as their appendages. Hence अक्षर came later on to mean a syllable i. e. a vowel with a consonant or consonants preceding or following it, or without any consonant at all. cf. ओजा इत्याः सप्तमन्ताः स्वराणामन्ये दीर्घा उभये अक्षराणि R Pr. I 17-19 cf. एकाक्षर, द्वाक्षर etc. The term akṣara was also applied to any letter (वर्ण), be it a vowel or a consonant. cf. the terms एकाक्षर, सन्धक्षर, समानक्षर used by Patañjali as also by the earlier writers. अक्षरसमाप्ताय alphabet; traditional enumeration of phonetically independent letters generally beginning with the vowel a (अ). Although the number of letters and the order in which they are stated differ in different treatises, still, qualitatively they are much the same. The Śivasūtras, on which Pāṇini's grammar is based, enumerate 9 vowels, 4 semi-vowels, twenty five class-consonants and 4 sibilants. The nine vowels are five simple vowels or monothongs (समानक्षर) as they are called in ancient treatises, and the four diphthongs, (सन्धक्षर). The four semi-vowels y, v, r, l, (य व र ल्) or antasthāvāna, the twenty five class-consonants or mutes called sparsa, and the four ūṣman letters ś, ṣ, s and h (श ष स ह्) are the same in all the Prātisākhya and grammar works although in the Prātisākhya works the semi-vowels are mentioned after the class consonants. The difference in numbers, as noticed, for example in the maximum number which reaches 65 in the Vājasaneyi-Prātisākhya, is due to the separate mention of the long and protracted vowels as also to the inclusion of the Ayogavāha letters, and their number. The Ayogavāha letters are anusvāra, visarjanīya, jihvāmūliya, upadhmaniya, nāsikya, four yamas and svrabhakti. The Rk Prātisākhya does not mention l (ल), but adding long ā (आ) i (ई) ū (ऊ) and ī (ऋ) to the short vowels, mentions 12 vowels, and mentioning 3 Ayogavāhas (ऋ, ×, ए and अ) lays down 48 letters. The Rk Tantra Prātisākhya adds the vowel l (ल) (short as also long) and mentions 14 vowels, 4 semi-vowels, 25 mutes, 4 sibilants and by adding 10 ayogavāhas viz. 4 yamas, nāsikya, visarjanīya, jihvāmūliya, upadhmaniya and two kinds of anusvāra, and thus brings the total number to 57. The Rk Tantra makes a separate enumeration by putting diphthongs first, long vowels afterwards and short vowels still afterwards, and puts semi-vowels first before mutes, for purposes of framing brief terms or pratyāhāras. This enumeration is called varṇopadeśa in contrast with the other one which is called varnoddēsa. The Taittiriya Prātiśākhya adds protracted vowels and lays down 60 letters: The Śikṣā of Pāṇini lays down 63 or 64 letters, while the Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya gives 65 letters. cf. V. Pr. VIII. 1-25. The alphabet of the modern Indian Languages is based on the Varṇasamāmnāya given in the Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya. The Prātiśākhyas call this enumeration by the name Varṇa-samāmnāya. The R̥g.tantra uses the terms Akṣarasamāmnāya and Brahmarāsi which are picked up later on by Patañjali. cf. सोयमक्षरसमाप्तायो वापसमाप्तायः पुष्पितः फलितश्चन्द्रतारकस्तु प्रतिमण्डितो वेदित्तम्यो ब्रह्मराशिः । सर्ववेदपुण्यफलावातिश्चास्य ज्ञाने भवति । मालापितरि चारय स्वर्गे लोके महीयेते । M. अतद् non-Ātmanepadin verbal affixes ति, तः...न्त् P. III.4.78, Cān. I.4.11, Śāk. 1.4.101.

अतत्काल not taking that much time only which is shown by the letter (vowel) uttered, but twice or thrice, as required by its long or protracted utterance; the expression is used in connection with vowels in Pāṇini's alphabet, which, when used in Pāṇini's rules, except when prescribed or followed by the letter त्, includes their long, protracted and nasalized utterances: cf. अणुदित्त्वर्णस्य चाप्रत्ययः I.1. 69.

अतदनुबन्धक not having the same mute significant letter, but having one or two additional ones, cf. तदनुबन्धकग्रहणे नातदनुबन्धकस्य ग्रहणम् (Par. Sek. Pari. 84.)

अतद्धित an affix which is not a taddhita affix. cf. लडाकृतद्धिते P.1.3.8; M. Bh. I.3.4, V.3.1 etc.

अतन्त्र implying no specific purpose; not intended to teach anything, अविशिक्षित; e.g. ह्रस्वग्रहणमतन्त्रम् Kās. and Si. Kau. on तस्यादित उदात्तमर्धह्रस्वम् P.1.2.32; cf. also अतन्त्रं तरनिर्देशः (the use of तरच् does not necessarily convey the sense of the comparative degree in Pāṇini's rules) M. Bh. on P. I.2.33. This statement has been given as a distinct Paribhāṣā by Vyāḍi and Śākaṭāyana. The author of the Mahābhāṣya appears to have quoted it from the writings of Vyāḍi and the earlier grammarians. See also M. Bh. on अस्वाप्तस्य P. II.2.34.

अतसुच् (अतस्) tad. aff. अतस् applied to the words दक्षिण, उत्तर, पर and अवर; e.g. दक्षिणतो वसति; उत्तरत आगतः, पत्नो रमणीयम्, परस्ताद्वर्णनीयम्, अवरत आगतः अवरस्ताद्वसति. cf. P. V. 2. 28, 29.

अतादृष्यातिदेश conveyance of only the properties of one to another without conveying the actual form, described as the significance of an-tādivadbhāva. cf. न वा अतादृष्यातिदेशत् M. Bh. on P. VI.1.85 Vārt. 26. See तादृष्यातिदेश below.

अताम् personal affix of the third pers. pl. Ātm. in the Imperative (लोट्). cf. P. III. 4. 90.

अतिक्रम passing over a word in the क्रमपाठ without repeating it; passing beyond, cf. अतिक्रम्य परिग्रहः R. Pr. X.7, which means catching a word for repetition by coming back after passing over it, e. g. इन्द्राग्नी अपात् । इन्द्राग्नी इति इन्द्राग्नी । or अनु दक्षि । दक्षि दावने । दक्षीति दक्षि ।

अतिजगती one of the varieties of—in fact, the first variety of—the Atic-chandas metre, which see above; this Atijagati consists of 52 syllables. e. g. तमिन्द्रं जौह्वीमि मघवानमुग्रम् Rk. Sārh. 8.97.13 cf. प्रथमातिजगत्यासां सा द्विपञ्चाशदक्षरा R. Pr. XVI.80.

अतिदेश extended application; transfer or conveyance or application of the character or qualities or attributes of one thing to another. Atideśa in Sanskrit grammar is a very common feature prescribed by Pāṇini generally by affixing the tad. affix मत् or वत् to the word whose attributes are conveyed to another. e. g. लोटो लृह्वत् P. III. 4.85. In some cases the atideśa is noticed even without the affix मत् or वत्. e. g. गाङ्कुटादिभ्योऽङ्गिन् इत् P. I.2.1. Atideśa is generally seen in all grammatical terms which end with 'vadbhāva' e. g. स्थानिकद्राव (P. I.1.56-59), सन्वद्राव (P. VII.4.93), अन्तादिवद्राव (P. VI. 1.85), अभूततद्राव (P. IV.60) and others. Out of these atideśas, the स्थानिकद्राव is the most important one, by virtue of which sometimes there is a full representation i. e. substitution of the original form called sthānin in the place of the secondary form called ādeśa. This full representation is called ह्यातिदेश as different from the usual one which is called कार्यतिदेश, cf. M. Bh. VIII.1.90 Vārt. 1 and VIII.1.95. Vārt.3. Regarding the use of अतिदेश there is laid down a general dictum सामान्यातिदेशे विशेषानतिदेशः—when an operation depending on the general properties of a thing could be taken by extended application, an operation depending on special properties should not be taken by virtue of the same; e. g. भूहवत् in P. III. 3.132 means as in the case of the general past tense and not in the case of any special past tense like the imperfect (अनद्यतन) or the perfect (परोक्ष). See Par. Śek. Pari. 101, M. Bh. on P. III. 3. 132. There is also a general dictum आतिदेशिकमनित्यम्—whatever is transferred by an extended application, need not be necessarily taken. See Par. Śek. 93.6 as also M. Bh. on P. I.1.123 Vārt.4, I.2.1 Vārt. 3, II.3.69 Vārt. 2 etc., Kaiyaṭa on II. 1.2 and VI. 4.22 and Nyāsa on P. 1.1.56 and P. I.2.58 Vārt. 3. The dictum आतिदेशिकमनित्यम् is given as a Paribhāṣā by Nāgeśa cf. Pari. Śek. 93. 6.

- अतिव्यस्त quite apart, used with respect to lips which are widely apart (शिरुद्धौ) in the utterance of long आ and ओ; cf. T. Pr. II, 12, 13.
- अतिव्याप्ति the same as अतिप्रसङ्ग, which see above. Extensive application with respect to a rule which applies to places where it should not apply. See Par. Śekh on Pari. 28, Pari. 85; also Padamañj. on Kāś. II, 1. 32.

Bh. on V. 2.94, where अतिशायन means अतिशय. Patañjali, commenting on P. V. 3.55 clearly remarks that for अतिशय, or for अतिशायन, the old grammarians, out of fancy only, used the term अतिशायन as it was a current term in popular usage; cf. देऽस्माः सूत्रनिबन्धाः क्रियन्ते यावद् ह्ययात् प्रकर्षे अतिशय इति तावदातिशायन इति M. Bh. on P. V. 3. 55.

अतिस्पर्श excess of contact, which to a certain extent spoils the pronunciation and leads to a fault. अतिस्पर्श is the same as दुःस्पर्श, the letter छ being called दुःस्पृष्ट on account of excess of contact. This excess of contact (अतिस्पर्श) in the case of the utterance of the letter र results into a fault as it practically borders on stammering; cf. अतिस्पर्शो वर्धस्ता च रेरे. R. Pr. XIV. 26.

अदर्शन a term in ancient grammars and Prāṭisākhyas meaning non-appearance of a phonetic member वर्णस्यादर्शनं लोपः (V. Pr 1. 141), explained as अनुपलब्धि by उच्चट. Later on, the idea of non-appearance came to be associated with the idea of expectation and the definition of लोप given by Pāṇini in the words अदर्शनं लोपः (as based evidently on the Prātiśākhya definition) was explained as non-appearance of a letter or a group of letters where it was expected to have been present. See M. Bh. on I. 1.60 Vārt. 4 and Kaiyaṭa thereon.

अदादि name given to the class of roots belonging to the second conjugation, as the roots therein begin with the root अद्. II. 4.36; (3) substance, 'dravya' cf. अनधिकरणवाचि अद्रव्यवान्चि इति गम्यते M. Bh. on II. 1.1.

अधिकार governing rule consisting of a word (e.g. प्रत्ययः, धातोः, समासान्ताः etc.) or words (e.g. ऋचाप्रतिपादिकात्, सर्वस्य द्वे etc.) which follows or is taken as understood in every following rule upto a particular limit. The meaning of the word अधिकार is discussed at length by Patañjali in his Mahābhāṣya on II. 1.1, where he has given the difference between अधिकार and परिभाषा; cf. अधिकारः प्रतिशेषं तस्यानिदेशार्थं इति योगे योगे उपलिङ्गते। परिभाषा पुनरेकदेशस्या सर्तौ सर्वं शास्त्रमभिव्यज्यति प्रदीपवत्। See also Mahābhāṣya on I.3.11, I. 4.49 and IV. 1.83. The word or wording which is to repeat in the subsequent rules is believed to be shown by Pāṇini by characterizing it with a peculiarity of utterance known as स्वरिते, चर or स्वरित्येन उच्चारणम्. The word which is repeated in the following Sūtras is stated to be अधिकृत. The Śabda Kaustubha defines adhikāra as एकत्रोपात्तस्यान्यत्र व्यापारः अधिकारः Śab. Kaus. on P. 1.2.65. Sometimes the whole rule is repeated e. g. प्रत्ययः P. III. 1.1, अङ्गस्य P. VI. 4.1,

समासान्ताः P. V. 4.68, while on some occasions a part only of it is seen repeated. The repetition goes on upto a particular limit which is stated as in आसिद्धवदन्नाभात् P. VI. 4.22, प्राप्तीधराभि-पाताः P. I. 4.56. Many times the limit is not stated by the author of the Sūtras but it is understood by virtue of a counteracting word occurring later on. On still other occasions, the limit is defined by the ancient traditional interpreters by means of a sort of convention which is called स्वरितत्वप्रतिज्ञा. This अधिकार or governance has its influence of three kinds : (1) by being valid or present in all the rules which come under its sphere of influence, e. g. स्त्रियाम् or अङ्गस्य; (2) by showing additional properties e. g. the word अपादान being applied to cases where there is no actual separation as in सांकाश्य-कैम्यः पाठलिपुत्रका अभिहितराः; (3) by showing additional force such as setting aside even subsequent rules if opposing. These three types of the influence which a word marked with स्वरित and hence termed अधिकार possesses are called respectively अधिकारगति, अधिक कार्य and अधिक कार. For details see M. Bh. on I.3.11. This अधिकार or governing rule exerts its influence in three ways: (1) generally by proceeding ahead in subsequent rules like the stream of a river, (2) sometimes by jumps like a frog omitting a rule or more, and (3) rarely by proceeding backward with a lion's glance; cf. सिद्धावलोकिर्तं चैव मण्डूकमुत्तमेव च। गन्धाम्प्रा-ह्वचापि अधिकारास्त्रिधा मताः ॥

अधिकारसूत्र a superintending aphorism, which gives no meaning of itself where it is mentioned, but gives its meaning in the number of aphorisms that follow; e. g. the rules प्रत्ययः, परस्व and आनुदात्तत्वं P. III. 1. 1, 2, 3 or सह सुभा. P. II.1.4.

The expression न वा अनभिधानाद् frequently occurs in the Mahābhāṣya referring to such words or phrases as could be formed by rules of grammar or could be used according to rules but, are not found in current use recognized by learned persons or scholars; cf. तच्चानभिधानं यत्राभिरुक्तं तत्रैव, अन्यत्र तु यथाशक्यं भवत्येव । Padamañj. on III. 2.1; also cf. अनभिधानाद् व्यधिकरणानां बहुमीहिर्न भविव्यति । यत्र त्वभिधानमस्ति तत्र वैयधिकरण्येति भवत्येव समासः, कण्ठेः काल इति: Nyāsa on II. 2.24; for examples of अनभिधान, see also M.Bh. अभिधानलक्षणाः कृत्स्नितसमासाः अनभिधानान्न भविष्यन्ति M. Bh. on III. 3.19. also on III. 2.1. V. 5, IV. 2.1. See Kāś. on III. 1.22, III. 3.158.

अनभिनिर्वृत्त that which is not applied; lit. the following rules lay down the different case affixes in the sense of the different Kārakas or auxiliaries of the verbal activity, provided they are not shown or indicated in any one of the above-mentioned four ways; e.g. see the acc. case in कटं करोति, the inst. case in दक्षिणं ह्रुनाति, the dat. case in देवदत्ताय गां ददाति, the abl. case in ग्रामादा-गच्छति, or the loc. case in स्यात्प्रां पचति.

Bh. on V. 4.154, also Par. Śek. on Pari. 64.

अनानुपूर्व्यसंहिता that sahitā text which has an order of words in it, which is different from what obtains in the Pada-pāṭha, and which appears appropriate according to the sense intended in the passage. अनि kṛt affix in the sense of curse, e. g. अनोयनिसं शठ भूयात्; cf. आक्रोशो नञि अनि; P. III. 3.112. This affix अनि gets its न् changed into ञ् after क् or रेफ of the preceding preposition as in अप्रयाणि; cf. Kās. on VIII.4.29.

अनिच् samāsānta affix after the word धर्म and some other words prescribed by P. V. 4. 124-6, e. g. कल्याणधर्मा, सुजम्मा, दक्षिणर्मा.

अनिट् (1) not admitting the augment इट् to be prefixed to it; the term is strictly to be applied to ārdhadhātuka affixes placed after such roots as have their vowel characterized by a grave accent (अनुदात्तस्वर); the term अनिट् being explained as अनिडादि qualifying the आर्षथानुक् affix; (2) in a secondary way, it has become customary to call such roots अनिट् as do not allow the augment इट् to be prefixed to an ārdhadhātuka affix placed after them. Such roots are termed अनुदात्त verily because they are possessed of an

anudātta vowel. e. g. कृ, भृ, जि, गम्, हृन् etc. as against मू, धू, वृ, धि, वृ, वद्, फल्, चल्, etc. which have their vowel characterized by an acute (उदात्त) accent. For a complete list of such roots see the well-known stanzas given in the Siddhānta-kaumudī incidentally on आत्मनेपदेव्यन्तः P. VII. 1.5. ऊदृदन्तेवीतिस्त्वुधोऽङ्स्नु-.....निहताः स्मृताः ॥ १ ॥ शङ्कुम्मुचि-रिचुवन्वुविच्.....धातवो द्वाधिकं शतम् ॥ as also some lists by ancient grammarians given in the Mahābhāṣya on एकाच उपदेशेनुदात्तात्. P. VII. 2.10 or in the Kāśikā on the same rule P. VII. 2.10.

अनिट्कारिका (1) name given to Stanzas giving a complete list of such roots as do not allow the augment इ (इट्) to be prefixed to an ārdhadhātuka affix placed after them. For such Kārikās see Sid. Kaum. on VII. 1.5 as also Kāśikā on VII. 2.10; (2) a short treatise enumerating in 11 verses the roots which do not admit the augment इट् before the ārdhadhātuka affixes. The work is anonymous, and not printed so far, possibly composed by a Jain writer. The work possibly belongs to the Kātantra system and has got short glosses called व्याख्यान, अवचुरि, विवरण, टीका, टिप्पणी and the like which are all anonymous.

अनिङ्गच not separable into two padas or words by means of avagraha; cf. संख्य ऊष्माप्यनिङ्गचे; R. Pr. V. 41; cf. also R. Pr. IX. 25, XIII. 30. See इङ्ग्य below.

अनित्य (1) not nitya or obligatory; optional; (said of a rule or paribhāṣā) whose application is voluntary). Regarding the case and conjugational affixes it can be said that those affixes can, in a way, be looked upon as nitya or obligatory, as they have to be affixed to a crude nominal base or a root, there being a dictum that no crude base without an affix can be used, as also, no affix alone without a base can be used. On the other hand, the taddhita and kṛt affixes as also compounds are voluntary as, instead of them an independent word or a phrase can be used to convey the sense. For a list of such nitya affixes see M. Bh. on V. 4.7; (2) the word अनित्य is also used in the sense of not-nitya, the word नित्य being taken to mean कृताकृतप्रसङ्गि occurring before as well as after another rule has been applied, the latter being looked upon as अनित्य which does not do so. This 'nityatva' has got a number of exceptions and limitations which are mentioned in Paribhāṣās 43-49 in the Paribhāṣendusekhara.

अनिपात्य not necessary to be specifically or implicitly stated, as it can be brought about or accomplished in the usual way; e. g. इन्द्रम् । लिङ्गमशिवं लोकाश्रयत्वाद्दिङ्गस्य । तत्र नमुकत्वमनिपात्यम् M. Bh. on VIII. 1.15. See also M. Bh. on VII. 2.27 and VI. 1.207.

अनिमित्त not serving as a cause, not possessing a causal relation; e. g. संनिपातलक्षणे विभिरनिमित्तं तद्विघातस्य Par. Śek. Pari. 85. See also M. Bh. on I. 1.39.

अनियत not subject to any limitation; cf. प्रत्यया नियताः, अर्था अनियताः, अर्था नियताः, प्रत्यया अनियताः M. Bh. on II. 3.50. In the case of नियमविधि (a restrictive rule or statement) a limitation is put on one or more of the constituent elements or factors of that rule, the limited element being called नियत, the other one being termed अनियत; also see Kāś. on II. 2. 30.

अनियतपुंस्क whose sex—especially whether it is a male or a female—is not definitely known from its mere sight; small insects which are so. The term क्षुद्रा in P. IV.1. 131 is explained in the Mahābhāṣya as क्षुद्रा नाम अनियतपुंस्क अङ्गहीना वा M. Bh. on P. IV. 1. 131.

अनिर्दिष्टार्थ whose sense has not been specifically stated; the word is used with reference to such affixes as are not prescribed in any specific sense or senses and hence as are looked upon as possessing the sense which the base after which they are prescribed has got; cf. अनिर्दिष्टार्थाः प्रत्ययाः स्वार्थं भवन्ति—affixes, to which no meaning has been assigned, convey the meaning of the bases to which they are added; cf. Par. Śek. Pari. 113; cf. also M. Bh. on III. 2.4, III. 2.67, III. 3.19, III. 4.9, VI. 1.162.

अनिष्ट an undesired consequence or result; cf. अनिष्टं च प्राप्नोति इष्टं च न सिध्यति M. Bh. on I. 3.1; also cf. नानिष्टार्थां शास्त्रमृत्तिः M. Bh. on VI. 1.2.

अनिष्टज्ञ ignorant or inattentive to what the Grammarian intends or desires to say. cf. तत्र सौर्यभगवतोक्तम्—अनिष्टिहो बालवः पठति । इष्यत एव चतुर्मात्रः प्लुतः M. Bh. on VIII. 2.106.

अनीयर kṛt affix, termed कृत् also forming the pot. pass. part. of a root; cf. तन्वत्तन्वानीयः P. III. 1.96. e.g. see the forms कर्णोयं, हर्णोयं, the mute र् showing the acute accent on the penultimate vowel.

अनुकरण (1) imitation; a word uttered in imitation of another; an imitative name; cf. अनुकरणं चानित्तिपरम् P. I. 4.62; अनुकरणं हि शिशुशिशुप्रतिषिद्धेषु यथा लौकिकैर्दिक्तेषु, Śiva sūtra 2 Vārt 1; cf. also प्रकृतित्वम् अनुकरणं भवति an imitative name is like its original Par. Śek. Pari. 36; also M. Bh. on VIII. 2.46; (2) imitative word, onomatopoeic word; cf. एवं ह्याहुः कुम्कुटाः कुम्कुह् इति । नैवं त आहुः । अनुकरणमेतत्तन्वाम् M. Bh. on I. 3.48. cf. also दुन्दुभिः इति शब्दानुकरणम् Nir. IX. 12.

अनुकर्षण dragging (from the preceding rule) to the following rule taking the previous rule or a part of it as understood in the following rule or rules in order; the same as अनुद्यत्ति; cf. अनुकर्षणार्थञ्चकारः Kās. on II. 4. 18, III. 2.26, VII. 1.48; cf. also the Paribhāṣā चानुकृष्टं नेत्तरत्त— that which is attracted from a preceding rule by the particle च is not valid in the rule that follows; Par. Śek. Pari. 78.

अनुकृष्ट attracted from a previous rule as is frequently done in Pāṇini's rules. See the word अनुकर्षण above.

अनुक्त not actually stated or expressed in a rule; cf. चकारोऽनुक्तसमुच्चयार्थः Kās. on II. 4.18, III. 2. 26, VII. 1. 48; also cf. Nyāsa on P. II. 2.9

अनुक्रम right or regular order in a Vedic recital, called क्रम. e. g. बायवः स्य.

अनुक्रमण enumeration (in the right order as opposed to व्युत्क्रम); e. g. अथ किमर्थमुत्तरत्र एवमादि अनुक्रमणं कियते M. Bh. on II. 1. 58; also on IV. 2.70; verbal forms of the root क्रम् with अनु occur in this sense very frequently; e.g. बहिरुत्तं अनुक्रमिष्यामः; so also the p. p. अनुकान्तं occurs frequently in the same sense.

अनुतन्त्र lit. that which follows Tantra i.e. Śāstra which means the original rules of a Śāstra; technical term for Vārtika used by Bhartṛhari; cf. सूत्राणां सानुतन्त्राणां भाष्याणां च प्रथेति; Vāk. Pad. 1.23, where the word अनुतन्त्र is explained as Vārtika by the commentator.

अनुत्तम other than उत्तम or the first person; cf. विभाषितं सौप्तसर्गमनुत्तमम् P. VIII 1.53 and Kāśikā thereon.

अनुत्पत्ति non-production of an element of a word such as an affix or an augment or the like; cf. बाक्चने चानुत्पत्त्यर्थम् P. III. 1.2 Vārt. 7, ततोत्पत्तिर्वा प्रसङ्गा यथा तद्विति P. III. 1.94 Vārt. 2, also कृत्वादियु चानुत्पत्तिः (णिचः) P. III. 1.26, Vārt. 3.

अनुदात्त non-udātta, absence of the acute accent; one of the Bāhyaprayatnas or external efforts to produce sound. This sense possibly refers to a stage or a time when only one accent, the acute or उदात्त was recognized just as in English and other languages at present. This udātta was given to only one vowel in a single word (simple or compound) and all the other vowels were uttered accentless. i.e. अनुदात्त. Possibly with this idea in view, the standard rule 'अनुदात्तं वदे-कवनेम्' was laid down by Pāṇini, P. VI. 1.158. As, however, the syllable, just preceding the accented (उदात्त) syllable, was uttered with a very low tone, it was called अनुदात्तत्त, while if the syllables succeeding the accented syllable showed a gradual fall in case they happened to be consecutive and more than two, the syllable succeeding the उदात्त was given a mid-way tone, called स्वरित; cf.

उदात्तादनुदात्तस्य स्वरितः. Thus, in the utterance of Vedic hymns the practice of three tones उदात्त, अनुदात्त and स्वरित came in vogue and accordingly they are found defined in all the Prāṭisākhya and grammar works; cf. उच्चैरुदात्तः, नीचैरनुदात्तः समाहारः स्वरितः P. I. 2. 29-31, T.Pr. I. 38-40, V. Pr. I. 108-110. Anudātta is defined by the author of the Kāśī-kāvṛtti as यस्मिन्नुच्चैर्यमाणे गानानामन्वयसर्गो नाम शिथिलीभवने भवति, स्वरस्य मृदुता, कण्ठ-शिवरस्य उरुता च सः अनुदात्तः; cf. अन्वयसर्गो माद्वैवमुस्ता खद्येति नीचैः करणि शब्दस्य M. Bh. on I. 2. 29,30. Cf. also उदात्तश्चानुदात्तश्च स्वरितश्च त्रयः स्वराः । आयाम-विश्रम्भाक्षिप्त उच्चन्तेऽथराश्रयाः ॥ R. Pr. III. 1. The term anudātta is translated by the word 'grave' as opposed to 'acute' (udātta), and 'circumflex' (svarita); (2) a term applied to such roots as have their vowel अनुदात्त or grave, the chief characteristic of such roots being the non-admission of the augment इ before an ārdhadhātuka affix placed after them. (See अनिट्.)

अनुदात्तर quite a low tone, completely grave; generally applied to the tone of that grave or anudātta vowel which is immediately followed by an acute (उदात्त) vowel. When the three Vedic accents were sub-divided into seven tones viz. उदात्त, उदात्तर, अनुदात्त, अनुदात्तर, स्वरित, स्वस्तिस्वोदात्त and एकधुति corresponding to the seven musical notes, the अनुदात्तर was the name given to the lowest of them all. अनुदात्तर was termed सन्नतर also; cf. उदात्तस्वस्ति-पत्स्य सन्नतरः P. I. 2,40; cf. also M. Bh. on I. 2.33.

अनुदात्ता a term meaning 'having a grave accent,' used by ancient grammarians. Cf. किमियमेकधुतिरुदात्ता उन्नत अनुदात्ता M. Bh. on I. 2.33.

अनुदात्तेत् lit. one whose mute significant letter is uttered with a grave accent; a term applied to a root characterized by an indicatory mute vowel accented grave, the chief feature of such a root being that it takes only the Ātmanepada affixes; e. g. आस्ते, वस्ते, etc.; cf. अनुदात्तश्चित् आत्मनेपदम् P. I. 3.12; such a root, in forming a derivative word in the sense of habit, takes the affix युच् e. g. वर्त्तन्; वर्धनः etc. provided the root begins with a consonant; cf. अनुदात्तेत्त ह्लादः P. III. 2.149.

अनुदात्तोपदेश (a root) pronounced originally i. e. pronounced in the Dhātupāṭha with a grave accent; see the word अनुदात्त above; cf. अनुदात्तोपदेशवनातितनोत्यादीनामनुनासिकलोपो झलि ङिति P. VI. 4.37. See also the word अनिट् above.

अनुदेश (1) reference, mention, statement referring to a preceding element. cf. यथासंख्यमनुदेशः समानाम् P. I. 3.10; cf. असिद्धवचनात् सिद्धमिति चेद् उत्सर्ग-लक्षणा नामनुदेशः M. Bh. I.1.57, Vārt. 3. (2) declaration, prescription; the same as अतिदेश. cf. स्थान्यादेशपृथक्त्वादादेशे स्थानिवद् अनुदेशो गुरुवद् गुरुपुत्र इति यथा P. I.1.56 Vārt. 1; (3) a grammatical operation cf. यथासंख्यमनुदेशः समानाम् । समसंख्यं विधिर्यथासंख्यं स्यात् Sid. Kau. on P. I. 3.10. See the word अनुदेश in this sense cf. संख्यतानामनुदेशो यथासंख्यम् V. Pr. I.143.

अनुनासिक (a letter) uttered through the nose and mouth both, as different from anusvāra which is uttered only through the nose. cf. मुखनासिका-वचनेऽनुनासिकः P.I.1.8, and M. Bh. thereon. The anunāsika or nasal letters are the fifth letters of the five classes (i.e. इ, ए, ऊ, ऋ, ॠ) as also vowels अ, इ, उ and semivowels when so pronounced, as ordinarily they are uttered through the mouth only; (e.g. अँ, औँ, etc. or यँ, रँ, लँ etc. in सय्यन्ता, सय्यँस्यर, सँल्लोःनः etc.) The अनुनासिक or nasalized vowels are named रङ्गवर्ण and they are said to be consisting of three mātrās. cf. अग्ने आचानवसानेऽप्रवहान् आचार्या आहुरनुनासिकान् स्वरान् । तस्मिन्ने शाकला दर्शयन्ति R. Pr. I. 63. 64; cf. also अप्रवहाः समानाक्षराणि अनुनासिकानि एकेषाम् T. Pr XV.6. Trivikrama, a commentator on the Kāt. Sūtras, explains अनुनासिक as अनु-पश्चात् नासिकास्थानं उच्चारणं एषां इत्यनुनासिकाः । पूर्वं मुखस्थानमुच्चारणं पश्चात् नासिकास्थानमुच्चारणमित्यर्थः । अनुग्रहणात्केवलनासिकास्थानोच्चारणस्य अनुस्वारस्य नये संज्ञा ! and remarks further पूर्वाचार्यप्रसिद्धसंज्ञेयमन्वयार्थं । Com. by Tr. on Kat. I 1.13. Vowels which are uttered nasalized by Pāṇini in his works viz. सूत्रपाठ, धातुपाठ, गणपाठ etc. are silent ones i. e. they are not actually found in use. They are put by him only for the sake of a complete utterance, their nasalized nature being made out only by means of traditional convention. e. g. एध, स्पर्ध etc. cf. उपदेशेऽजनुनासिक इत् P. अनुप्रदान an effort outside the mouth in the production of sound at the different vocal organs such as कण्ठ, तालु etc. which is looked upon as an external effort or bāhyaprayatna. अनुप्रदान is one of the three main factors in the production of sound which are (1) स्थान, (2) कण or आन्मन्तरप्रयत्न and (3) अनुप्रदान or बाह्यप्रयत्न; cf. स्थाकरणप्रयत्नेभ्यो वर्णा जायन्ते Cān. The commentator on T. Pr. describes अनुप्रदान as the मूलकारण or उपादानकारण, the main cause in the production of articulate sound; cf. अनुप्रदीयते अनेन वर्णः इति अनुप्रदानम्; cf. also अनुप्रदीयते इत्यनुप्रदानं प्रयत्न इत्यर्थः; Uvvaṭa on R. Pr. XIII. 1. Generally two main varieties of बाह्यप्रयत्न are termed अनुप्रदान which are mentioned as (i) श्वासानुप्रदान (emission of breath) and नादानुप्रदान (resonance), the other varieties of it such as विचार, संवार, घोष, अघोष, अल्पप्राण, महाप्राण, उदात्त, अनुदात्त and स्वरित being called merely as बाह्यप्रयत्न.

अनुबन्ध a letter or letters added to a word before or after it, only to signify some specific purpose such as (a) the addition of an affix (e. g. विन्, अधुच्, अच् etc.) or (b) the substitution of गुण, वृद्धि or संप्रसारण vowel or (c) sometimes their prevention. These anubandha letters are termed इत् (lit. going or disappearing) by Pāṇini (cf. उपदेशेऽनुनासिक इत् etc. I.3.2 to 9), and they do not form an essential part of the word to which they are attached, the word in usage being always found without the इत् letter. For technical purposes in grammar, however, such as आदित्व or अन्तत्व of affixes which are characterized by इत् letters, they are looked upon as essential factors, cf. अनेकान्ता अनुबन्धाम्, एकान्ताः, etc, Par. Śek. Pari. 4 to 8. Although पाणिनि has invariably used the term इत् for अनुबन्ध letters in his Sūtras, Patañjali and other reputed writers on Pāṇini's grammar right on upto Nāgeśa of the 18th century have used the term अनुबन्ध of ancient grammarians in their writings in the place of इत्. The term अनुबन्ध was chosen for mute signficatory letters by ancient grammarians probably on account of the analogy of the अनुबन्ध पशु, tied down at sacrifices to the post and subsequently slaughtered.

This recurrence is generally continuous like the stream of a river (गङ्गास्रोतोक्त); sometimes however, when it is not required in an intermediate rule, although it proceeds further, it is named मण्डूकप्रक्षयानुवृत्ति. In rare cases it is taken backwards in a sūtra work from a subsequent rule to a previous rule when it is called अपकर्ष.

अन्तरङ्ग a highly technical term in Pāṇini's grammar applied in a variety of ways to rules which thereby can supersede other rules. The term is not used by Pāṇini himself. The Vārtikakāra has used the term thrice
(See I. 4. 2 Vārt. 8, VI. 1. 106 Vart. 10 and VIII. 2. 6 Vārt. 1)
evidently in the sense of 'immediate', 'urgent', 'of earlier occurrence' or the like. The word is usually explained as a Bahuvrīhi compound meaning 'अन्तः अङ्गानि निमित्तानि यस्य' (a rule or operation which has got the causes of its application within those of another rule or operation which consequently is termed वहिरङ्ग). अन्तरङ्ग, in short, is a rule whose causes of operation occur earlier in the wording of the form, or in the process of formation. As an अन्तरङ्ग rule occurs to the mind earlier, as seen above, it is looked upon as stronger than any other rule, barring of course अपवाद rules or exceptions, if the other rule presents itself simultaneously. The Vārtikakāra, hence, in giving preference to अन्तरङ्ग rules, uses generally the wording अन्तरङ्गशलीयस्त्वात् which is paraphrased by अन्तरङ्ग वहिरङ्गाद् शलीयः which is looked upon as a paribhāṣā. Grammarians, succeeding the Vārtikakāra, not only looked upon the वहिरङ्ग operation as weaker than अन्तरङ्ग, but they looked upon it as invalid or invisible before the अन्तरङ्ग operation had taken place. They laid down the Paribhāṣā असिद्धं वहिरङ्गमन्तरङ्गे which has been thoroughly discussed by Nāgeśa in his Paribhāṣenduśekhara. The अन्तरङ्गत्व is taken in a variety of ways by Grammarians : (1) having causes of application within or before those of another e. g. स्वीनः from the root सिव् (सि + उ + न) where the य् substitute for इ is अन्तरङ्ग being caused by उ as compared to गुण for उ which is caused by न, (2) having causes of application occurring before those of another in the wording of the form, (3) having a smaller number of causes, (4) occurring earlier in the order of several operations which take place in arriving at the complete form of a word, (5) not having संज्ञा (technical term) as a cause of its application, (6) not depending upon two words or padas, (7) depending upon a cause or causes of a general nature (सामान्यापेक्ष) as opposed to one which depends on causes of a specific nature (विशेषापेक्ष).

अन्तरङ्गपरिभाषा the phrase is used generally for the परिभाषा 'असिद्धं वहिरङ्गमन्तरङ्गे' described above. See the word अन्तरङ्ग. The परिभाषा has got a very wide field of application and is used several times in setting aside difficulties which present themselves in the formation of a word. Like many other paribhāṣās this paribhāṣā is not a paribhāṣā of universal application.

अन्तरङ्गवलीयस्त्व the strength which an antaraṅga rule or operation possesses by virtue of which it supersedes all other rules or operations, excepting an apavāda rule, when or if they occur simultaneously in the formation of a word.

अर्थ (1) lit. signification, conveyed sense or object. The sense is sometimes looked upon as a determinant of the foot of a verse; cf. प्रायोगी वृत्तमित्येते पादज्ञानस्य हेतवः R. Pr. XVII 16. It is generally looked upon as the determinant of a word (पद). A unit or element of a word which is possessed of an independent sense is looked upon as a Pada in the old Grammar treatises; cf. अर्थः पदमिति ऐन्द्रेः cf. also अर्थः पदम् V. Pr. III.2, explained by उन्वट् as अर्थाभिधायि पदम् । पश्यते गम्यते ज्ञायतेऽर्थो-नेनेति पदम् । There is no difference of opinion regarding the fact that, out of the four standard kinds of words नाम, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात, the first two kinds नाम and आख्यात do possess an independent sense of their own. Regarding possession of sense and the manner in which the sense is conveyed, by the other two viz. the Upasargas (prepositions) and Nipātas (particles) there is a striking difference of opinion among scholars of grammar. Although Pāṇini has given the actual designation पद to words ending with either the case or the conjugal affixes, he has looked upon the different units or elements of a Pada such as the base, the affix, the augment and the like as possessed of individually separate senses. There is practically nothing in Pāṇini's sūtras to prove that Nipātas and Upasargas do not possess an independent sense. Re: Nipātas, the rule चादयोऽसत्त्वे, which means that च and other indeclinables are called Nipātas when they do not mean सत्त्वं, presents a riddle as to the meaning which च and the like should convey if they do not mean सत्त्वं or द्रव्य i. e. a substance. The Nipātas cannot mean भाव or verbal activity and if they do not mean सत्त्वं or द्रव्य, too, they will have to be called अनर्थक (absolutely meaningless) and in that case they would not be termed Prātipadika, and no case-affix would be applied to them. To avoid this difficulty, the Vārtikakāra had to make an effort and he wrote a Vārtika निपातस्य अनर्थकस्य प्रातिपदिकत्वम् । P. I.2.45 Vār. 12. As a matter of fact the Nipātas च, वा and others do possess a sense as shown by their presence and absence (अन्वय and व्यतिरेक). The sense, however, is conveyed rather in a different manner as the word समूह, or समुदाय, which is the meaning conveyed by च in रामः कृष्णश्च, cannot be substituted for च as its synonym in the sentence रामः कृष्णश्च. Looking to the different ways in which their sense is conveyed by nouns and verbs on the one hand, and by affixes, prepositions and indeclinables on the other hand, Bhartr̥hari, possibly following Yāska and Vyādi, has developed the theory of यौतकत्व as contrasted with वाचकत्व and laid down the dictum that indeclinables, affixes and prepositions (उपसर्गः) do not directly convey any specific sense as their own, but they are mere signs to show some specific property or excellence of the sense conveyed by the word to which they are attached; cf. also the statement 'न निर्वद्धाः उपसर्गा अर्धाञ्जिराहुरिति शाकटायनः नामाख्यातयोस्तु क्रमोपसंयोगयौतका भवन्ति । Nir I.3. The Grammarians, just like the rhetoricians have stated that the connection between words and their senses is a permanent one (नित्य), the only difference in their views being that the rhetoricians state that words are related, no doubt permanently, to their sense by means of संकेत or convention which solely depends on the will of God, while the Grammarians say that the expression of sense is only a natural function of words; cf. 'अभिधानं पुनः स्वाभाविकम्' Vārttika No.33. on P. I.2.64. For चोत्तकत्व see Vākyapadiya of Bhartṛhari II. 165-206.

अवग्रह (1) separation of a compound word into its component elements as shown in the Pada-Pāṭha of the Vedic Saṁhitās. ~ In the Pada-pāṭha, individual words are shown separately if they are combined by Saṁdhi rules or by the formation of a compound in the Saṁhitā-pāṭha; e.g. पुरोहितम् in the Saṁhitā-pāṭha is read as पुरःऽहितम्. In writing, there is observed the practice of placing the sign (5) between the two parts, about which nothing can be said as to when and how it originated. The Atharva-Prātiśākhya defines अवग्रह as the separation of two padas joined in Saṁhitā. (A. Pr. II. 3.25; II. 4.5). In the recital of the pada-pāṭha, when the word-elements are uttered separately, there is a momentary pause measuring one mātrā or the time required for the utterance of a short vowel. (See for details Vāj. Prāt. Adhāya 5). (2) The word अवग्रह is also used in the sense of the first out of the two words or members that are compounded together. See Kāśikā on P.VIII.4.26; cf. also तस्य (इङ्गवत्य) पूर्वपदमवग्रहः यथा देवायत इति देव-यते. Tai. Pr. I. 49. The term अवग्रह is explained in the Mahābhāṣya as 'separation, or splitting up of a compound word into its constituent parts; cf. छन्दस्वानहोवग्रहो दृश्यते पितामह इति । (M. Bh. on IV. 2.36); also cf. यद्येवमवग्रहः प्राप्नोति । न लक्षणेन पदकारा अनुवर्त्याः । पदकारेणाम लक्षणमनुवर्त्यम् । यथा लक्षणं पदे कर्तव्यम् (M. Bh. on III. 1. 109) where the Bhāṣyākāra has definitely stated that the writers of the Pada-pāṭha have to split up a word according to the rules of Grammar. (3) In recent times, however, the word अवग्रह is used in the sense of the sign (5) showing the coalescence of अ (short or long) with the preceding अ (short or long) or with the preceding ए or ओ. e.g. शिवोऽर्च्यः, अत्राऽऽगच्छ. (4) The word is also used in the sense of a pause, or an interval of time when the constituent elements of a compound word are shown separately; cf. समासेवग्रहो ह्रस्वसमकालः (V. Pr. V.1). (5) The word is also used in the sense of the absence of Sandhi when the Sandhi is admissible.

was fixed by Patañjali which, with a few additions made by the authors of the Kāśikā, as observed above, has traditionally come down to the present day. असिद्ध invalid; of suspended validity for the time being; not functioning for the time being. The term is frequently used in Pāṇini's system of grammar in connection with rules or operations which are prevented, or held in suspense, in connection with their application in the process of the formation of a word. The term (असिद्ध) is also used in connection with rules that have applied or operations that have taken place, which are, in certain cases, made invalid or invisible as far as their effect is concerned and other rules are applied or other operations are allowed to take place, which ordinarily have been prevented by those rules which are made invalid had they not been invalidated. Pāṇini has laid down this invalidity on three different occasions (1) invalidity by the rule पूर्वत्रासिद्धम् VIII. 2.1. which makes a rule or operation in the second, third and fourth quarters of the eighth chapter of the Aṣṭādhyāyī invalid when any preceding rule is to be applied, (2) invalidity by the rule असिद्धवचनाभात् which enjoins mutual invalidity in the case of operations prescribed in the Ābhiya section beginning with the rule असिद्धवचनाभात् (VI. 4.22.) and going on upto the end of the Pāda (VI.4.175), (3) invalidity of the single substitute for two letters, that has already taken place, when व् is to be substituted for स्, or the letter त् is to be prefixed, cf. बलवुक्कोरसिद्धः (VI. 1.86). Although Pāṇini laid down the general rule that a subsequent rule or operation, in case of conflict, supersedes the preceding rule, in many cases it became necessary for him to set that rule aside, which he did by means of the stratagem of invalidity given above. Subsequent grammarians found out a number of additional cases where it became necessary to supersede the subsequent rule which they did by laying down a dictum of invalidity similar to that of Pāṇini. The author of the Vārttikas, hence, laid down the doctrine that rules which are nitya or antaraṅga or apavāda, are stronger than, and hence supersede, the anitya, bahiraṅga and utsarga rules respectively. Later grammarians have laid down in general, the invalidity of the bahiraṅga rule when the antaraṅga rule occurs along with it or subsequent to it. For details see Vol. 7 of Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya (D. E. Society's edition) pages 217-220. See also Pari. Śek. Pari. 50.

असिद्धत्व invalidity of a rule or operation on account of the various considerations sketched above. See असिद्ध.

असिद्धपरिभाषा the same as Antaraṅga Paribhāṣā or the doctrine of the invalidity of the bahiraṅga operation. See the word असिद्ध above. For details see the Paribhāṣā "asiddham bahiraṅgam antaraṅge" Par. Śek. Pari. 50 and the discussion thereon. Some grammarians have given the name असिद्धपरिभाषा to the Paribhāṣā असिद्धं बहिरङ्गमन्तरङ्गे as contrasted with अन्तरङ्गं बहिरङ्गाद् बलीयः which they have named as बहिरङ्गपरिभाषा.

I. 2.37 Vārt. 2, आख्यातमारन्वयित्वा कियत्सातत्ये Sid. Kau. on II. 1. 72, कियत्सातत्त्वमाख्यातं V. Pr. V.1; cf. भारद्वाजकमाख्यातं भार्गवं नाम भाष्ये । भारद्वाजेन दृष्टत्वादाख्यातं भारद्वाजगोत्रम् V. Prāt. VIII. 52; cf. also Athar. Prāt. I. 1. 12, 18; 1. 3. 3, 6; II. 2. 5 where ākhyāta means verbal form. The word also meant in ancient days the root also, as differentiated from a verb or a verbal form as is shown by the lines तन्नाम येनाभिधत्ति सत्त्वं, तदारभ्यात् येन भावं स. धातुः R. Pr. XII. 5 where 'आख्यात' and 'धातु' are used as synonyms. As the root form such as कृ, भू etc. as distinct from the verbal form, is never found in actual use, it is immaterial whether the word means root or verb. In the passages quoted above from the Nirukta and the Mahābhāṣya referring to the four kinds of words, the word ākhyāta could be taken to mean root (धातु) or verb (कियत्पद). The ākhyāta or verb is chiefly concerned with the process of being and becoming while nouns (नामानि) have sattva or essence, or static element as their meaning. Verbs and nouns are concerned not merely with the activities and things in this world but with every process and entity; cf. पूर्वापरिभूतं भावमाख्यातेनाच्चे Nir. I.; अस्तिभवतिविद्यतीनामर्थः सत्ता । अनेककालस्थायिनीति कालगतपरिवापयेण कमवतीति तस्याः कियत्त्वम् । Laghumañjūṣā. When a kṛt. affix is added to a root, the static element predominates and hence a word ending with a kṛt. affix in the sense of bhāva or verbal activity is treated as a noun and regularly declined; cf. कृदभिहितो भावो द्रव्यवद् भवति M. Bh. on II. 2. 19 and III. 1.67, where the words गति, श्रव्य, वाक and others are given as instances. Regarding indeclinable words ending with kṛt. affixes such as कर्तु, कृत्वा, and others, the modern grammarians hold that in their case the verbal activity is not shadowed by the static element and hence they can be, in a way, looked upon as ākhyātas; cf. अन्यकृतो भावे Vaiyākaraṇabhūṣaṇa.

III. 4. 17 and a number of other sūtras where इ or ति is added to the root; cf. इक्षुस्तिषी धातुनिर्देशे, वर्गात्कारः, रादिकः P. III. 3.108 Vārt. 2.3. 4. where such appendages to be added to the roots or letters are given. The word आगन्तु is an old word used in the Nirukta, but the term आगन्तुक appears to be used for the first time for such forms by Haradatta; cf. ह्यरेरिति ह् कौटिल्ये, आगन्तुकेकोरे गुणेन निर्देशः Padamañjarī on VII. 2. 31. In the traditional oral explanations the second part of a reduplicated word is termed आगन्तुक which is placed second

i. e. after the original by virtue of the convention आगन्तु-नामन्ते निवेशः, although in fact, it is said to possess the sense of the root in contrast with the first which is called abhyāsa. A nice distinction can, however be drawn between the four kinds of adventitious wordings found in grammar viz. आगन्तु, इत्, अभ्यास and आगम which can be briefly stated as follows: The former two do not form a regular part of the word and are not found in the actual use of the word; besides, they do not possess any sense, while the latter two are found in actual use and they are possessed of sense. Again the āgantū word is simply used for facility of understanding exactly and correctly the previous word which is really wanted; the इत् wording, besides serving this purpose, is of use in causing some grammatical operations. अभ्यास, is the first part of the wording which is wholly repeated and it possesses no sense by itself, while, āgama which is added to the word either at the beginning or at the end or inserted in the middle, forms a part of the word and possesses the sense of the word.

आगम augment, accrement, a word element which is added to the primitive or basic word during the process of the formation of a complete word or pada. The āgama is an adventitious word element and hence differs from ādeśa, the substitute which wholly takes the place of the original or (आदेशिन्). Out of the several āgamas mentioned by Pāṇini, those that are marked with mute इ are prefixed, those, marked with ह्र, are affixed, while those, marked with म्, are placed immediately after the last vowel of the word. The augments become a part and parcel of the word to which they are added, and the characteristics of which they possess; cf. यदागमास्तद्गुणीभूतास्तदग्रहेण यद्गन्ते, also आगमानां आगमिधर्मवैशिष्ट्यम् Par. Sek. Pari. 11. Those grammarians, who hold the view that words are unproduced and eternal, explain the addition of an augment as only the substitution of a word with an augment in the place of a word without an augment; cf. आदेशास्तर्हिमि भविष्यन्ति अनागमकानां सागमकाः M. Bh. on I. 1.20; I. 1.46. The term āgama is defined as अन्यत्र विद्यमानस्तु यो वर्णः श्रूयतेधिकः । आगम्यमानस्तुल्यत्वात् आगम इति स्मृतः Com. on Tait. Prāt. I. 23.

आगमिन् a base to which an augment is added; cf. एवमपि पञ्च आगमास्त्रय आगमिनः M. Bh. I. 1. Āhnika 2.

P.V. 3.55, 57. This superlative affix is seen doubly applied sometimes in Vedic Lit. e.g. श्रेष्ठतमाय कर्मणे Yaj. Sañ. I.1; cf. also तदन्ताच्च स्वायं छन्दसि दर्शने श्रेष्ठतमायेति P.V.3.55 Vārt. 3.

- आत्मनेपद a technical term for the affixes called तद् (त, आताम् etc.) and the affix आन (शानच्, चानश्, कानच्), called so possibly because, the fruit of the activity is such as generally goes to the agent (आत्मने) when these affixes are used. Contrast this term (Ātmanepada) with the term Parasmaipada when the fruit is meant for another. For an explanation of the terms see P. VI.3.7 and 8.
- आत्मनेपदिन् a root which always takes the Ātmanepada affixes. (See above).
- आत्मनेभाष a technical term used for such roots as speak for the agent himself; the term आत्मनेभाष means the same as the term आत्मनेपदिन्. The term आत्मनेभाष is not mentioned by Pāṇini; but the writer of the Vārtikas explains it, cf. आत्मने-

It cannot be said whether the term came in use after Pāṇini or, although earlier, it belonged to some school other than that of Pāṇini or, Pāṇini put into use the terms Ātmanepada and Parasmaipada for the affixes as the ancient terms Ātmanebhāṣa and Parasmaibhāṣa were in use for the roots.

आदेश (1) substitute as opposed to sthānin, the original. In Pāṇini's grammar there is a very general maxim, possessed of a number of exceptions, no doubt, that "the substitute behaves like the original" (स्थानिवदादेशः अनस्त्विथी P.I.1.56.); the application of this maxim is called स्थानिवद्भावः; for purposes of this स्थानिवद्भावः the elision (लुप) of a phonetic element is looked upon as a sort of substitute; cf. उपखलिपस्य स्थानिवत्त्वात् Kās. on P. I.1.58. Grammarians many times look upon a complete word or a word-base as a substitute for another one, although only a letter or a syllable in the word is changed into another, as also when a letter or syllable is added to or dropped in a word; cf. पचतु, पचन्तु ... इमेप्यादेशाः । कथम् । आदिश्यते यः स आदेशः । इमे चाप्यादिश्यन्ते । M. Bh. on I.1.56; cf. also सर्वे सर्व-पदादेशा दाक्षीण्यस्य पाणिनेः M.Bh. on P. I.1.20; cf. also अनागमकानां सागमका आदेशाः M. II.20; cf. also अनादेशो अकारः V.Pr.IV.131, where Uvvaṭa remarks यत्र उदात्तादीनां स्वर्णां सन्धी आदेशो न क्रियते तत्र अकारः प्रत्येतन्यः । cf. also एकारो विभक्त्यादेशः छन्दसि A.Pr. आद्यन्तवच्च आद्यन्तवद्भावः, consideration of a single or solitary letter as the initial or the final one according to requirements for operations prescribed for the initial or for the final. Both these notions—the initial and the final—are relative notions, and because they require the presence of an additional letter or letters for the sake of being called initial or final it becomes necessary to prescribe आद्यन्तवद्भावः in the case of a single letter; cf. आद्यन्त-वदेकस्मिन् । आदी इव अन्त इव एकस्मिन्नपि कार्यं भवति । यथा कर्तव्यमित्यत्र प्रत्ययाशुदात्तत्वं भवति एवमौपगवमित्यत्रापि यथा स्यात् । Kās. on P.I.1.21; cf. also आद्यन्तवच्च । अणुक्तस्य आदिवदन्तवच्च कार्यं भवति । T. Pr. I.55. This आद्यन्तवद्भावः of Pāṇini is, in fact, a specific application of the general maxim known as vyapadeṣivadbhāva by virtue of which "an operation which affects something on account of some special designation, which for certain reasons attaches to the letter, affects likewise that which stands alone;" cf. Pari.Śek. Pari. 30.

आशुदात्त a word beginning with an acute-accent i.e. which has got the first vowel accented acute; words in the vocative case and words

आनङ् substitute अन् in the place of the last letter (क) of the first member of dvandva compounds of words meaning deities or of words showing blood-relationship which end with the vowel कः; e.g. होतापोतारी, मत्तापितृयी cf. P. VI.3.25, 26.

Pari. 51. This close proximity of one letter or syllable or so, with another, is actually i.e. phonetically required and generally so found out also, but sometimes such proximity is theoretically not existing as the letter required for proximity is technically not present there by the rule पूर्वत्रासिध्दम्. In such cases, a technical absence is not looked upon as a fault. cf. कचिच्च संनिपातकृतमानन्तर्ये शास्त्रकृतमनानन्तर्ये यथा ध्रुवे, कचिच्च नैव संनिपातकृतं नापि शास्त्रकृतं यथा जङ्घे । यत्र कुतश्चिदेवानन्तर्ये तदाधियन्त्यामः M. marked with the mute letter इ, cf. तिङ्शित् सार्धधातुकम् । आर्धधातुकं देशः । P. III. 4. 113 and 114. The personal endings of verbs in the perfect tense and the benedictive mood are termed ārdhadhātuka, cf. P. III. 4.115, 116; while both the terms are promiscuously found utilised in the Vedic Literature; cf. P. III. 4. 117. The main utility of the ārdhadhātuka term is the augment इ (इट्) to be prefixed to the ārdhadhātuka affixes. The term आर्धधातुका was in use in works of the old Vaiyākaraṇas; cf. अथवा आर्धधातुकासु इति ऋषामि कासु आर्धधातुकासु । उक्तिषु युषितेषु इदिषु प्रतिलिषु धुषिषु संशसु M. Bh. on II. 4.35. It cannot be said how the term ārdhadhātuka originated. Probably such affixes or pratyayas, like the kṛt affixes generally, as could be placed after certain roots only were called ārdhadhātuka, as contrasted with the verbal and the present participle affixes which were termed sārva-dhātuka on account of their being found in use after every root.

seen in actual use in the spoken language; cf. अप्रयोगी इत्, Śāk. I.1.5, Hem.1.1.37. The इत् letters are applied to a word before it, or after it, and they have got each of them a purpose in grammar viz. causing or preventing certain grammatical operations in the formation of the complete word. Pāṇini has not given any definition of the word इत्, but he has mentioned when and where the vowels and consonants attached to words are to be understood as इत्; (cf. उपदेशोऽनुनासिक इत् । हलन्त्यम् । etc. P. I. 3.2 to 8) and stated that these letters are to be dropped in actual use; cf. P.I. 3.9. It appears that grammarians before Pāṇini had also employed such इत् letters, as is clear from some passages in the Mahābhāṣya as also from their use in other systems of grammar as also in the Uṇādi list of affixes, for purposes similar to those found served in Pāṇini's grammar. Almost all vowels and consonants are used as इत् for different purposes and the इत् letters are applied to roots in the Dhātupāṭha, nouns in the Ganapāṭha, as also to affixes, augments and substitutes prescribed in grammar. Only at a few places they are attached to give facility of pronunciation. Sometimes the इत् letters, especially vowels, which are said to be इत्, when uttered as nasalized by Pāṇini, are recognised only by convention; cf. प्रतिशतनुनासिक्याः वाणिनीवाः (S.K. on P.I.3.2). The word इत्, which literally means going away or disappearing, can be explained as a mute indicative letter. In Pāṇini's grammar, the mute vowel अ applied to roots indicates the placing of the Ātmanepada affixes after them, if it be uttered as anudāta and of affixes of both the padas if uttered svarita; cf. P.I.3. 12, 72. The mute vowel आ signifies the prevention of इहागम before the past part. affixes; cf. P. VII. 2. 16. Similarly, the mute vowel इ signifies the augment न् after the last vowel of the root; cf. P.VII.1.58; ई signifies the prevention of the augment इ before the past part. affixes cf. P.VII.2.14; उ signifies the inclusion of cognate letters; cf. P.I.1.69, and the optional addition of the augment इ before त्वा; cf. P. VII.2. 56; ऊ signifies the optional application of the augment इ; cf. P.VII. 2.44; ऋ signifies the prevention of ह्रस्व to the vowel of a root before the causal affix, cf. VII.4.2; लृ signifies the Vikarāṇa अह् in the Aorist cf. P.III.1.55; ए signifies the prevention of Vṛddhi in the Aorist, cf. P.VII.2.55; ओ signifies the substitution of न् for त् of the past part. cf. P. VIII.2.45; कृ signifies the prevention of गुण and वृद्धि, cf. P. He is nowhere quoted by Pāṇini. Many quotations believed to have been taken from his work are found scattered in grammar works, from which it appears that there was an ancient system prevalent in the eastern part of India at the time of Pāṇini which could be named ऐन्द्रव्याकरणपद्धति, to which Pāṇini possibly refers by the word प्राचाण्. From references, it appears that the grammar was of the type of प्रक्रिया, discussing various topics of grammar such as alphabet, coalescence, declension, context, compounds, derivatives from nouns and roots, conjugation, and changes in the base. The treatment was later on followed by Śākatāyana and writers of the Kātantra school. For details see Mahābhāṣya ed. by D. E. Society, Poona, Vol. VII pages 124-127.

उग्रभूति or उग्राचार्य writer of a gloss on the Nirukta, called 'Niruktabhāṣya' believed to have lived in the 18th century A. D; writer also of a grammatical work Śiṣyahitāvṛtti or Śiṣyahitānyāsa, which was sent to kashmir and made popular with a large sum of money spent upon it, by his pupil Ānanādpāla.

उद् a technical term for उपधा, the penultimate letter in the Jainendra Vyākaraṇa; cf. इदुदुः Jain. V. 4.28.

उच्च the higher tone also called उदात्त or acute; cf. नीचमुच्चात् R. T. 55, also एते स्वराः प्रकल्पन्ते यत्रोच्चस्वः (सीदयः R. Pr. III. 19; cf. also the terms उच्चश्रुति R. T. 61, एकोच्च R. T. 62, आयुच्च, अन्तोच्चक. etc.

उच्चरित pronounced or uttered; the phrase उच्चरितप्रध्वंसिनः is used in connection with the mute indicatory letters termed इत् in Pāṇini's grammar, as these letters are not actually found in use in the language and are therefore supposed to vanish immediately after their purpose has been served. The phrase 'उच्चरितप्रध्वंसिनोऽनुबन्धाः' has been given as a Paribhāṣā by Vyāḍi (Pari.11), in the Cāndra Vyākaraṇa (Par. 14), in the Kātantra Vyākaraṇa (Pari.54) and also in the Kālāpa Vyākaraṇa (Par. 7i). Patañjali has used the expression उच्चरितप्रध्वंसिनः in connection with ordinary letters of a word, which have existence for a moment and which also vanish immediately after they have been uttered; cf. उच्चरितप्रध्वंसिनः स्वल्पि वर्णाः ... न वर्णो वर्णस्य सहायः M. Bh. on I.4. 109.

उच्चरितप्रध्वंसिन् vanishing immediately after utterance. See उच्चरित.

उच्चारण pronunciation, enunciation (in the Śāstra). The phrase उच्चारण-सामर्थ्यात् is often found used in the Mahābhāṣya and elsewhere in connection with the words of Pāṇini, everyone of which is believed to have a purpose or use in the Śāstra, which purpose, if not clearly manifest, is assigned to it on the strength (सामर्थ्य) of its utterance; cf. उच्चारणसामर्थ्यादत्र (द्विन्योः) उच्चं न भविष्यति M. Bh. on III.4.89 V. 2; cf. also M. Bh. on IV.4.59, VI.4. 163, VII.1.12, 50, VII.2.84. In a few cases, a letter is found used by Pāṇini which cannot be assigned any purpose but which has been put there for facility of the use of other letters. Such letters are said to be उच्चारणार्थः; cf. जधिः । इकार उच्चारणार्थः । नानुबन्धः । Kās. on II 4.36, लि छुति. । इकार उच्चारणार्थः ; चकारः स्वराथः । Kās. on III.1. 43. The expressions मूलमुखाथः and श्रवणार्थः in the Mahābhāṣya mean the same as उच्चारणार्थः.

उच्चावच diverse; cf. उच्चावचेध्वंशु भवन्ति निपाताः Nir. I.3.4.

उच्चैस्तरां specially accented; उदात्तरां; cf. उच्चैस्तरां वा वदकारः P. I. 2.35.

उज्ज्वलदत्त the famous commentator on the Uṇādi sūtras. His work is called Uṇādisūtravṛtti, which is a scholarly commentary on the Uṇādisūtrapāṭha, consisting of five Pādas. Ujvaldatta is believed to have lived in the 15th century A. D. He quotes Vṛtīnyāsa, Anu-nyāsa, Bhāgavṛtti etc. He is also known by the name Jājali.

उञ् (1) short term (प्रत्याहार) for vowels excepting अ and इ, semi-vowels, nasal consonants and the consonants ह्र, झ and भृ; cf मय उञो वो वा P. VIII.3. 33; (2) the particle उः cf. उभि च पदे P. VIII. 3.21, also उजः P. I. I.17.

उच्छादि a class of words headed by the word उच्छ which have their final vowel accented acute (उदात्त); cf. उच्छः. म्लेच्छा, जस्यः । एतं पर्यन्ता इति मित्स्वरः प्राप्तः । Kās. on P. VI. 1.160.

उद् augment उ affixed to the roots वृ and वृ before the कृत् affix वृ; cf. वृष्टुवृष्टुवृष्टु वृष्टुवृष्टुवृष्टु तस्तेवृष्टुवृष्टुवृष्टु वृष्टु वृष्टु इत्येतावाग निवास्येते Kās. on P. VII.2.34.

उण् the affix उण्, causing वृद्धि on account of the mute letter ण, prescribed after the roots कृ, वा, पा, जि, मि, स्वद्, साध् and अद् by the rule कृवापाजिमिस्वदिसाध्यशून्य उण् which is the first rule (or Sūtra) of a series of rules prescribing various affixes which are called उणादी affixes, the affix उण् being the first of them. e.g. कारुः, वायुः, स्वाद्, साधु etc.; cf. Uṇādi I, 1.

उणादि affixes headed by the affix उण्, which are similar to कृत् affixes of Pāṇini, giving derivation mostly of such words as are not derived by rules of Pāṇini. No particular sense such as agent, object etc. is mentioned in connection with these affixes, but, as Pāṇini has stated in "ताभ्यामन्यत्रोणादयः" P. III. 4.75, the various उणादी affixes are applied to the various roots as prescribed in any Kāraka sense, except the संप्रदान and the अपादानः in other words, any one of the senses, agent, object, instrument and abode, is assigned to the उणादी affix as suits the meaning of the word. Although some scholars believe that the उणादी affixes are given by a grammarian later than Pāṇini as there are words like साम्बूल, दीनार and others included in the list of उणादी

words and that there are many interpolated Sūtras, still the उणादी collection must be looked upon as an old one which is definitely mentioned by Pāṇini in two different rules; cf. Pāṇini उणादयो बहुलम् P. III. 3.1 and ताभ्यामन्यत्रोणादयः III. 4. 75. Patañjali has given a very interesting discussion about these उणादी affixes and stated on the strength of the Vārttika, तत्रोणादिप्रतिषेधः, that these affixes and the words given in the उणादी collection should not be considered as genuinely derived. The derivation is not a very systematic and logically correct one and therefore for practical purposes, the words derived by the application of the affixes उण् and others should be looked upon as underived; cf. उणादयोऽन्युत्पन्नानि प्रातिपदिकानि. M. Bh. on. P. I. 1.16, III. 4. 77, IV. 1. 1, VI. 1. 62, VII. 1. 2, VII. 2. 8 etc. There is a counterstatement also seen in the Mahābhāṣya उणादयो न्युत्पन्नानि, representing the other view prevailing at the time; cf. M. Bh. on III. 1. 133; but not much importance seems to be attached to it. The different systems of grammar have different collections of such words which are also known by the term उणादी. Out of the collections belonging to Pāṇini's system, three collections are available at present, the collection into five pādas given in the printed edition of the Siddhānta Kaumudī, the collection into ten Pādas given in the printed edition of the Prakriyā-Kaumudī and the collection in the Sarasvatī-kaṇṭhābharaṇa of Bhoja forming Pādas 1, 2 and 3 of the second Adhyāya of the work.

उणादिकोश a metrical work explaining the उणादि words referred to above, with meanings assigned to them. There are two such compositions one by Rāmatar-kavāgīśa or Rāmaśarmā and the other by Rāmacandra Dīkṣita.

उणादिप्रातिपदिक word form or crude base, ending with an affix of the उण class, which is looked upon as practically underived, the affixes उण and others not being looked upon as standard affixes applied with regular meanings attached to them and capable of causing operations to the preceding base as prescribed by rules of grammar; cf. उणादयोऽभ्युत्पन्नानि प्रातिपदिकानि । भ्युत्पन्नानीति शाकटायनरोत्या । पाणिनेस्त्वभ्युत्पत्तिपञ्च एवेति शब्देन्दु-शेखरे निरूपितम्, Pari. Śek. on Pari-bhāṣā 22.

उणादिसूत्र, उणादिसूत्रपाठ the text of the Sūtras which begins with the Sūtra prescribing the affix उण after the roots कृ, वा, पा, लि, स्वद्, साध् and अश्; cf. Uṇādi Sūtra 1. 1. For the different versions of the text see उणादि. Similar Sūtras in Kātantra, Āpiśali, Sakaṭāyana and other systems of grammar are also called Uṇādi Sūtras.

उणादिसूत्रदशपादी the text of the Uṇādi Sūtras divided into ten chapters believed to have been written by शाकटायन. It is printed at the end of the Prakriyā Kāumudī and separately also, and is also available in manuscripts with a few differences. Patañjali in his Bhāṣya on P.III.3.1, seems to have mentioned Sākaṭāyana as the author of the Uṇādi Sūtras although it cannot be stated definitely whether there was at that time, a version of the sūtras in five chapters or in ten chapters or one, completely different from these, as scholars believe that there are many interpolations and changes in the versions of Uṇādi sūtras available at present. A critical study of the various versions is extremely desirable.

उणादिसूत्रपञ्चपादी the text of the Uṇādi Sūtras divided into five chapters which is possessed of a scholarly commentary written by Ujjvaladatta. There is a commentary on it by Bhaṭṭoji Dīkṣita also.

उणादिसूत्रवृत्ति a gloss on the Uṇādi Sūtras in the different versions. Out of the several glosses on the Uṇādi Sūtras, the important ones are those written by Ujjvaladatta, Govardhana, Puruṣottamadeva, Rāmacandra Dīkṣita and Harīśdatta. There is also a gloss called Uṇādisūtrodghāṭana by Mīśra. There is a gloss by Durgasīma on the Kātantra version of the Uṇādi Sūtras.

उदयकीर्ति author of a treatise giving rules for the determination of the pada or padas of roots; the treatise is named पदव्यवस्थामुक्तकारिकायांका. He was a Jain grammarian, and one of the pupils of Sādhusundara.

उदात्त the acute accent defined by Pāṇini in the words उच्चैः उदात्तः P.1.2.29. The word उच्चैः is explained by Patañjali in the words आयत्नां दारण्यं अणुता सस्य इति उच्चैःकराणि शब्दस्य' where आयाम (गात्रनिग्रह restriction of the organs), दारण्य (रुद्धता rudeness) and सस्य अणुता (कण्ठस्य संबुद्धता closure of the glottis) are given as specific characteristics of the acute accent. The acute is the prominent accent in a word—a simple word as also a compound word—and when a vowel in a word is possessed of the acute accent, the remaining vowels have the अनुदात्त or the grave accent. Accent is a property of vowels and consonants do not possess any independent accent. They possess the accent of the adjoining vowel connected with it. The acute accent corresponds to what is termed 'accent' in English and other languages.

उदात्तर raised acute, a tone slightly higher than the acute tone which is mentioned in connection with the first half of a circumflex vowel; cf. तस्योदात्तरोदात्तादर्धमात्रार्धमेव वाR.P.III.2.

उदात्तमय an accent made up of Udātta, i. e. an accent which is a reduced udātta. It is called also प्रचय. It is mentioned in connection with an acute vowel following इति in the Padapāṭha, according to Kāṇva's view; cf. उदात्तमयोन्यत्र नीच एव अन्तोदात्तमध्योदात्तयोः पर्यणोरन्यत्र इति कारणात् परो नीच उदात्तमय एव भवति प्रचित एव भवतीत्यर्थः com. on V. Pr. I.150

I. 1. 69. Roots marked with उ as mute get the augment इ optionally added before the कृत् affix क्त्वा; e. g. शमित्वा and शान्त्वा from the root शम् (शम्) by virtue of the rule उदितो वा P.VII.2.56.

उदुपधत्व possession of short उ as the penultimate letter, e. g. इदुदुपधत्व चाप्रत्ययस्य P.VII.3.41.

उद्गात्रादि a class of words headed by the word उद्गात्र to which the taddhita affix अच् is added in the sense of 'nature' or 'profession'; cf. उद्गात्रुर्भाषः कर्म वा औद्गात्रम् । Similarly : अन्नित्रम् Kās. on P. V. 1.129.

उद्ग्राह alleviation, ease, relief; name given to a Saṁdhi in the Prāṭisākhya works when a visarga and a short vowel अ preceding it are changed into short अ, (e. g. अ + इन्द्रः = अ इन्द्रः); as also when the vowel ए or ओ is changed into अ being followed by a dissimilar vowel; e. g. अग्ने + इन्द्रः = अन्न इन्द्रः; cf. R.Pr.II.10.

उद्ग्राहपदवृत्ति name given in the Rk. Prāṭisākhya to the Udgrāhasaṁdhi where the vowel अ is followed by a long vowel; e.g. कः ईषते = क ईषते R.Pr.II.10.

In the sentence वृद्धिर्यदच् the case is strikingly an opposite one and the explanation given by Patañjali is very interesting; cf. तदतदेकं मह्यगलार्थं आचार्यस्य मृष्यताम् । माह्यगलिक आचार्यः मरुतः शास्त्रार्थस्य मह्यगलार्थं वृद्धिशब्दमादिताः प्रयुङ्क्ते M. Bh. on I. 1.1.

उद्द्योत the word always refers in grammar to the famous commentary by Nāgēsabhaṭṭa written in the first decade of the 18th century A. D. on the Mahābhāṣyapradīpa of Kaiyaṭa. The Uddyota appears to be one of the earlier works of Nāgēsa. It is also called Vivarāṇa. The commentary is a scholarly one and is looked upon as a final word re the exposition of the Mahābhāṣya. It is believed that Nāgēsa wrote 12 Uddyotas and 12 Śekharas which form some authoritative commentaries on prominent works in the different Śāstras.

उद्द्योतनप्रभा name of a commentary on the 'Tantrapradīpa' of Maitreya Rakṣita, which latter is a commentary on Jinendrabuddhi's Nyāsa which itself is a commentary on Jayāditya's Kāśikā.

उप a technical term in the Jainendra Grammar for the terms लुप् and लृप्; cf. अन्तरङ्गानपि विधीन् बहिरङ्ग उप् वाचते. Jain. Pari. 85, प्रकृतिग्रहणं बहुवन्तस्यापि ग्रहणम् Jain Pari. 20.

उपकादि a class of words headed by the word उपक after which the taddhita affix, added in the sense of गोत्र (grand-children etc.) is optionally elided, provided the word is to be used in the plural number; cf. उपकलमकाः भ्रष्टककपिष्टलाः; also उपकाः, औपकायनाः; लमकाः, लामकायनाः; भ्रष्टकाः भ्राष्टक्यः। Kās. on P. II. 4. 69.

उपगीत a fault in the pronunciation of letters, noticed sometimes in the utterance of a letter adjoining such a letter as is coloured with a musical tone on account of the proximity of the adjacent letter which is uttered in a musical note and which therefore is called 'प्रगीत'; cf. प्रगीतः लामबहुचारितः। उपगीतः समीपवर्णान्तरगतानुरक्तः। Kaiyata's Pradīpa on M. Bh. I. Āhnika 1.

उपग्रह a term used by the ancient grammarians in the sense of the Parasmaipada and the Ātmanepada affixes. The word is not found in Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī. The Vārttikakāra has used the word in his Vārttika उपग्रहप्रतिषेधश्च on P. III. 2.127 evidently in the sense of Pada affixes referring to the Ātmanepada as explained by Kaiyata in the words उपग्रहस्य व्यात्मनेपदसंज्ञाया इत्यर्थः। The word occurs in the Slokavārttika मुनिभुवग्रहलिङ्गनराणां quoted by Patañjali in his Mahābhāṣya on व्यत्ययो बहुलम् P. III. 1.85, where Nāgeśa writes लदेशः अङ्गभ्रं स्वार्थत्वादि। इह तत्प्रतीतिनिमित्ते परस्मै-

पदात्मनेपदे उपग्रहशब्देन लक्षणयोज्येते। The word is found in the sense of Pada in the Mahābhāṣya on P. III. 1.40. The commentator on Puṣpasūtra explains the word as उपग्रहोतं समीपे पठ्यते इति उपग्रहः. The author of the Kāśikā on P. VI. 2.134 has cited the reading चूर्णादीन्व्याख्यायुग्रहात् instead of चूर्णादीन्व्याख्यायुग्रहाः and made the remark तत्रोपग्रह इति पठ्यन्तमेव पूर्वाचार्योपचारणं पृह्यते. This remark shows that in ancient times उपग्रह meant पठ्यन्त i. e. a word in the genitive case. This sense gave rise to, or was based upon, an allied sense, viz. the meaning of 'बद्धी' i. e. possession. Possibly the sense 'possession' further developed into the further sense 'possession of the fruit or result for self or others' referring to the लिङ् affixes which possessed that sense. The old sense 'पठ्यन्त' of the word 'उपग्रह' having gone out of use, and the sense 'पद' having come in vogue, the word 'बद्धी' must have been substituted for the word 'उपग्रह' by some grammarians before the time of the Kāśikākāras. As Patañjali has dropped the Sūtra (VI. 2.134), it cannot be said definitely whether the change of reading took place before Patañjali or after him.

उपचार (1) taking a secondary sense; implication; lit. moving for a sense which is near about; the same as लक्षणा. The word आचार is explained as उपचार, employment or current usage, by Patañjali; cf. आचारात् आचार्याणामुपचारात्। M. Bh. I. 1. 1. Vārt. 4; (2) substitution of the letter स् for सिर्ग; cf. प्रत्ययग्रहणोपचारेण च, P. IV. 1.1 Vārt. 7.

उपजन lit. origin; one that originates; augment, उपजायते अस्ति उपजनः। The word is used in the sense of 'additional phonetic element'; cf. उपजन आगमः M. Bh. on Śiva-sūtra 5; cf. also वर्णभ्यत्ययापायोपजनविकारेश्चर्धदर्शनात् । Śiva Sutra 5 Vārt. 15. The Rk Prātisākhya gives स in पुरुषान्द्र as an instance of उपजन cf. R. Pr. IV. 37. In the Nirukta उपजन is given as the sense of the prefix 'उप'; cf. उपेत्युपजनम्: The com. on the Nirukta explains the word उपजन as अधिक्य.

उपजीव्य a term used by later grammarians in connection with such a rule on which another rule depends cf. उपजीव्यादन्तरङ्गान्च प्रधानं प्रवलम् Pari. Śekh. on Pari. 97, as also M. Bh. on हेतुमति च P. III. 1.26. The relationship known as उपजीव्योपजीवकभाव occurs several times in grammar which states the inferiority of the dependent as noticed in the world.

उपदेश instruction; original enunciation; first or original precepts or teaching; cf. उपदेश आद्योच्चारणम् S. K. on the rule उपदेशेऽनुनासिक इत् P. I. 3. 2. cf. वर्णानामुपदेशः कर्तव्यः; M. Bh. on Āhn. 1. Vārt. 15. For difference between उपदेश and उद्देश see उद्देश; cf. also उपदिश्यतेनेत्युपदेशः । शास्त्रवाक्यानि, सूत्रपाठः खिलपाठश्च Kāśikā on P. I. 3.2; cf. also Vyāḍi. Pari. 5; (2) employment (of a word) for others cf. उपदेशः परार्थः प्रयोगः । स्वयमेव तु बुद्ध्या यदा परामृशति तदा नास्त्युपदेशः Kāś. on अदोनोपदेशे P. I. 4. 70.

upon as occurring in the original instruction although it is not there. See उपदेश. cf. नुम्बिधात्पुपदेशिवद्भवनं प्रत्ययविषयम् P. VII. 1.58. Vārt. 1.

उपद्रुत name of a saṁdhi which is described as उद्ग्राहवत् in R. Pr.; e. g. न क्ते. See उद्ग्राह.

उपध्मानीय a letter or a phonetic element substituted for a visarga followed by the first or the second letter of the labial class. Visarga is simply letting the breath out of the mouth. Where the visarga is followed by the first or the second letter of the labial class, its pronunciation is coloured by labial utterance. This coloured utterance cannot be made independently; hence this utterance called 'उपध्मानीय' (similar to a sound blown from the mouth) is not put in, as an independent letter, in the वर्णसमाग्राय attributed to महेश्वर. Patañjali, however, has referred to such dependent utterances by the term अयोगवाहवर्ण. See अयोगवाह; cf. ऋ इति जिह्वामूलियः । जिह्वामूलेन जन्यत्वात् । ऋ इत्युपध्मानीयः । उपध्मानेन जन्यत्वात्, अयोगवाह इ is also called अर्धविसर्ग. See अर्धविसर्ग.

उपन्यास proposition, statement. The remark 'विधम उपन्यासः' is of frequent occurrence in the Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya in connection with statements that are defective and have to be refuted or corrected; cf. M. Bh. on P. I. 1.21, 46, 50; I. 2.5 etc.

उपपद lit. a word placed near; an adjoining word. In Pāṇini's grammar, the term उपपद is applied to such words as are put in the locative case by Pāṇini in his rules prescribing कृत् affixes in rules from III. 1, 90 to III. 4 end; cf. तत्रोपपदे सप्तमीस्थम् P. III. 1. 92; e. g. कर्मणि in कर्मण्यञ् P. III. 2.1. The word is also used in the sense of an adjoining word connected in sense. e. g. सुप्सुपपदे० as also प्रहासे च मन्योपपदे० P. I. 4. 105, 106; cf. also क्रियाधायां क्रियायासुपपदे धातोर्भविष्यति काले तुमुन्ञ्जुली भवतः Kāś. on P. III. 3.10; cf. also इतरतरान्योन्योपपदाच्च P. I. 3.10, मिथ्योपपदात् कुञ्जोन्यसि P. I. 3.71, as also उपपदमतिश्च P. II 2. 19; and गतिकारकोपपदात् P. VI. 2. 139. Kaiyaṭa on P. III. 1. 92 Vārt. 2 explains the word उपपद as उपोच्चारि or उपोच्चारितं पदं उपपदम्. The word उपपद is found used in the Prātiśākhya literature where it means a word standing near and effecting some change; cf. च वा ह अह एव एतानि चप्रभृतानि यान्युपपदानि उक्तानि आख्यातस्य विकारोणि० Uvaṭa on V. Pr. VI. 23.

उपपदविभक्ति a case termination added to a word on account of the presence of another word requiring the addition; cf. the well-known Paribhāṣā उपपदविभक्तेः कारकविभक्तिर्वैली-यसी. Par. Śek. Pari. 94; and M.Bh. on I.4. 96 stating the possession of greater force in the case of a kārakavibhakti than in the case of an upapadavibhakti.

उपपदसमास the compound of a word, technically termed as उपपद by Pāṇini according to his definition of the word in III. 1. 92., with another word which is a verbal derivative; cf. कुम्भकारः, नगरकारः. Here technically the compound of the words कुम्भ, नगर etc. which are upapadas is formed with कार, before a case-termination is added to the nominal base कार; cf. गतिकारकोपपदानां कृद्भिः सह समासश्च न प्राह सुदुल्भोः Par. Śek. Pari. 75.

उपवन्ध a technical term used in the Prātiśākhya works in the sense of words which proceed from a rule to the following rules upto a particular stated limit; cf. उपवन्धस्तु देशाय नित्यम् T. Pr I. 59 explained by the commentator as उपवन्धे इति उपवन्धः । एतद्विभक्तिविकारमन्वयः संख्यानविषयः प्रदेशश्च उपवन्ध उच्यते । उपवन्धे यदुक्तं तदन्यत्र न भवतीति तुशादर्थः ।

उपदिमत् the fourth out of the seven stages or places in the production of articulate speech, upārtiṣu being the first stage; cf. सशब्दमुपदिमत् Tait. Pr. 23.9 explained by the commentator as : सशब्दं परश्रान्यशब्दसहितम् । यत्र प्रयुज्यमानः शब्दः परैस्वरन्व्यञ्जनाविधेकवर्जं श्रूयते तदुपदिमत्संज्ञे भवति ।

उपमन्यु (1) the famous commentator on the grammatical verses attributed to Nandikeśvara which are known by the name नन्दिकेश्वरकारिका and which form a kind of a commentary on the sūtras of Maheśvara; (2) a comparatively modern grammarian possibly belonging to the nineteenth century who is also named Upamanyu and who has written a commentary on the famous Kāśikāvṛtti by Jayāditya and Vāmana. Some believe that Upa-manyu was an ancient sage who wrote a nirukta or etymological work and whose pupil came to be known as औपमन्यव.

उपमा a well-known term in Rhetorics meaning the figure of speech 'simile' or 'comparison'. The word is often found in the Nirukta in the same sense; cf. अयात उपमाः । 'यत् अतत् तल्लक्ष्यम्' इति गार्ग्यः । Nir III.13. Generally an inferior thing is compared to another that is superior in quality.

उपमान standard of comparison. The word is found in the Pāṇinisūtra उपमानानि सामान्यवचनैः P.II.1.55 where the Kāśikāvṛtti explains it as उपमीयतेऽनेनेत्युपमानम् ।

उपमित an object which is compared. The word is found in Pāṇinisūtra उपमितं व्याप्रादिभिः P.II.1.56, where the Kāśikā paraphrases it by the word उपमेय and illustrates it by the word पुरुष in पुरुषव्याप्रा.

उपमेय an object which is to be compared. See उपमित.

उपलक्षण implication, indication; a thing indicative of another thing. The term is very frequently found in commentary works in connection with a word which signifies something beyond it which is similar to it; the indication is generally inclusive; cf. Kāśikā on भौरम्योर्हेतुभ्ये P.I.3.68 भयप्रहणमुपलक्षणार्थं किस्मयोपि तत एव । as also मन्त्रग्रहणं तु च्छन्दस उपलक्षणार्थम् Kāś. on II. 4.80. The verbal forms of लक्ष् and उपलक्ष् as also the words लक्षयितुम्, लक्षणाय, लक्षित etc. possess the sense of 'expressing the meaning not primarily, but secondarily by indication or implication'.

उपलिङ्गिन् a substituted word element; cf. शैवः इति सुखनाम । शिष्यैः वकारः नामकरणः अन्तस्थान्तरोपलिङ्गी विभाषितगुणः । शिवम् Nir. X. 17.

उपवर्ष an ancient grammarian and Mīmāṃsaka believed to have been the brother of Varṣa and the preceptor of Pāṇini. He is referred to, many times as an ancient writer of some Vṛttigranthas.

उपदेश immediate contact, as for instance, of one word with another; cf. शब्दस्य च शब्देन कौन्त्योभिसंबन्धो भवितुमर्हति अन्यदत् उपदेशात् । M.Bh. on VI. 1.72. The word उपलिङ्गि is also found in the Mahābhāṣya in the same context.

उपसंख्यान mention, generally of the type of the annexation of some words to words already given, or of some limiting conditions or additions to what has been already stated. The word is often found at the end of the statements made by the Vārttikakāra on the sūtras of Pāṇini.; cf. P.I.1.29 Vārt. 1; I.1.36 Vārt. 3 etc. The words वच्य and वक्तव्य are also similarly used. The word is found similarly used in the Mahābhāṣya also very frequently.

उपसंग्रह inclusion of something, which is not directly mentioned; cf. प्रसिद्धमुपसंग्रहार्थमेतत् Kāś. on P.I.3.48, also इतिकरणं एवंविधानामप्यन्वेषामुपसंग्रहार्थम् Kāś. on P. VII, 4.65.

उपसंयोग (1) union; cf. नामाख्यातयोस्तु कर्मोपसंयोगप्रोतका भवन्ति prepositions are signs to show that such a union with another sense has occurred in the case of the noun or verb to which they are prefixed, Nir. I.3.; (2) addition; cf. अक्रियमाणे हि संशङ्गह्ये गरीयानुपसंयोगः कर्तव्यः स्यात् M.Bh. on P. IV. 2 21. Vārt. 2.

उपसंहृत drawn close; cf. ओष्ठौ उपसंहृततरी T. Pr. II.14. The root उपसंहृ is used in the sense of finishing in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. येनेव यत्नेनेको वर्ण उच्चार्यते विनिश्चये वर्ण उपसंहृत्य तमन्यमुपा-

दाय द्वितीयः प्रयुज्यते तथा तृतीयस्तथा चतुर्थः ।
M.Bh. on P.I.4. 109 Vārt. 6.

उपसमस्त compounded together, joined together by special grammatical connection called समास; cf. न केवलः पथिशब्दः लिखां वर्तते । उपसमस्तस्तर्हि वर्तते M. Bh. on VII.1.1. Vārt. 18.

उपसर्ग preposition, prefix. The word उपसर्ग originally meant only 'a prefixed word'; cf. सोपसर्गेषु नामसु R. Pr. XVI. 38. The word became technically applied by ancient Sanskrit Grammarians to the words प्र, पर, अप, सम् etc. which are always used along with a verb or a verbal derivative or a noun showing a verbal activity; cf. उपसर्गाः क्रियायोगे P. I. 4.59. These prefixes are necessarily compounded with the following word unless the latter is a verbal form; cf. कुगतिप्रादयः P. II. 2.18. Although they are not compounded with a verbal form, these prepositions are used in juxtaposition with it; sometimes they are found detached from the verbal form even with the intervention of one word or more. The prefixes are instrumental in changing the meaning of the root. Some scholars like Śākaṭāyana hold the view that separated from the roots, prefixes do not express any specific sense as ordinary words express, while scholars like Gārgya hold the view that prefixes do express a sense e. g. प्र means beginning or प्रारम्भ; cf. न निर्वह्ना उपसर्गो अर्थाभिराहुरिति शाकटायनः । नामाख्यातयोस्तु कर्मोपसंयोगोत्तका भवन्ति । उच्चावचाः पदार्था भवन्तीति गार्ग्यः । तथा एषु पदार्थैः प्राहुरिमं तं नामाख्यातयोरर्थविकरणम् Nir. I. 8. It is doubtful, however, which view Pāṇini himself held. In his Ātmanepada topic, he has mentioned some specific roots as possessing some specific senses when preceded by some specific prefixes (see P. I. 3.20; 24, 25, 40, 41, 46, 52, 56, etc.), which implies possibly that roots themselves possess various senses, while prefixes are simply instrumental in indicating or showing them. On the other hand, in the topic of the Karma-pravacaniyas, the same words प्र, पर etc. which, however, are not termed Upasargas for the time being, although they are called Nipātas, are actually assigned some specific senses by Pāṇini. The Vārttikakāra has defined उपसर्ग as क्रियाविशेषक उपसर्गः P. I. 3.1. Vārt 7, leaving it doubtful whether the उपसर्ग or prefix possesses an independent sense which modifies the sense of the root, or without possessing any independent sense, it shows only the modified sense of the root which also is possessed by the root. Bhartṛhari, Kaiyaṭa and their followers including Nāgeśa have emphatically given the view that not only prefixes but Nipātas, which include प्र, पर and others as Upasargas as well as Karma-pravacaniyas, do not denote any sense, but they indicate it; they are in fact श्लेषक and not वाचक. For details see Nir. I. 3, Vākya-padiya II. 190, Mahābhāṣya on I. 3.1. Vārt. 7 and Pradipa and Uddyota thereon. The Ṛk Prā-tiśākhya has discussed the question in XII. 6-9 where, as explained by the commentator, it is stated that prefixes express a sense along with roots or nouns to which they are attached. It is not clear whether they convey the sense by denotation or indication, the words वाचक in stanza

6 and विशेषकृत in stanza 8 being in favour of the former and the latter views respectively; cf उपसर्ग विंशतिर्यथाचक्राः संहतराम्यामितरे निपाताः; किवावाचकमाख्यातमुपसर्गो विशेषकृत, सच्चाभिघायकं नाम निपातः वादपुस्तकः R. Pr. XII. st. 6 and 8. For the list of upasargas see R. Pr. XII. 6, T. Pr. I. 15, V. Pr. VI.24, and S. K. on P. I. 4.60.

उपसर्गघोष्यता the view or doctrine that prefixes, by themselves, do not possess any sense, but they indicate the sense of the verb or noun with which they are connected. For details see Vākyapadiya II. 165-206; also vol. VII. pages 370-372 of Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya ed. by the D. E. Society, Poona.

उपसर्गयोग connection with a prefix; joining of the prefix. Some scholars of grammar hold the view that the Upasarga is prefixed to the root and then the verbal form is arrived at by placing the desired terminations after the root, while others hold the opposite view; cf. पूर्व धातुः साधनेनोपयुज्यते पश्चादुपसर्गेण । अन्ये तु पूर्वं धातुसर्गेण युज्यते पश्चात्साधनेनेत्यशुः Stradeva's Paribhāṣāṣṣṛṭti Pari. 131, 132; cf. also vol. VII. Mahābhāṣya edited by the D. E. Society, Poona, pages 371-372.

उपस्थित a word used rather technically in the sense of the word इति which is used in the Krama and other recitals when Vedic reciters show separately the two words compounded together by uttering the compound word first, then the word इति and then the two compound words, e.g. सुश्लोक इ इति सु-श्लोक । विभावसो इति विभा-वसो. The Kāśikā defines the word उपस्थित as समुदायादवशिष्ट्य पदे येन स्वल्पे अवस्थाप्यते तद् उपस्थितम् । इतिशब्दः । Kāś. on VI.1.129. The Ṛk-Prāiśākhya explains the word rather differently, but in the same context. The word after which इति is placed is called upasthita e.g. the word बाहु in बाहु इति or विभावसो in विभावसो इति as contrasted with स्थित i. e. the word without इति e.g. बाहु or विभावसो, as also contrasted with स्थितोपस्थित i. e. the whole word विभावसो इति विभाऽवसो which is also called संहित or मिलित; (2) occurring, present; cf. कार्यकालं संशोपरिभाषम् । यत्र कार्यं तत्रोपस्थितं द्रष्टव्यम् । Pār. अकन्त्र a work consisting of five chap-ters containing in all 287 sūtras. It covers the same topics as the Prā-tiśākhyā works and is looked upon as one of the Prātiśākhyā works of the Sāma Veda. Its authorship is attributed to Śākaṭāyana according to Nāgeśa, while अदिशाज is held as its author by some, and काल्यायन by others. It bears a remarkable similarity to Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī especially in topics concerning coalescence and changes of स् and न् to ष् and ण् respectively. It cannot be definitely said whether it preceded or followed Pāṇini's work.

ऋक्संहिताशास्त्र one of the Prātisākhya works belonging to the Āśvalāyana Śākhā of the Ṛg Veda. The work available at present, appears to be not a very old one, possibly written a century or so after Pāṇini's time. It is possible that the work, which is available, is based upon a few ancient Prātisākhya works which are lost. Its authorship is attributed to Śaunaka. The work is a metrical one and consists of three books or Adhyāyas, each Adhyāya being made up of six Paṭalas or chapters. It is written, just as the other Prātisākhya works, with a view to give directions for the proper recitation of the Veda. It has got a scholarly commentary written by Uvaṭa and another one by Kumāra who is also called Viṣṇumitra. See आश्वलायनप्रतिशास्त्र.

आनुपूर्व्येण T. Pr. XXII. 13. According to Ṛk. Tantra it consists of two mātrās.

ऋदित् possessed of the mute indicatory letter ऋ, signifying in the Grammar of Pāṇini the prevention of the shortening of the long vowel in the reduplicated syllable of the Causal Aorist form of roots which are marked with it; e. g. अशशास्तु अववाचत्, अययाचत् etc. cf. नास्त्वोपिशास्त्रादिताम् P. VII.4.2.

ऋदयादि a class of words headed by the word ऋदय to which the taddhita affix क is added in the four senses prescribed in the rules IV. 2.67-70; e. g. ऋदयकः, न्यग्रोधकः etc. cf. P. IV. 2.80.

ऋविच्छन्दस् the metre of the Vedic seers. The seven metres—गायत्री, उष्णिक्, अनुष्टुप्, वृहती, पङ्क्ति, त्रिष्टुप् and जगती consisting respectively of 24, 28, 32, 36, 40, 44 and 48 syllables are named ऋविच्छन्दस् as contrasted with the metres द्वैद, प्राजापत्य and आसुर, which, when combined together, make the metres of the Vedic seers. For details see R. Pr. XVI. 1.5.

ए diphthong vowel ए made up of अ and इ, and hence having कण्ठतालुस्थान as its place of origin. It has no short form according to Pāṇini. In cases where a short vowel as a substitute is prescribed for it in grammar, the vowel इ is looked upon as its short form. Patañjali in his Mahābhāṣya has observed that followers of the Sātyamugri and Rāṇāyaniya branches of the Sāmaveda have short ए (ँ) in their Sāmaveda recital and has given सुजाते अश्वहृते, अश्वयौ अद्विभिः सुतम् as illustrations; cf. M. Bh. on I. 1.48; as also the article on.

the singular number in Pāṇini's grammar applied to noun-bases (प्राति- पदिक) and roots when the sense of the singular number is to be conveyed; the singular sense can be of the form of an individual or collection or genus. The word एकवचन in the technical sense of singular number is found used in the Prātiśākhya and Nirukta also.

एकवत्त्व or एकवद्भाव use or treatment of the plural sense as if it is singu-to an affix made up of one single letter; cf. अपृक्त एकात् प्रत्ययः P.I.2.41.

एकवाक्य an expression giving one idea, either a single or a composite one. A positive statement and its negation, so also, a general rule and its exception are looked upon as making a single sentence on account of their mutual expectancy even though they be sometimes detached from each other; cf.

विदेशश्चमपि सदेकवाक्यं भवति M. Bh. on III. 4. 67; cf. also निषेधवाक्यानामपि निषेधविशेषाकारुण्यत्वाद्भिष्येकवाक्यतयैव अन्ययः । तत्रैकवाक्यता पर्युदासन्वयेन । संज्ञाशास्त्रयुक्त्युक्त्याकारुण्ये न पृथग्वाक्यार्थबोधः । Par. Śek. on Pari. 3. Such sentences are, in fact, two sentences, but, to avoid the fault of गौरव, caused by वाक्यभेद, grammarians hold them to be composite single sentences.

एकविभक्ति a pāda having the same case in the various dissolutions of the compound word; e. g. the word कौशाम्बी in the compound word निष्कौशाभ्यः, which stands only in the ablative case कौशाम्ब्याः, although the word निष्कान्त, which stands for the word निष्, could be used in many cases. The word नियतविभक्तिक is also used in the same sense.

एकवृत्ति single vṛtti or gloss on the Vedic as well as classical portions of grammar. Puruṣottamadeva has used this term in his Bhāṣāvṛtti to contrast his Vṛtti (माषवृत्ति) with the Kāśikāvṛtti and the Bhāṣāvṛtti which deal with both the portions; cf. अनापि इत्येकवृत्तानुपयुक्तम् Bhāṣāvṛtti on I. 1. 16, cf. also Bhāṣāvṛtti on III. 4. 99, IV. 3.22 and VI.3.20. एकवृत्ति is possibly used by Puruṣottamadeva in the sense of मुख्यवृत्ति or साधारणवृत्ति i. e. the common chief gloss on both the portions.

एकशब्द a word having one sense only, as opposed to अनेकशब्द many words having the same sense or synonyms which are given in निषण्ड as also in अमरकोष; cf. अथ यान्यनेकार्थानि एकशब्दानि तान्यतोऽनुक्रान्तिव्यामः Nir. IV.1.

एकशेष a kind of composite formation in which only one of the two or more words compounded together subsists, the others being elided; cf. एकः शिष्यते इतरं निवर्तन्ते वृक्षश्च वृक्षश्च वृक्षौ । Kāśikā on सहापानामेकशेष एक-

विभक्तौ P. I.2.64; cf. also सहापसमुदायादि विभक्तिर्या विधीयते । एकस्तत्रार्थवान् सिद्धः समुदायस्य वाचकः ॥ Bhāṣāvṛtti on P. I. 2.64. There is a dictum of grammarians that every individual object requires a separate expression to convey its presence. Hence, when there is a dual sense, the word has to be repeated, as also the word has to be multiplied when there is a plural sense. In current spoken language, however, in such cases the word is used only once. To justify this single utterance for conveying the sense of plurality, Pāṇini has laid down a general rule सहापानामेकशेष एकविभक्तौ and many other similar rules to cover cases of plurality not of one and the same object, but plurality caused by many objects, such as plurality caused by ideas going in pairs or relations such as parents, brothers and sisters, grand-father and grand-son, male and female. For example, see the words वृक्षश्च वृक्षश्च पृथौ; similarly वृक्षः for many trees, पितरौ for माता च पिता च; देवौ for देवी च देवश्च; cf. also the words शयुरी, भ्रातरौ, गार्ग्यौ (for गार्ग्य and गार्ग्याणि), आवाम् (for त्वं च अहं च), यौ (for स च यश्च) and गावः fem. अजाः fem. अजाः masc. irrespective of the individuals being some males and some females. Pāṇini has devoted 10 Sūtras to this topic of Ekaśeṣa. The Daiva grammar has completely ignored this topic. Patañjali has very critically and exhaustively discussed this topic. Some critics hold that the topic of एकशेष did not exist in the original Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini but it was interpolated later on, and adduce the long discussion in the Mahābhāṣya especially the Pūrvapakṣa therein, in support of their argument. Whatever the case be, the Vārttikakāra has commented upon it at length; hence, the addition must have been made immediately after Pāṇini, if at all there was any. For details see Mahābhāṣya on I.1.64 to 73 as also, Introduction p. 166-167, Vol.7 of the Mahābhāṣya published by the D. E. Society, Poona.

एकशेषनिर्देश statement by subsistence of one word out of many. The phrase is very often used in the Mahābhāṣya where the omission of an individual thing is explained by saying that the expression used is a composite one including the omitted thing along with the thing already expressed; cf. एकशेषनिर्देशो-
यम् । सर्वोदीनं च सर्वोदीनि च सर्वोदीनि ।
M. Bh. on I. 1. 27, on I. 1. 59, I, 2.39, as also on I.3.1 Vārt. 5, I.4. 101 Vārt. 3, II. 1.1. Vārt. 19 etc.

एकश्रुति that which has got the same accent or tone; utterance in the same tone; monotone. The word is applied to the utterance of the vocative noun or phrase calling a man from a distance, as also to that of the vowels or syllables following a Svarita vowel in the Saṁhitā i.e. the continuous utterance of Vedic sentences; cf. एकश्रुति दूरसंबुद्धौ and the foll. P. I.2,33-40 and the Mahābhāṣya thereon. In his discussion on I. 2.33 Patañjali has given three alternative views about the accent of Ekaśruti syllables: (a) they possess an accent between the उदात्त (acute) and अनुदात्त (grave), (b) they are in the same accent as is possessed by the preceding vowel, (c) Ekaśruti is looked upon as the seventh of the seven accents; cf. सैवा ज्ञापकाभ्यामुदात्तानुदात्तयोर्मध्येकश्रुतिः स्तरालं द्वियते ।...सत स्वर भवन्ति । उदात्तः, उदात्तरः, अनुदात्तः, अनुदात्तरः, स्वरितः स्वरिते य उदात्तः सौन्येन विशिष्टः, एकश्रुतिः सतमः । M. Bh. on P. I. 2.33.

एकस्वर possessed of one vowel, monosyllabic; a term used by Hemacandra in his grammar for the term एकाच् of Pāṇini; cf. आर्योश्च एकस्वरे Hem. IV.1.2. which means the same as एकाचो द्वे प्रथमस्य P. VI.1.1.

एकाक्षर consisting of one single syllable; e.g. स्व, भू, वाच् etc.; cf. एकाक्षर-
कृतौ जतेः सतम्यो च न तौ स्मृती M. Bh. on P. V.2.115, as also on VI.1.168, VI.4.161.

एकादेश a single substitute in the place of two original units; e.g. ए in the place of अ and इ, or ओ in the place of अ and उ. The ādesas or substitutes named पूर्वस्व and परस्व are looked upon as ekādesas in Pāṇini's grammar although instead of them, the omission of the latter and former vowels respectively, is prescribed in some Prātisākhya works. गुण and वृद्धि are sometimes single substitutes for single originals, while they are sometimes ekādesas for two original vowels e.g. तवेदम्, प्रह्वीदनः, उपैति, प्राच्छति, गाम्, सीमन्तः etc.; see P. VI.1.87 to 111, cf. also A. Pr. II 3.6.

एकादेशस्वर an accent prescribed for the single substitute, as, for instance, by rules like उदात्तस्वरितयोश्चः स्वरितो-नुदात्तस्य and the following rules P. VI. 2.4, 5 and 6.

एकान्त part, portion. Augments or Āgamas in the Vyākaraṇa Śāstra are looked upon as forming a part of the word to which they are attached; cf. अथ ब्रह्मानुबन्ध आसञ्च्यते, किं स तस्य एकान्तो भवति आहोऽपिदनेकान्तः । एकान्तस्तत्रैतमलभ्येः । M. Bh. on I. 3.9, Vārt. 9; cf. also एकान्ताः Par. Śek. Pari. 5.

एकान्तर separated or intervened by one single thing, a letter or a word; e. g. अं पचसि देवदत्त, where देवदत्त follows अम् with one word पचसि intervening; cf. आम एकान्तरमाम-नितमनन्तिके P.VIII. 1. 55.

एकार the letter ए; looked upon as a diphthong (संव्यक्षर) made up of the letters अ and इ. The combination of the two constituent parts is so complete as cannot allow any of the two parts to be independently working for saṁdhi or any other operation with its adjoining letter; cf. नाम्यपचुक्तस्य अवश्ये तद्विधियथा द्रव्येषु M. Bh. Siva Sūtra 3 Vārt. 9.

ऐन्द्र name of an ancient school of grammar and of the treatise also, belonging to that school, believed to have been written under instructions of Indra. The work is not available. Patañjali mentions that Bṛhaspati instructed Indra for one thousand celestial years and still did not finish his 'instructions in words'; (M. Bh. 1. 1. 1). The Taittiriya Saṁhitā mentions the same. Pāṇini has referred to some ancient grammarians of the East by the word प्राचाम् without mentioning their names, and scholars like Burnell think that the grammar assigned to Indra is to be referred to by the word प्राचाम्. The Bṛhat-kathāmañjari remarks that Pāṇini's grammar threw into the background the Aindra Grammar. Some scholars believe that Kālāpa grammar which is available today is based upon Aindra, just as Cūndra is based upon Pāṇini's grammar. References to Aindra Grammar are found in the commentary on the Sārasvata Vyākaraṇa, in the Kavikalpadruma of Bopadeva as also in the commentary upon the Mahābhārata by Devabodha. Quotations, although very few, are given by some writers from the work. All these facts prove that there was an ancient pre-Pāṇinian treatise on Grammar assigned to इन्द्र which was called Aindra-Vyākaraṇa. For details see Dr. Burnell's 'Aindra School of Sanskrit Grammars' as also Vol. VII pages 124-126 of Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya, edited by the D. E. Society, Poona.

ओदित् marked with the indicatory letter ओ; roots marked with the mute letter ओ have the Nigdhā affix त or तवत् changed to न or नवत्; e. g. लभः, लभवान्; दीनः, दीनवान् etc. cf. ओदितश्च P. VIII. 2. 45; cf. also स्वादय ओदितः इत्युक्तम् । सूनः सूनवान्; दूनः दूनवान् Si. Kau. on P. VIII. 2. 45.

breath from the mouth; sound or utterance caused by breath escaping from the mouth; breathing. The Visarjanīya, just like the anusvāra, is incapable of being independently uttered. Hence, it is written for convenience as अः although its form for writing purposes is only two dots after the vowel preceding it; cf. अः इति विसर्जनीयः । अकार इह उच्चारणार्थः इति कुमारी-स्तनयुगाकृतिवर्णो विसर्जनीयसंज्ञो भवति । Kāt. ⊙ (उपध्मानीय)

⊙ उपध्मानीय lit. blowing; a term applied to the visarga when followed by the consonant प् or फ्. The upadhmaniya is looked upon as a letter or phonetic element, which is always connected with the preceding vowel. As the upadhmaniya is an optional substitute for the visarga before the letter प् or फ्, when, in writing, it is to be shown instead of the visarga, it is shown as ⊙, or as ∞, or even as × just as the Jihvāmūliya; cf. उपध्मायेत शब्दायेत इति, उप समीपे ध्मायेत शब्दायेत इति वा com. on Kāt. I.; cf. also कपाभ्यां प्रागर्धविसर्गसदृशौ जिह्वामूलीयोपध्मानीयौः S.K. on P.VIII.2.1.

नासिक्य, a nasal letter or utterance included among the अयोगवाह letters analogous to anusvāra and yama letters. It is mentioned in the Vājasaneyi Prātisākhya as हुँ इति नासिक्यः on which Uvvaṭa makes the remark अयमृक्शाखायां अस्मिद्धः. The Rk-Prātisākhya mentions नासिक्य, यम and अनुस्वार as नासिक्य or nasal letters, while Uvvaṭa defines नासिक्य as a letter produced only by the nose; cf. केवलनासिक्या उच्चार्यमाणो वर्णो नासिक्यः Uvvaṭa on R. Pr. I. 20. The Taittirīya Prātisākhya calls the letter ह् as nāsikya when it is followed by the consonant न् or प् or म् and gives अहाम्, अपराह् and अश्व as instances. The Pāṇiniya Śikṣā does not mention नासिक्य as a letter. The Mahābhāṣya mentions नासिक्य as one of the six ayogavāha letters; cf. के पुनरयो-गवाहाः । विसर्जनीयलिङ्गामुलीयोपध्मानोऽनु-स्वारानुनासिक्ययमाः M. Bh. on Śiva-sūtra 5 Vārt. 5, where some manuscripts read नासिक्य for अनुना-सिक्य while in some other manuscripts there is neither the word अनुनासिक्य nor नासिक्य. It is likely that the anunāsika-colouring given to the vowel preceding the conso- nant च् substituted for the conso- nants म्, न् and others by P. VIII. 3.2. to 12, was looked upon as a separate phonetic unit and called नासिक्य as for instance in ईरुक्ता, मा हि र्हीः, संदिद्याधि etc.

यम, a letter called यम which is uttered partly through the nose. A class consonant excepting the fifth, when followed by the fifth viz. ह्, ब्, प्, न् or म्, gets doubled in the Vedic recital, when the second of the doubled consonant which is coloured by the follow- ing nasal consonant is called यम. This यम letter is not independent. It necessarily depends upon the following nasal consonant and hence it is called अयोगवाह. The nasalization is shown in script as ँ followed by the consonant; e. g. पलिङ्ङी, अग्ङी, etc. The pro- nunciation of this yama or twin letter is seen in the Vedic recital only; cf. पलिङ्ङी ... कस्यमथयः पे तत्सदशा एव यमाः S. produces the fruit or result of an action without depending on any other instrument; cf. स्वतन्त्रः कर्ता P.

I. 4.54, explained as अनुणीभूतो यः
द्विवाप्रसिद्धौ स्वातन्त्र्येण विप्रयत्ने तत्कारकं कर्तृ- संज्ञं भवति in the Kāśikā on P. I.
4. 54. This agent, or rather, the word standing for the agent, is put in the nominative case in the active voice (cf. P. I.4.54), in the instrumental case in the passive voice (cf. P. II. 3.18), and in the genitive case when it is connected with a noun of action or verbal derivative noun, (cf. P. II. 3.65).

voice where the object functions as the subject; e. g. यक् in दृक्ते found functioning in the subject; cf.

यत्र क्रियाकृतविशेषदर्शनं कर्तरी Kaiyaṭa on P. III. 1. 87 Vārt. 3. Such roots, although transitive do not have any Karmaṅkārī construction by the rule कर्मवत्कर्मणा तुल्यक्रियः P. III.
1.87 as e.g. ग्रामं गच्छति देवदत्तः has no
कर्मकर्तरी construction; cf. कर्मस्थभाव-कानां कर्मस्थक्रियाणां वा कर्ता कर्मवद् भवतीति
वक्तव्यम् । कर्तृस्थभावकानां कर्तृस्थक्रियाणां वा
कर्ता कर्मवन्मा भूदिति M. Bh. on III.
1.87. Vārt. 3.

कर्तृस्थभावक (a root) whose action or happening is noticed functioning in the subject; e.g. the root स्मृ. cf.
कर्तृस्थभावकश्चायं (स्मरतिः) M. Bh. on
I. 3.67, कर्तृस्थभावकश्च शेषिः (शीघ्रातुः)
M. Bh. on V. 3.55.

कर्त्रभिप्राय meant for the agent of the action. The word is used in connection with the fruit or result of an action; when the result is for the agent, roots having both the Padas get the Ātmanepada terminations; cf. स्वहितितः कर्त्रभिप्राये क्रियाफले P. I. 3.72.

कर्मकर्तृ object of the transitive verb which functions as the subject when there is a marked facility of action; e.g. ओदन is karmakartari-object, functioning as subject, in पच्यते ओदनः स्वयमेव. The word कर्मकर्तृ is used also for the कर्मकर्तरि प्रयोग where the object, on which the verb-activity is found, is turned into a subject and the verb which is transitive is turned into intransitive as a result.

primarily to achieve. The main feature of कर्मन् is that it is put in the accusative case; cf. कर्तुरेप्सिततमे कर्म, कर्मणि द्वितीया; P. I. 4.49; II.3.2. Pāpini has made कर्म a technical term and called all such words 'karman' as are connected with a verbal activity and used in the accusative case; cf. कर्तुरेप्सिततमे कर्म; तथायुक्तं चानोप्सितम्; अकथितं च and गतिवृद्धिप्रत्ययसानाथंशब्दकर्मकर्मकाणामणि कर्ता स यो P.I.4.49-52; cf. also यत् क्रियते तत् कर्म Kāt. II.4.13, कर्त्राव्यम् Jain I. 2. 120 and कर्तुर्भ्याव्यं कर्म Hem. II. 2. 3. Sometimes a kāraka, related to the activity (क्रिया) as sampradāna, apādāna or adhikaraṇa is also treated as karma, if it is not meant or desired as apādāna, sampradāna etc. It is termed अकथितकर्म in such cases; cf. अपादानादिविशेषकथाभिर्द्विवक्षितमकथितम् Kāś. on I.4.51. See the word अकथित above. Karman or object is to be achieved by an activity or क्रिया; it is always syntactically connected with a verb or a verbal derivative. When connected with verbs or verbal derivatives indeclinables or words ending with the affixes उक्त, क्त, वक्तव्य, क्तृन्, etc, it is put in the accusative case. It is put in the genitive case when it is connected with affixes other than those mentioned above; cf. P. II. 3.65, 69. When, however, the karman is expressed (अभिहित) by a verbal termination (लिङ्), or a verbal noun termination (क्तृन्), or a noun-affix (तद्धित), or a compound, it is put in the nominative case. e.g. कटः क्रियते, कटः कृतः, घाल्यः, प्रासादकः घामः etc. It is called अभिहित in such cases; cf. P. II. 3.1. See the word अनभिहित above. The object or Karman which is ईप्सिततम is described to be of three kinds with reference to the way in which it is obtained from the activity. It is called विकार्य when a transformation or a change is noticed in the object as a result of the verbal activity, e. g. काष्ठानि भस्मीकरोति, घटं भिनासि etc. It is called प्राप्य when no change is seen to result from the action, the object only coming into contact with the subject, e. g. ग्रामं गच्छति, आदित्यं पश्यति etc. It is called निर्वर्त्य when the object is brought into being under a specific name; e.g. घटं करोति, ओदनं पचति; cf. निर्वर्त्यं च विकार्यं च प्राप्यं चति त्रिधा मतम् । तद्विस्तृतमतम् Padamañjari on I. 4. 49; cf. also Vākyapadiya III.7.45 as also Nyāsa on 1.4.49. The object which is not ईक्षिततम is also subdivided into four kinds e. g. (a) अनौप्सित (ग्रामं गच्छन्) व्याघ्रं पश्यति, (b) औदासीन्येन प्राप्य or इतरत् or अनुभव्य e. g. (ग्रामं गच्छन्) वृक्षमूलानि उपसर्पति, (c) अनाख्यात or अकथित e. g. वलिं in वलिं याचते वसुधां (d) अन्यपूर्वक e. g. अक्षान् दीक्षति, ग्राममभिमनिविशते; cf. Padamañjari on I.4.49. The commentator Abhayanandin on Jainendra Vyākaraṇa mentions seven kinds प्राप्य, विषयभूत, निर्वर्त्य, विक्रियात्मक, ईक्षित, अनौप्सित and इतरत्, defining कर्म as कर्ता क्रियया यद् आप्यं तत् कारकं कर्म; cf. कर्ताप्यम् Jain. Vy. I.2.120 and com. thereon. जैनन्द्रमधीते is given therein as an instance of विषयभूत. (2) The word कर्मन् is also used in the sense of क्रिया or verbal activity; cf. उदोन्पूर्वकर्मणि P. I. 3.24; आदिकर्मणि क्तः कर्तारि च P. III.4.71, कर्तारि कर्मव्यतिहारे P. I.3.14. (3) It is also used in the sense of activity in general, as for instance, the sense of a word; e. g. नामाख्यातयोस्तु कर्मापसंयोग-श्लोका भवन्ति Nir. I. 3.4, where Dur-gācārya explains karman as 'sense' (अर्थ).

कर्मप्रवचनीय a technical term used in connection with a preposition which showed a verbal activity formerly, although for the present time it does not show it; the word is used as a technical term in grammar in connection with prefixes or उपसर्गs which are not used along with a root, but without it; cf. कर्म प्रोक्षतयन्तः कर्मप्रवचनीयाः इति M. Bh. on P. I. 4.83; e. g. शाकल्यस्य संहितामनु प्रावर्षत, अन्वर्षुनं योद्धारः, आ कुमारं यशः पाणिनः; cf. Kāś. on P. I.4.83 to 98.

कर्मवद्भाव the activity of the agent or kartā of an action represented as object or karman of that very action, for the sake of grammatical operations; e. g. भिद्यते काष्ठं स्वयमेव; कारिष्यते कटः स्वयमेव. To show facility of a verbal activity on the object, when the agent or kartā is dispensed with, and the object is looked upon as the agent, and used also as an agent, the verbal terminations ति, तः etc. are not applied in the sense of an agent, but they are applied in the sense of an object; consequently the sign of the voice is not अ (शप्), but च (यक्) and the verbal terminations are त्, आताम् etc. (तट्) instead of ति, त्म् etc. In popular language the use of an expression of this type is called Karmakartari-Prayoga. For details see M. Bh. on कर्मवत्कर्मणा तुल्यक्रियः P. III. 1.87. Only such roots as are कर्मस्यक्रियक or कर्मस्यभावक i. e. roots whose verbal activity is noticed in the object and not in the subject can have this Karmakartari-Prayoga.

कर्मव्यतिहार exchange of verbal activity; reciprocity of action; कर्मव्यतिहार means क्रियाव्यतिहार or क्रियाविनिमय; cf. कर्तारि कर्मव्यतिहारे P. I. 3.14.; also कर्मव्यतिहारे गच् स्त्रियाम् । व्यावक्रोशी, व्वात्सुक्षी Kāś. on P. III. 3.43.

The roots having their agents characterized by a reciprocity of action take the Ātmanepada terminations; cf. P. I. 3.14.

कर्मसाधन prescribed in the sense of an object; a term used in the Mahābhāṣya in the sense of affixes used in the sense of 'object' as contrasted with कर्तृसाधन or भावसाधन; e. g. the affix फि in the word विधि, explained as विधीयते इति विधिः or in the word भाव explained as भाव्यते यः स भावः; cf. क्रिया चैव हि भाव्यते, स्वभावसिद्धं तु द्रव्यम् M.Bh. on P. I. 3.1. See similarly the words समाहार M.Bh. on II. 1.51 and उपधि M.Bh. on V. 1.13.

कर्मस्थक्रिय (roots) having their verbal activity situated in the object; e. g. the root अत्र + रञ् in अवरुणदि गाम् or the root कु in करोति कटम्; cf. कर्मस्थभावकानां कर्मस्थक्रियाणां च P. III. 1.87 Vārt. 3.

कर्मस्थभावक (roots) having their verbal action or happening noticed in the object; e. g. the root आम् and शी in बालमासयति शाययति where the function of the root bears effect in the object boy and not in the movements of the object as in the sentence बालमवरुणदि. See कर्मस्थक्रिय above as also M.Bh. on III. 1.87 and Kaiyaṭa on the same.

कर्मादि lit. karman and others; a term often used in the Mahābhāṣya for kārakas or words connected with a verbal activity which have the object or karmakāraka mentioned first; सुपां कर्मादयोऽर्थार्थाः सख्या चैव तथा लिटाम् M.Bh. on I. 4.21.

कर्मापदिष्ट operations prescribed specifically for objects i. e. prescribed in the case of objects which are described to be functioning as the subject to show facility of the verbal action; e. g. the vikaraṇa

यक् or the affix णिण्; cf. कर्मापदिष्टा विधयः कर्मस्थभावकानां कर्मस्थक्रियाणां वा भवन्ति । कर्तृस्थभावकश्च दीपादयः M.Bh. on I.1.44. कर्षिणी A kind of svarabhakti. See करविणी.

कर्षण extension; protraction, defined as kālaviprakaṣa by commentators; a peculiarity in the recital as noticed in the pronunciation of इ when followed by च्, or इ when followed by ज् e. g. च्च्न; ष्च्जत. cf. Nār. Śik. I.7.19.

कल a fault of pronunciation consequent upon directing the tongue to a place in the mouth which is not the proper one, for the utterance of a vowel; a vowel so pronounced; cf. संवृतः कळो ष्मातः... रोमश्च इति । cf. also निवृत्तकलादिकामवर्णस्य प्रत्यापत्तिं यस्यामि M.Bh. Āhnika 1.

काण्डमायन name of an ancient writer of a Prātiśākhya work who held that Visarga before the consonant स् is dropped only when स् is followed by a surd consonant; cf. Tai.Pr. IX. 1.

कातन्त्र name of an important small treatise on grammar which appears like a systematic abridgment of the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini. It ignores many unimportant rules of Pāṇini, adjusts many, and altogether omits the Vedic portion and the accent chapter of Pāṇini. It lays down the Sūtras in an order different from that of Pāṇini dividing the work into four adhyāyas dealing with technical terms, saṁdhi rules, declension, syntax, compounds noun-affixes (taddhita affixes) conjugation, voice, and verbal derivatives in an order. The total number of rules is 1412 supplemented by many subordinate rules or Vārttikas. The treatise is believed to have been written by Śarvavarman, called Sarvavarman or Śarva or Sarva, who is said to have lived in the reign of the Sātavāhana kings. The belief that Pāṇini refers to a work of Kalāpin in his rules IV. 3.103 and IV. 3.48 and that Patañjali's words कालपम् and माहावार्तिकम् support it, has not much strength. The work was very popular especially among those who wanted to study spoken Sanskrit with ease and attained for several years a very prominent place among text-books on grammar especially in Behar, Bengal and Gujarat. It has got a large number of glosses and commentary works, many of which are in a manuscript form at present. Its last chapter (Caturtha-Adhyāya) is ascribed to Vararuci. As the arrangement of topics is entirely different from Pāṇini's order, inspite of considerable resemblance of Sūtras and their wording, it is probable that the work was based on Pāṇini but composed on the models of ancient grammarians viz. Indra, Śakāṭāyana and others whose works, although not available now, were available to the author. The grammar Kātantra is also called Kālāpa. A comparison of the Kātantra Sūtras and the Kālāpa Sūtras shows that the one is a different version of the other. The Kātantra Grammar is also called Kaumāra as it is said that the original instructions for the grammar were received by the author from Kumāra or Kārttikeya. For details see Vol. VII Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya published by the D. E. Society, Poona, page 375.

No name of the author is found in the Poona manuscript. The India Office Library copy has given Durgasiṁha as the author's name; but it is doubtful whether Durgasiṁha was the author of it. See परिभाषासंग्रह ed. by B. O. R. I. Poona.

कात्यायन the well-known author of the Vārttikas on the sūtras of Pāṇini. He is also believed to be the author of the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya and many sūtra works named after him. He is believed to be a resident of South India on the strength of the remark प्रियतद्विता दक्षिणात्याः made by Patañjali in connection with the statement 'यथा लौकिकवैदिकेषु' which is looked upon as Kātyāyana's Vārttika. Some scholars say that Vararuci was also another name given to him, in which case the Vārttikakāra Vararuci Kātyāyana has to be looked upon as different from the subsequent writer named Vararuci to whom some works on Prakrit and Kātantra grammar are ascribed. For details see Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. pages 193-223 published by the D. E. Society, Poona. See also वार्तिकघाट below.

कानच् affix आन forming perfect participles which are mostly seen in Vedic Literature. The affix कानच् is technically a substitute for the लिट् affix. Nouns ending in कानच् govern the accusative case of the nouns connected with them; e.g. सोमं सुशुवाणः; cf. P. III. 3.106 and P. II. 3.69.

desired; liberty of applying any of the rules of grammar that present themselves; cf. तत्र कामचारो गृह्यमाणेन वा विभक्तिं विद्वन्वितुं अद्देन वा M. Bh. on P. I.1.27 Vārt. 6.

कार an affix, given in the Prātiśākhya works and, by Kātyāyana also in his Vārttika, which is added to a letter or a phonetic element for convenience of mention; e.g. इकारः, उकारः; cf. णः कारितरो षणांश्वा; षणकारो निर्देशको Tai. Pra. I. 16; XXII.4; cf. also V. Pr. 1.37. It is also applied to syllables or words in a similar way to indicate the phonetic element of the word as apart from the sense of the word; e. g. यत् एवकारस्ततो-न्यत्रावधारणम् Vyāk. Paribhāṣā; cf. also the words चकारः, हिकारः (2) additional purpose served by a word such as an adhiḥkāra word; cf. अधिकः कारः । पूर्वप्रतिषेधा न षडितव्या भवन्ति M. Bh. on P. I. 3.11.

I. 4.23; cf. also कारक इति संज्ञानिर्देशः । शब्दं निर्वर्तकं कारकसंज्ञं भवति । M. Bh. on P. I. 4.23. The word 'kāraḥ' in short, means 'the capacity in which a thing becomes instrumental in bringing about an action'. This capacity is looked upon as the sense of the case-affixes which express it. There are six kārakas given in all grammar treatises. अपदान, संप्रदान, अधिकरण, करण, कर्मन् and कर्तु to express which the case affixes or Vibhaktis पञ्चमी, चतुर्थी, तृतीया, द्वितीया and प्रथमा are respectively used which, hence, are called Kāra-kavibhaktis as contrasted with Upapadavibhaktis, which show a relation between two substantives and hence are looked upon as weaker than the Kāra-kavibhaktis; cf. उपपदविभक्तेः कारकविभक्तिर्वर्णनीयसी Pari. Sek. Pari.94. The topic explaining Kāra-kavibhaktis is looked upon as a very important and difficult chapter in treatises of grammar and there are several small compendiums written by scholars dealing with kārakas only. For the topic of Kārakas see P. I. 4.23 to 55, Kat. II. 4.8-42, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. pp.262-264 published by the D. E. Society, Poona.

Hence the word मुनित्रयं has to be used in the sentence मुनित्रयं नमस्कृत्य and not the word मुनित्रयाय cf. उपपदविभक्तैः कारकविभक्ति-वलीयक्षी Pari. Śek. Pari. 94.

काशिका (1) name given to the reputed gloss (वृत्ति) on the Sūtras of Pāṇini written by the joint authors Jayāditya and Vāmana in the 7th century A.D. Nothing definitely can be said as to which portion was written by Jayāditya and which by Vāmana, or the whole work was jointly written. Some scholars believe that the work was called Kāśikā as it was written in the city of Kāśi and that the gloss on the first five Adhyāyas was written by Jayāditya and that on the last three by Vāmana. Although it is written in a scholarly way, the work forms an excellent help to beginners to understand the sense of the pithy Sūtras of Pāṇini. The work has not only deserved but obtained and maintained a very prominent position among students and scholars of Pāṇini's grammar in spite of other works like the Bhāṣāvṛtti, the Prakriyā Kaumudī, the Siddhānta Kaumudī and others written by equally learned scholars. Its wording is based almost on the Mahābhāṣya which it has followed, avoiding, of course, the scholarly disquisitions occurring here and there in the Mahābhāṣya. It appears that many commentary works were written on it, the well-known among them being the Kāśikāvivarāṇapañjikā or Nyāsa written by Jinendrabuddhi and the Padamañjarī by Haradatta. For details see Vyākaraṇamahābhāṣya Vol. VII pp 286-87 published by the D. E.

Literature added to roots ending in आ, the root क, and the roots गम्, हन् and जन्; e. g. पपिः सोमं, जगृहिः, जग्मिः etc., cf. P. III. 2.171; (2) a term used in the Jainendra Vyākaraṇa for the term सेवुद्धि.

किञ्च a form derived from the pronoun किम्; cf. किमो वृत्तं किञ्चत् । किञ्च-ग्रहणेन तद्विभक्त्यन्तं प्रतीयाद्भूतरक्तमी च । Kās. on P. VIII 1.48.

I.1.5; (2) considered or looked upon as marked with mute indicatory क् for preventing guṇa; cf. असंयोगाद्धि क्त्वि and the following P. I. 2.5 etc. The affixes of the first type are for instance वत्, क्वा, क्तिन् and others. The affixes of the second type are given mainly in the second pāda of the first Adhyāya by Pāṇini. Besides the prevention of guṇa and vṛddhi, affixes marked with क् or affixes called किञ्, cause Saṁprasāraṇa (see P. VI. 1.15,16), elision of the penultimate न् (P. VI.4.24), elision of the penultimate vowel (P. VI. 4.98,100), lengthening of the vowel (VI. 4.15), substitution of ऊ (VI. 4.19,21), elision of the final nasal (VI. 4.37), substitution of आ (VI.4.42). The taddhita affixes which are marked with mute क् cause the Vṛddhi substitute for the first vowel in the word to which they are added.

किञ्करण marking with the mute letter क्, or looking upon as marked with mute क् for purposes mentioned above; (see क्त्वि above). The word is often used in the Mahābhāṣya; see M.Bh. on I. 1. 3, 5, 46; I. 2. 5. etc.

किञ् कृत् affix इ prescribed along with कि. See कि above. The affix किञ् causes the acute accent on the first vowel of the word ending with it, while the affix कि (इ) has itself the acute accent on its vowel इ.

किरादि a class of roots headed by the root कृ, viz. the five roots कृ, रु, इ, धृ and प्रचृ after which the desiderative sign, i.e. the affix सन्, gets the augment इ (इट्); e. g. चिकिरिषि, विप्रचिषति; cf. Kās. on P.VII.2.75.

जाति genus; class; universal; the notion of generality which is present in the several individual objects of the same kind. The biggest or widest notion of the universal or genus is

In the Mahābhāṣya a learned discussion is held regarding whether जाति is the denotation or भक्ति is the denotation. The word जाति is defined in the Mahābhāṣya as follows:— आकृतिप्रवृत्त्या जातिर्लिङ्गानां च न सर्वमाह् । सहृदास्यातनिर्गोह्या गोत्रे च चरैः सह ॥ अपर आह । प्रादुर्भोयविनाशाभ्यां सत्वस्व युगपदगुणैः । असर्व-लिङ्गां बहूथानां तां जातिं क्वयो विदुः M. The word is used in this sense by the Vārttikakāra saying that such a word does not denote itself but its synonyms; cf. जित् पर्यायवचनस्यैव राजाचर्यम् P.I.1.68 Vārt. 7. In the Sūtra समा राजामनुष्पूर्वा P.II. 4. 23, the word राजन् is supposed to be जित् and hence it denotes इन्द्र, ईश्वर etc.; but not the word राजन् itself; (3) In the Prātisākhya works जित् means the first two consonants of each class (वर्ग); e.g. क्, ख्, च्, छ्, etc. which are the same as लप् letters in Pāṇini's

The grammar is called Jainendra Vyākaraṇa or Jainendra Sabdānuśāsana. The work is available in two versions, one consisting of 3000 sūtras and the other of 3700 sūtras. It has got many commentaries, of which the Mahāvṛtti written by Abhayanandin is the principal one. ज्ञानदीपिका name of a commentary on Amarasimhā's Amarakośa written by Śrīpati (Chakravartin) in the 14th century.

ज्ञापक lit. indirect or implicit revealer; a word very commonly used in the sense of an indicative statement. The Sūtras, especially those of Pāṇini, are very laconic and it is believed that not a single word in the Sūtras is devoid of purpose. If it is claimed that a particular word is without any purpose, the object of it being achieved in some other way, the commentators always try to assign some purpose or the other for the use of the word in the Sūtra. Such a word or words or sometimes even the whole Sūtra is called ज्ञापक or indicator of a particular thing. The Paribhāṣās or rules of interpretation are mostly derived by indication (ज्ञापकसिद्ध) from a word or words in a Sūtra which apparently appear to be व्यर्थ or without purpose, and which are shown as सार्थक after the particular indication (ज्ञापन) is drawn from them. The ज्ञापक is shown to be constituted of four parts, वैश्वर्यं, ज्ञापन, स्वस्मिद्धारितार्थ्यं and अन्यत्रफल. For the instances of Jñāpakas, see Paribhāṣenduśekhara. Puruṣottamadeva in his Jñāpakasamuccaya has drawn numerous conclusions of the type of ज्ञापन from the wording of Pāṇini Sūtras. The word ज्ञापक and ज्ञापन are used many times as synonyms although ज्ञापन sometimes refers to the conclusions drawn from a wording which is ज्ञापक or indicator. For instances of ज्ञापक, cf. M. Bh. on Māheśvara Sūtras 1, 3, 5, P. I. 1. 3, 11, 18, 23, 51 etc. The word ऊद् in the rule वाह ऊद् is a wellknown ज्ञापक of the अन्तरङ्गपरिभाषा. The earliest use of the word ज्ञापक in the sense given above, is found in the Paribhāṣāsūcana of Vyādi. The Paribhāṣā works on other systems of grammar such as the Kātantra, the Jainendra and others have drawn similar Jñāpakas from the wording of the Sūtras in their systems. Sometimes a Jñāpaka is not regularly constituted of the four parts given above; it is a mere indicator and is called बोधक instead of ज्ञापक.

ज्ञापकसमुच्चय a work giving a collection of about 400 Jñāpakas or indicative wordings found in the Sūtras of Pāṇini and the conclusions drawn from them. It was written by Puruṣottamadeva, a Buddhist scholar of Pāṇini's grammar in the twelfth century A. D., who was probably the same as the famous great Vaiyākaraṇa patronized by Lakṣmaṇasena. See पुरुषोत्तमदेव.

ज्ञापकसिद्ध realized from the ज्ञापक wording; the conclusion drawn from an indicative word in the form of Paribhāṣās and the like. Such conclusions are not said to be universally valid; cf. ज्ञापकसिद्धं न सर्वत्र Par. Śek. Pari. 110.7.

ज्ञापन a conclusion or inference, drawn from a word or words in a Sūtra, with a view to assign a purpose to that or to those words which otherwise would have been without a purpose. The word is sometimes used in the sense of ज्ञापक, and refers to the word or words supposed to be without any purpose and therefore looked upon as a reason or हेतु for the desired conclusion to be drawn. The words किमेतस्य ज्ञापने प्रयोजनम् occur very frequently in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. M. Bh. on P. I. 1. 11, 14, 19, 55, 68, I. 2.41 etc. etc.

ज्ञापित concluded or proved by means of a ज्ञापक word or wording; cf. इन्तेः पूर्वप्रतिषेधो वार्तिकेनैव ज्ञापितः M. Bh. on III. 4. 37 Vārt. 3.

तत्त्वादर्श name of a commentary on the Paribhāṣenduśekhara written by M. M. Vasudev Shastri Abhyankar in 1889 A. D. तत्पुरुष name of an important kind of compound words similar to the compound word तत्पुरुष i.e. (तस्य पुरुषः), and hence chosen as the name of such compounds by ancient grammarians before Pāṇini. Pāṇini has not defined the term with a view to including such compounds as would be covered by the definition. He has mentioned the term तत्पुरुष in II.1.22 as Adhikāra and on its strength directed that all compounds mentioned or prescribed thereafter upto Sūtra II.2.22 be called तत्पुरुष. No definite number of the sub-divisions of तत्पुरुष is given; but from the nature of compounds included in the तत्पुरुष-अधिकार, the sub-divisions विभक्तितत्पुरुष cf. P.II.1.24. to 48, समानाधिकरणतत्पुरुष cf. P. II.1.49 to 72 (called by the name कर्मधारय; acc. to P.I. 2. 42), संख्यातत्पुरुष (called द्विगु by P.II.1.52), अवयवतत्पुरुष or एकदेशितत्पुरुष cf. P.II.2.1-3, बद्धधिकरणतत्पुरुष cf. P. II 2.5, नञ्तत्पुरुष cf. P.II.2.6, उपपदतत्पुरुष cf. P. II.2.19, प्रादितत्पुरुष cf. P.II.2 18 and णमुन्तत्पुरुष cf. P.II.2.20 are found mentioned in the commentary literature on standard classical works. Besides these, a peculiar तत्पुरुष compound mentioned by Pāṇini in II.1.72, is popularly called मन्वन्वत्कादिस्मात्. Pāṇini has defined only two out of these varieties viz. द्विगु as संख्यापूर्वो द्विगुः P.II. 1.23, and कर्मधारय as तत्पुरुषः समानाधिकरणः कर्मधारयः P. I.2.42. The Mahābhāṣyakāra has described तत्पुरुष as उत्तरपदार्थप्रधानस्तत्पुरुषः; cf. M.Bh. on II.1.6, II.1.20, II.1.49, etc., and as a consequence it follows that the gender of the तत्पुरुष compound word is that of the last member of the compound; cf. परवाल्लिङ्गं द्वन्द्वतत्पुरुषयोः P. II.4. 26; cf. also तत्पुरुषश्चापि कः परवाल्लिङ्गं प्रयोजयति । सः पूर्वपदार्थप्रधानः एकदेशिसमासः अर्धविष्प्लोति । यो ह्युत्तरपदार्थप्रधानो दैवकृतं तस्य परवाल्लिङ्गम्, M. Bh. on II.4.26. Sometimes, the compound gets a gender different from that of the last word; cf. P.II.4.19-31. The तत्पुरुष compound is optional as generally all compounds are, depending as they do upon the desire of the speaker. Some tatpuruṣa compounds such as the प्रादितसुख or उपपदतसुख are called नित्य and hence their constituent words, with the case affixes applied to them, are not noticed separately; cf. P.II.2.18,19. In some cases अ as a compound-ending (समासन्त) is added; e.g. राजधुरा, नान्दीपुरम् ; cf. P. V.4.74; in some cases अच् (अ) is added; cf. P.V.4.75 to 87; while in some other cases टच् (अ) is added, the mute letter ट signifying the addition of डीप् (ई) in the feminine gender; cf. P.V.4.91-112. For details see p.p. 270-273 Mahābhāṣya Vol.VII published by the D. E. Society, Poona.

तदन्तविधि a peculiar feature in the interpretation of the rules of Pāṇini, laid down by the author of the Sūtras himself by virtue of which an adjectival word, qualifying its principal word, does not denote itself, but something ending with it also; cf. यन विधिस्तदन्तस्य P.I.1.72. This feature is principally noticed in the case of general words or adhikāras which are put in a particular rule, but which occur in a large number of subsequent rules; for instance, the word प्रातिपदिकात्, put in P.IV.1.1, is valid in every rule upto the end of chapter V and the words अतः, उतः, यतः etc. mean अदन्ताद्, उदन्तात्, यजन्तात् etc. Similarly the words धातोः (P.III.1.91) and अङ्गस्य (P.VI.4.1) occurring in a number of subsequent rules have the adjectival words to them, which are mentioned in subsequent rules, denoting not only those words, but words ending with them. In a large number of cases this feature of तदन्तविधि is not desirable, as it goes against arriving at the desired forms, and exceptions deduced from Pāṇini's rules are laid down by the Vārttikakāra and later grammarians; cf. Par. Śek. Pari. 16,23, 31; also Mahābhāṣya on P.I.1.72.

तदादिविधि a convention similar to the तदन्तविधि of Pāṇini, laid down by the Vārttikakāra laying down that in case an operation is prescribed for something followed by a single letter, that single letter should be taken to mean a word beginning with that single letter; cf. यस्मिन्विधिस्तदादावल्ग्रणे P.I.1.72 Vārt. 29; Par. Śek. Pari. 33.

तद्गुणसंविज्ञान lit. connection with what is denoted by the constituent members; the word refers to a kind of Bahuvrīhi compound where the object denoted by the compound includes also what is denoted by the constituent members of the compound; e.g. the compound word सर्वादि in the rule सर्वादानी सर्वनामानि includes the word सर्व among the words विश्व, उभय and others, which alone form the अन्य्यदार्थे or the external thing and not merely the external object as mentioned in Pāṇini's rule अनेकमन्य-सपदार्थं (P.II.2.24); cf. भवति बहुमीहो तद्गुणसंविज्ञानमपि । तद्यथा । विश्वाससमानय । लोहितोष्णीषा कृत्विजः प्रचरन्ति । तद्गुण आनीयते तद्गुणाश्च प्रचरन्ति M.Bh. on I.1.27. For details cf. Mahābhāṣya on P.I.1.27 as also Par. Śek. Pari. 77.

तद्गुणीभूत lit. made subordinated to (the principal factor); completely included so as to form a portion. The word is used in connection with augments which, when added to a word are completely included in that word, and, in fact, form a part of the word; cf. यदागमास्तद्गुणी-

तद्धित a term of the ancient pre-Pāṇinian grammarians used by Pāṇini just like स्वनामन् or अव्यय without giving any specific definition of it. The term occurs in the Nirukta of Yāska and the Vājasaneyi-Prāṭisākhya; cf. अथ तद्धितसमासेषु एकपर्वसु चानेकपर्वसु पूर्वं पूर्वमपरम्परं प्रथिमव्य निश्चिंयात् । दण्डवः पुरुषः । दण्डमहर्षीति वा, दण्डेन संपद्यते इति वा Nir. II.2; also cf. तिङ्कृतद्वितचतुःशसमासाः शब्दमयम् Vāj. Prāti. I. 27. It is to be noted that the word तद्धित is used by the ancient grammarians in the sense of a word derived from a substantive (प्रातिपदिक) by the application of suffixes like अ, यत् etc., and not in the sense of words derived from roots by affixes like अन, लि etc. which were termed नामकण, as possibly contrasted with the word तद्धित used by Yāska in II. 5. Pāṇini has used the word तद्धित not for words, but for the suffixes which are added to form such words at all places (e. g. in I. 1.38, IV.1.17, 76, VI.1.61 etc.). In fact, he has begun the enumeration of taddhita affixes with the rule तद्धिताः (P. IV.1.76) by putting the term तद्धित for affixes such as लि, ध्यङ्, अण् etc. which are mentioned thereafter. In his rule कृतद्वितसमासाश्च and in the Vārttika समासकृतद्विताव्यय (I.4. Vārt. 41) which are similar to V. Pr. 1. 27 quoted above, the word तद्धित appears to be actually used for words derived from nouns by secondary affixes, along with the word कृत् which also means words derived from roots, although commentators have explained there the terms कृत् and तद्धित for कृदन्त and तद्धितान्त. The term तद्धित is evidently echoed in the Sūtra तस्मै हितम् which, although it is not the first Sūtra of the taddhita section, may imply that there were possibly long lists of secondary nouns with the senses of secondary suffixes, and तद्धित was perhaps, the first sense given there. The number of taddhita suffixes mentioned by Pāṇini is quite a large one; there are in fact 1110 rules given in the taddhita section covering almost two Adhyāyas viz. from P. IV. 1.76 to the end of the fifth Adhyāya. The main sub-divisions of taddhita affixes mentioned by commentators are, Apatyādyarthaka (IV.1.92 to 178), Raktādyarthaka (IV.2.1 to 91), Śaiṣika (IV.2. 92 to IV.3.133), Prāgdivyatiya (IV. 3.134 to 168), Prāgvahatiya (IV.4.1 to IV.4.74), Prāgghitiya (IV.4.75 to IV.4.109), Ārhiya (V.1.1 to 71), Tṛṣṇādhikāraśtha (V. 1.72 to V. 1.114), Bhāvākarmārthaka (V.1.115 to V.1.136), Pāñcamika (V. 2.1 to V. 2.93), Matvarthiya (V. 2.94 to V. 2. 140), Vibhaktisaṃjñaka (V. 3.1 to V. 3.26) and Svārthika (V. 3.27 to V. 4.160). The samāsānta affixes (V.4.68 to V.4.160) can be included in the Svārthika affixes.

तद्भाव the essence, also called तत्त्व; cf. यस्य गुणान्तरैश्चपि प्रादुर्भवस्तु तत्त्वं न विहन्यते तद् द्रव्यम् । किं पुनस्तत्त्वम् । तद्भावस्तत्त्वम् M. Bh. on P.V.1.119.

तद्भावित produced or brought into being by some grammatical operation such as the vowel आ in दास्ति, कारक, अकार्षीत् etc. by the substitution of वृद्धि, as contrasted with the original आ in प्राग, विधान शाला, माला etc.; cf. किं पुनरिदं तद्भावितप्रवृत्तं वृद्धिरित्येवं ये आकारिकारोकारा भाव्यन्ते तेषां प्रवृत्तमाहो-स्विदादौष्मात्रस्य M. Bh. on I. 1.1.

तद्राज the taddhita affixes अञ्, अण्, ज्यङ्, ष्य, as also इञ्, इ, व्युट्, ष्य, ऐष्वाक्यं and यञ् given in the rules of Pāṇini IV. 1.168-174 and V.3. 112-119. They are called तद्राज as they are applied to such words as mean both the country and the warrior race or clan (क्षत्रिय) ; cf. तद्राजमाचक्षाणः तद्राजः S. K. on P. IV.1.168. The peculiar feature of these तद्राज affixes is that they are omitted when the word to which they have been applied is used in the plural number; e. g. ऐष्वाक्यः, ऐष्वाक्याः, इष्वाक्यः; similarly इष्वाक्याम्; cf. P. II.4.62.

तद्वत् (1) as above, similarly; the words शेषे तद्वत् (the rest as above) are frequently seen used by commentators; (2) the tad. affix वत् in the sense of possession and not in the sense of measure etc. cf. तद्वति तद्विते न्यायसंहिते च्त्वे V.Pr.V.8.

तद्वदतिदेश treatment of something as that which is not that e. g. the treatment of affixes not marked with mute ण or ण as marked with ण even though they are not actually marked that way, cf. P. I. 2.1-4; also cf. तद्वदतिदेशेऽभिहितेऽभिप्रेतः P. I. 2.1 Vārt 4.

तन (1) personal ending for त of the second pers. pl. Parasmaipada in the imperative in Vedic Literature; e. g. जुहुष्वन् for जुहुत cf. Kāś. on P. VII. 1.45; (2) tad. affixes ट्यु and ट्युल् i.e. अन which, with the augment त्, in effect becomes तन. e. g. सार्यतन, चिरंतन, etc.; cf. P. IV. 3.23.

धातु a root; the basic word of a verbal form, defined by the Bhāṣya-kāra as क्रियावचनो धातुः; or even as भाववचनो धातुः; a word denoting a verbal activity. Pāṇini has not defined the term as such, but he has given a long list of roots under ten groups, named daśagaṇī, which includes about 2200 roots which can be called primary roots as contrasted with secondary roots. The secondary roots can be divided into two main groups (1) roots derived from roots (धातुजधातवः) and (2) roots derived from nouns (नामधातवः). The roots derived from roots can further be classified into three main subdivisions: (a) causative roots or गिजन्त, (b) desiderative roots or सजन्त, (c) intensive roots or यङन्त and यङ्लुगन्त; while roots derived from nouns or denominative roots can further be divided into क्यजन्त, काम्यजन्त, क्यङन्त, क्यषन्त, गिङन्त, कियन्त and the miscellaneous ones (प्रकीर्ण) as derived from nouns like कण्ठ (कण्ठादि) by the application of the affix यङ् or from nouns like सत्य, वेद, पाश, मुञ्च, मिश्र, etc. by the application of the affix णिच्. Besides these, there are a few roots formed by the application of the affix आय and ईय (ईयङ्). All these roots can further be classified into Parasmaipadin or Parasmaibhāṣa, Ātmanepadin or Ātmanebhāṣa and Ubhayapadin. Roots possessed of a mute grave (अनुदात्त) vowel or of the mute consonant र् added to the root in the Dhātupāṭha or ending in the affixes यङ्, वयङ् etc. as also roots in the passive voice are termed Ātmanepadin; while roots ending with the affix णिच् as also roots possessed of a mute circumflex vowel or a mute consonant ञ् applied to them are termed Ubhayapadin. All the rest are termed Parasmaipadin. There are some other mute letters or syllables applied by Pāṇini to the roots in his Dhātupāṭha for specific purposes; e.g. ए at the end to signify prohibition of वृद्धि to the penultimate अ in the aorist, e.g. अकस्मीत् cf. P. VII.2.5; इर् to signify the optional substitution of अ or अङ् for the affix णिच् of the aorist, e.g. अभिदत्, अभिस्तीत्; cf. P.III.1.57; उ to signify the optional application of the augment इ (इद्) before क्त्वा e.g. दामित्वा, दान्त्वा; cf. P.VII. 2. 56; ऊ to signify the optional application of the augment इ (इद्) e.g. गोता, गोप्तिता, cf. P.VII.2.44; आ to signify the prohibition of the augment इद् in the case of the past pass. part. e.g. स्विष्णः, स्विष्णः, cf. P. VII.2.16; इ to signify the addition of a nasal after the last vowel e. g. भिन्दति from निदि, cf. P. VII.1.58; क् to signify the prohibition of ह्रस्व to the penultimate long vowel before

णिञ्, e. g. अशशासत्, cf. P.VII. 4.2; लृ to signify the substitution of अङ् for लि in the aorist, e.g. अगमत्, cf. P. III.1.55; ओ to signify the substitution of नृ for त् of the past pass.part. e.g. लभः, आपिनः, सुनः, दूनः etc.; cf. P. VIII. 2.45. Besides these, the mute syllables षि, इ and इ are prefixed for specific purposes; cf. P. III.2.187, III.3.89 and III. 3.88. The term धातु is a sufficiently old one which is taken by Pāṇini from ancient grammarians and which is found used in the Nirukta and the Prāṭisākhya works, signifying the 'elemental (radical)base' for nouns which are all derivable from roots according to the writers of the Nirukta works and the grammarian Śākatāyana; cf. नाम च धातुग्रमाह निरुक्ते व्याकरणे शकटस्य च तोकम् M. Bh. on P. III.3.1. Some scholars have divided roots into six categories; cf. तत्र धातवः षोडा (a) परिपठिताः भूवादयः, (b) अपरिपठिता आन्दोल्यस्यादयः, (c) परिपठितापरिपठिताः (सूत्रपठिताः) स्तुक्कम्पस्तम्भेत्यादयः, (d) प्रत्ययधातवः सनाश्रन्ताः, (e) नामधातवः कण्ठादयः, (f) प्रत्ययनामधातवः होडगल्भङ्गी-वप्रमृतयः; cf. The verbal activity is described generally to be made up of a series of continuous subordinate activities carried on by the different kārakas or agents and instruments of verbal activity helping the process of the main activity. When the process of the verbal activity is complete, the completed activity is looked upon as a substantive or dravya and a word denoting it, such as पाक, or याग does not get conjugational affixes, but it is regularly declined like a noun. Just as स्वार्थ, द्रव्य, लिङ्ग, संख्या, and कारक are given as प्रातिपदिकार्थ, in the same manner क्रिया, काल, पुरुष, वचन or संख्या, and कारक are given as धात्वर्थ, as they are shown by a verbal form, although strictly speaking verbal activity (क्रिया or भाव) alone is the sense of a root, as stated in the Mahābhāṣya. For details see Vaiyāk.Bh.Sāra, where it is said that fruit (फल) and effort (ब्यापार) are expressed by a root, cf. फलव्यापारयोर्धातुः. probably there was a long list of words like नद (नदट्) चोर (चोरट्) etc. which were given as ending in ट्, and to which the affix ई (स्त्रीप्) was added for forming the feminine base; the first word नदी so formed, was taken as a model and all words in the list and similar others were called नदी; cf. निपात a particle which possesses no gender and number, and the case termination after which is dropped or elided. Nipāta is given as one of the four categories of words viz नामन, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात by all the ancient writers of Prātiśākhya, Vyākaraṇa and Nirukta works; cf. Nir. I. 4, M.Bh. on I. 1. Āhnika 1, R. Pr. XII. 8 etc. The word is derived from the root पत् with नि by Yāska who has mentioned three subdivisions of Nipātas उपसार्थे, कर्मोपसंग्रहार्थे and पदपूरणे; cf. अथ निपाताः । उच्चावचेष्वर्थेषु निपातन्ति । अत्युपसार्थे । अपि कर्मोपसंग्रहार्थे । अपि पदपूरणाः । Nir. I. 4. The Nipātās are looked upon as possessed of no sense; cf. निपातः पादपूरणः R. Pr. XII. 8, V. Pr. VIII. 50, (com. by Uvvaṭa). Pāṇini has not given any definition of the word निपात, but he has enumerated them as forming a class with च at their head in the rule चादयोऽस्त्ये where the word अस्त्ये conveys an impression that they possess no sense, the sense being of two kinds सत्त्व and माय, and the Nipātās not possessing any one of the two. The impression is made rather firm by the statement of the Vārttikakāra—" निपातस्यानर्थकस्य प्रातिपदिकत्वम् " P. I. 2. 45 Vārt. 12. Thus, the question whether the Nipātās possess any sense by themselves or not, becomes a difficult one to be answered. Although the Rkprātiśākhya in XII.8 lays down that the Nipātās are expletive, still in the next verse it says that some of them do possess sense; cf. निपातानामर्थवशा निपातानादनर्थकानामितरे च सार्थकाः on which Uvvaṭa remarks केचन निपाताः सार्थकाः, केचन निरर्थकाः । The remark of Uvvaṭa appears to be a sound one as based on actual observation, and the conflicting views have to be reconciled. This is done by Bhartṛhari who lays down that Nipātās never directly convey the sense but they indicate the sense. Regarding the sense indicated by the Nipātās, it is said that the sense is never Sattva or Dravya or substance as remarked by Pāṇini; it is a certain kind of relation and that too, is not directly expressed by them but it is indicated. Bhoja in his Śrngāraprakāśa gives a very comprehensive definition of Nipāta, as :—जात्यादिष्वृषिनिमित्तानुप्राहित्वेनासत्त्वमूला- र्थाभिधानः अलिङ्गसंख्याशक्तय उच्चावचेष्वर्थेषु

निपातन्तीत्यन्यदोपदेश्या एव चादयो निपाताः ।
He gives six varieties of them, viz.
विषय, अर्थवादाय, अनुवादाय, निरुपाय, पिपिनिवेशाय and अभिधिनिवेशाय, and mentions more than a thousand of them. For details see Bhartṛhari's Vākyapadiya II. 189-206.

निपातद्योतकत्व the view that the nipātas and the upasargas too, as contrasted with nouns, pronouns and other indeclinables, only indicate the sense and do not denote it; this view, as grammarians say, was implied in the Mahābhā-ṣya and was prominently given in the Vākyapadiya by Bhartṛhari which was followed by almost all later grammarians. See निपात.

निपातन a word given, as it appears, without trying for its derivation, in authoritative works of ancient grammarians especially Pāṇini; cf. दण्डि- नायनशास्त्रनायन० P. VI.4.174, as also अचतुरधिकतुर० V.4.77 etc. etc. The phrase निपातनात्सिद्धम् is very frequently used by Patañjali to show that some technical difficulties in the formation of a word are not sometimes to be taken into consideration, the word given by Pāṇini being the correct one; cf. M.Bh. on I.1.4, III.1.22 etc. etc.; cf. also the usual expression वाचकान्येव निपात-नानि. The derivation of the word from पत् with नि causal, is suggested in the Rk Prāṭisākhya where it is stated that Nipātas are laid down or presented as such in manifold senses; cf. R. Pr. XII.9; cf. also धातुसाधनकाञ्चनानां प्राप्तरथे नियमस्य च ।
अनुबन्धविकाराणां स्वर्थे च निपातनम् M.
Bh. Pradīpa on P. V.1.114; cf. also
M. Bh. on II.1.27.

निपातनस्वर the accent, with which the Nipātana word is expressed in the Sūtra, which is said to prevail over the accent which ordinarily should be possessed by the word; cf. स

निपातनस्वरः प्रकृतस्वरस्य वाचको भविष्यति
M.Bh. on P.I.1.56 Vārt. 23; cf.
also M.Bh. on I.3.3, VI.1.123 etc.

निपातानर्थकत्व the view prominently expressed by the Vārttikakāra that nipātas do not possess any sense, which was modified by Bhartṛhari who stated that they do possess sense which, of course, is indicated and illustrated by the usually quoted verse चर्मणि द्वापिनं हन्ति दन्तयोर्हन्ति कुजस्य । केशपु चमरी हन्ति सीन्नि पुष्कलको हतः

M.Bh. on II.3.36 Vārt. 6, also cf.
Kāś. on P. I.1.57.

निमित्तापायपरिभाषा a popular name given by grammarians to the maxim निमित्तापाये नैमिषीकस्याव्ययावः, a thing, which is brought into existence, by a cause, disappears on the disappearance of the cause. The maxim is not, of course, universally applicable. For details see Par. Śek. Pari. 56, Sira. Pari. 99.

VIII. 3. 14 and VI. 3. 111.

नियम (1) restriction; regulation; binding; the term is very frequently used by grammarians in connection with a restriction laid down with reference to the application of a grammatical rule generally on the strength of that rule, or a part of it, liable to become superfluous if the restriction has not been laid down; cf. M. Bh. on I. 1. 3, Kās. on I. 3. 63, VI. 4. 11; cf. also the frequently quoted dictum अनियमे नियमकारिणो परिभाषा; (2) limitation as contrasted with विकल्प or कामचार; cf. अनेकप्रातावेकस्य नियमो भवति शेषेष्वनियमः पठन्मुद्रुक्ताः पठन्मुद्रुक्ता इति M. निरवकाश possessed of no scope of, or occasion for, application; the word अनवकाश is also used in this sense. The niravakāśa rules always set aside the general rules which are always present wherever they i. e. the niravakāśa rules are possible to be applied. Niravakāśatva is looked upon as one of the two criteria for वाच or sublation, the other one being सामान्यावेशेवभाव as illustrated by the usual maxim, known as तत्क्रीडित्यन्याय. See तत्क्रीडित्यन्याय; cf. also अनवकाश इति विषये वाचका भवन्ति Par. Śek. on Pari. 64.

निरुक्त name of a class of works which were composed to explain the collections of Vedic words by means of proposing derivations of those words from roots as would suit the sense. The Nirukta works are looked upon as supplementary to grammar works and there must have been a good many works of this kind in ancient times as shown by references to the writers of these viz. Upamanyu, Śakāṭāyana, Śākapuṇi, Śākapūrti and others, but, out of them only one work composed by Yāska has survived; the word, hence has been applied by scholars to the Nirukta of Yāska which is believed to have been written in the seventh or the eighth century B. C. i. e. a century or two before Pāṇini. The Nirukta works were looked upon as subsidiary to the study of the Vedas along with works on phonetics (शिक्षा), rituals (कल्प), grammar (व्याकरण) prosody (छन्दस्) and astronomy (ज्योतिष) and a mention of them is found made in the Chāndogya-paniṣad. As many of the derivations in the Nirukta appear to be forced and fanciful, it is doubtful whether the Nirukta works could be called scientific treatises. The work of Yāska, however, has got its own importance and place among works subsidiary to the Veda, being a very old work of that kind and quoted by later commentators. There were some glosses and commentary works written upon Yāska's Nirukta out of which the one by Durgācārya is a scholarly one. It is doubtful whether Durgācārya is the same as Durgasiṁha, who wrote a Vṛtti or gloss on the Kātantra Vyākaraṇa. The word निरुक्त is found in the Prātiśākhya works in the sense of 'explained' and not in the sense of derived; cf. R. Pr. XV 6; V.Pr. IV. 19, 195.

Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 2 Vārt. 5, शाल्लिलालन्याय M. Bh. on P. 1.2.39, सूत्रशाटकन्याय M. Bh. on P. I.3. 12. The word came to be used in the general sense of Paribhāṣās or rules of interpretation many of which were based upon popular maxims as stated in the word लोकन्यायसिद्ध by Nāgeśa. Hemacandra has used the word न्याय for Paribhāṣā-vacana. The word is also used in the sense of a general rule which has got some exceptions, cf. न्यायैर्मिथानपवादान् प्रतीयात् R. Pr. which lays down the direction that 'one should interpret the rule laying down an exception along with the general rule'.

न्यायरत्नमञ्जूषा a work dealing with Vyākaraṇa Paribhāṣās or maxims as found in Hemacandra's system of grammar, written by Hemahamsaganin, a pupil of Ratnaśekhara, in 1451. The author has written a commentary also on the work, named Nyāsa.

न्यायसंग्रह a work enumerating the Paribhāṣās in Hemacandra's grammar, numbering 140 nyāyas out of which 57 nyāyas are said to have been given by Hemacandra himself at the end of his comment बृहद्वृत्ति on his Śabdānuśāhana. The work is written by हेमईसगणि who has added a commentary to it called Nyāyārthamañjūṣa by him, which is also known by the name न्यायरत्नमञ्जूषा which see above.

न्यायसंहित combined euphonically according to rules of grammar; cf. तदिति तदिते न्यायसंहिते चेत् explained as व्याकरणशास्त्रोक्तसीधमत् V. Pr. V. 8 con.

न्यायसिद्ध established by a maxim; with full justification; cf. न्यायसिद्धमेवैतत् M. Bh. on V.1.19. The word is used as opposed to ज्ञापकसिद्ध by Nāgeśa; cf. Par. Śek. Pari. 1.

न्यायार्थमञ्जूषा a name given to न्यायरत्नमञ्जूषा. See न्यायरत्नमञ्जूषा.

न्याय्य proper; fully justified न्यायादन-वेत्स् cf. P. IV.4.92; correct; regular;

cf. यज्ञभ्यामुक्तत्वादर्थस्य न्यायोत्पत्तिर्न भविष्यति M. Bh. on II.3.1 where Kaiyata however, explains the word differently. Kaiyata states that न्याय्य means a general rule; cf. उत्सर्गः पूर्वोच्यते इति न्याय्य उच्यते Kaiyata on P. II. 3.1. By Pūrṣvācārya he possibly refers to the writers of the Prātiśākhya and other similar works by ancient grammarians, where the word nyāya is used in the sense of 'a general rule'. See the word न्याय above.

न्यास (1) lit. position, placing; a word used in the sense of actual expression or wording especially in the sūtras; cf. the usual expression क्रियते एतन्न्यास एव in the Mahābhāṣya, cf. M. Bh. on I. 1.11, 1.1.47 etc.; (2) a name given by the writers or readers to works of the type of learned and scholarly commentaries on vṛtti-type-works on standard sūtras in a Śāstra; e. g. the name Nyāsa is given to the learned commentaries on the Vṛtti on Hemacandra's Śabdānuśāsa as also on the Paribhāṣāvṛtti by Hemaharṣasagaṇi. Similarly the commentary by Devanandin on Jainendra grammar and that by Prabhācandra on the Amoghāvṛtti on Śikaṭāyana grammar are named Nyāsa. In the same way, the learned commentary on the Kāśikāvṛtti by Jinendrabuddhi, named Kāśikāvivaranaṇāṅgikā by the author, is very widely known by the name Nyāsa. This commentary Nyāsa was written in the eighth century by the Buddhist grammarian Jinendrabuddhi, who belonged to the eastern school of Pāṇini's Grammar. This Nyāsa has a learned commentary written on it by Maitreya Rakṣita in the twelfth century named Tantrapradīpa which is very largely quoted by subsequent grammarians, but which unfortunately is available only in a fragmentary state at present. Haradatta, a well-known southern scholar of grammar has drawn considerably from Nyāsa in his Padamañjarī, which also is well-known as a scholarly work.

न्यासोद्घोत a learned commentary on Jinendrabuddhi's Nyāsa written by Mallinātha, the standard commentator of prominent Sanskrit classics.

न्यून incomplete in sense or wording as opposed to Pūrṇa; cf. अथवापि न्यून (पादे न संनिष्कृष्येते) R. T. 76.

प् (1) first consonant of the labial class of consonants possessed of the properties श्वासानुब्रूदान्, अवेष्य, and कण्ठविभ्रतत्त्व; (2) प् applied as a mute letter to a suffix, making the suffix accented grave (अनुदात्त).

प, प्रकार the consonant प्, the vowel अ and the affix कार being added for facility of understanding and pronunciation; cf. T.Pr. I. 17, 21; प is also used as a short term for consonants of the fifth class (पवर्ग); cf. T. Pr. 1.27; V. Pr. I. 64 and R. T. 13.

पक्ष alternative view or explanation presented by, or on behalf of, a party; one of the two or more ways of presenting a matter. The usual terms for the two views are पूर्वपक्ष and उत्तरपक्ष, when the views are in conflict. The views, if not in conflict, and if stated as alternative views, can be many in number, e. g. there are seven alternative views of Pakṣas re ;

the interpretation of the rule इको गुणवृद्धी; cf. M. Bh. on P. I. 1.3; cf. also सर्वेषु पक्षेषु उपसंख्यानं कर्तव्यम् M. Bh. on P. I. 2.64.

पचादि a class of roots headed by the root पच् to which the krt. affix अ (अच्) is added in the sense of 'an agent'; e. g. श्वपचः, चोरः, देवः etc. The class पचादि is described as आकृतिगण and it is usual with commentators to make a remark पचादन् when a kṛt affix अ is seen after a root without causing the vṛddhi substitute to the preceding vowel or to the penultimate vowel अ. cf. अण्विधिः सर्वधातुभ्यः पठयन्ते च पचादयः । अण्वधनाथमेधे स्यात् सिच्यन्ति श्वपचादयः Kāś., on P. III. 1.134.

tive case, cf. इः सि धुद् P. VIII. 3.29; cf. उभयनिर्देशे पञ्चमीनिर्देशो बलीयान् c. g. इमो इत्यादवि इमुणित्यम् P. VIII. 3.32, Par. Śek. Pari. 70; cf. also उभयनिर्देशे विप्रतिवेशालङ्कारनिर्देशः M. Bh. on P. I. 1.67 Vārt. 3.

पञ्चालपदवृत्ति the usage or the method of the Pañcālas; the eastern method of euphonic combinations, viz. the retention of the vowel अ after the preceding vowel औ which is substituted for the Visarga; e. g. चो असे; cf. R. Pr. II. 12; T. Pr. XI. 19. This vowel अ which is retained, is pronounced like a short औ or अर्ध-ओकार by the followers of the Sātyamugri and Rāṇāyaniya branches of the Sāmavedins; cf. commentary on T. Pr. XI. 19 as also M. Bh. Āhnika 1.

पञ्जिका a popular name given to critical commentaries by scholars; cf. काशिक्याविवरणपञ्जिका by Jinendrabuddhi which is popularly known by the name न्यास.

पटच् tad. affix पट in the sense of extent (विस्तार) added to the word अधि; e. g. अधिपटम् cf. विस्तारे पटञ्चकण्यः P. V. 2.29 Vārt. 2.

पठन oral recital, the word is used in connection with the use of words by the author himself in his text which he is supposed to have handed over orally to his disciples, as was the case with the ancient Vedic and Sūtra works; cf. the words पठित, पठिष्यते, पठ्यते and the like, frequently used in the Mahābhāṣya in connection with the mention of words in the Sūtras of Pāṇini.

पण्डित writer of Cītrabhā, a commentary on the Paribhāṣendu-śekhara. A commentary on the Laghuśabdendusekhara is also ascribed to him. He was a Gauḍa Brāhmaṇa whose native place was Kurukṣetra. He lived in the beginning of the nineteenth century.

पतञ्जलि the reputed author of the Mahābhāṣya, known as the Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya after him. His date is determined definitely as the second century B.C. on the strength of the internal evidence supplied by the text of the Mahābhāṣya itself. The words Gonardīya and Goṇikāputra which are found in the Mahābhāṣya are believed to be referring to the author himself and, on their strength he is said to have been the son of Goṇikā and a resident of the country called ३३Gonarda in his days. On the strength of the internal evidence supplied by the Mahābhāṣya, it can be said that Patañjali received his education at Takṣaśilā and that he was, just like Pāṇini, very familiar with villages and towns in and near Vāhika and Gāndhāra countries. Nothing can definitely be said about his birth-place, and although it might be believed that his native place was Gonarda, its exact situation has not been defined so far. About his parentage too, no definite information is available. Tradition says that he was the foster-son of a childless woman named Goṇikā to whom he was handed over by a sage of Gonarda, in whose hands he fell down from the sky in the evening at the time of the offering of water-handfuls to the Sun in the west; cf. पतत् + अञ्जलि, the derivation of the word given by the commentators. Apart from anecdotes and legendary information, it can be said with certainty. that Patañjali was a thorough scholar of Sanskrit Grammar who had studied the available texts of the Vedic Literature and Grammar and availed himself of information gathered personally by visiting the various schools of Sanskrit Grammar and observing the methods of explanations given by teachers there. His Mahābhāṣya supplies an invaluable fund of information on the ways in which the Grammar rules of Pāṇini were explained in those days in the various grammar schools. This information is supplied by him in the Vārttikas which he has exhaustively given and explained. He had a remarkable mastery over Sanskrit Language which was a spoken one at his time and it can be safely said that in respect of style, the Mahābhāṣya excels all the other Bhāṣyas in the different branches of learning out of which two, those of Śābaraswāmin and Śāṅkarācārya, are selected for comparison. It is believed by scholars that he was equally conversant with other śāstras, especially Yoga and Vaidyaka, on which he has written learned treatises. He is said to be the author of the Yogasūtras which, hence are called Pātañjala Yogasūtras, and the redactor of the Carakasamhitā. There are scholars who believe that he wrote the Mahābhāṣya only, and not the other two. They base their argument mainly on the supposition that it is impossible for a scholar to have an equally unmatching mastery over three different śāstras at a time. The argument has no strength, especially in India, where there are many instances of scholars possessing sound scholarship in different branches of learning. Apart from legends and statements of Cakradhara, Nāgeśa and others, about his being the author of three works on three different śāstras, there is a direct reference to Patañjali's proficiency in Grammar, Yoga and Medicine in the work of King Bhoja of the eleventh century and an indirect one in the Vākya-pāṭhya of Bhartṛhari of the seventh century A. D. There is a work on the life of Patañjali, written by a scholar of grammar of the South, named Rāmabhadra, which gives many stories and incidents of his life out of which it is difficult to find out the grains of true incidents from the legendary husk with which they are covered. For details, see Pāṭāñjali Mahābhāṣya D.E.Society's edition Vol. VII pages 349 to 374. See also the word महाभाष्य.

पद a word; a unit forming a part of a sentence; a unit made up of a letter or of letters, possessed of sense; cf. अक्षरसमुदायः पदम् । अक्षरं वा । V.Pr. VIII. 46, 47. The word originally was applied to the individual words which constituted the Vedic Saṁhitā; cf. पदप्रकृतिः संहिता Nir.I.17. Accordingly, it is defined in the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya as 'अर्थः पदम्' (V. Pr. III. 2) as contrasted with 'वर्णानामेकप्राणयोगः संहिता' (V.Pr.I.158). The definition 'अर्थः पदम्' is attributed to the ancient grammarian 'Indra', who is believed to have been the first Grammarian of India. Pāṇini has defined the term पद as 'सुतिङ्गन्तं पदम्' P.I.4.14. His definition is applicable to complete noun-forms and verb-forms and also to prefixes and indeclinables where a case-

affix is placed and elided according to him; cf. अन्ययादानुपः P. II. 4. 82. The noun-bases before case affixes and tad. affixes, mentioned in rules upto the end of the fifth adhyāya, which begin with a consonant excepting य् are also termed पद by Pāṇini to include parts of words before the case affixes भ्याम्, भिन्, सु etc. as also before the tad. affixes मत्, वत् etc. which are given as separate padas many times in the pada-pāṭha of the Vedas; cf. स्वादि-ध्वसर्वनामस्थाने P. I. 4. 17. See for details the word पदपाठ. There are given four kinds of padas or words viz. नाम, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात in the Nirukta and Prātiśākhya works; cf. also पदमर्थे प्रयुज्यते, विभक्तयन्तं च पदम् M. Bh. on P. I. 2. 64 Vārt. 19, वर्णसमुदायः पदम् M.Bh. on I.1.21 Vārt. 5, पूर्वपरयोरेयोपलब्धौ पदम् Kāt. I. 1. 20, पदशब्देनार्थे उच्यते Kaiyaṭa on P.I.2. 42 Vārt. 2; cf. also पद्यते गम्यते अर्थः अनेनेति पदमित्यन्वयसंग्रहो Nyāsa on P.III. 1.92. The verb endings or affixes ति, त् and others are also called पद. The word पद in this sense is never used alone, but with the word परस्मै or आत्मने preceding it. The term परस्मैपद stands for the nine affixes लिप्, त्, ... म्, while the term आत्मनेपद stands for the nine affixes त्, आताम् ... महिह्. cf. लः परस्मैपदम्, वलनावात्मनेपदम्. It is possible to say that in the terms परस्मैपद and आत्मनेपद also, the term पद could be taken to mean a word, and it is very likely that the words परस्मैपद and आत्मनेपद were originally used in the sense of 'words referring to something meant for another' and 'referring to something meant for self' respectively. Such words, of course, referred to verbal forms, roughly corresponding to the verbs in the active voice and verbs in the passive voice. There are some modern scholars of grammar, especially linguists, who like to translate परस्मैपद as 'active voice' and आत्मनेपद as 'passive voice'. Pāṇini appears, however, to have adapted the sense of the terms परस्मैपद and आत्मनेपद and taken them to mean mere affixes just as he has done in the case of the terms कृत् and तद्धित. Presumably in ancient times, words current in use were grouped into four classes by the authors of the Nirukta works, viz. (a) कृत् (words derived from roots) such as कर्ता, कारकः, भवनम् etc., (b) तद्धित (words derived from nouns) such as गार्ग्यः, काशायम्, etc., (c) Parasmaipada words viz. verbs such as भवति, पचति, and (d) Ātmanepada words i.e. verbs like एषते, वर्धते. etc. Verbs करोति and कुर्वते or हरति and हृत्ते were looked upon as both परस्मैपद words and आत्मनेपद words. The question of simple words, as they are called by the followers of Pāṇini, such as नर, तद्, गे, अध, and a number of similar underived words, did not occur to the authors of the Nirukta as they believed that every noun was derivable, and hence could be included in the kṛt words.

पदकाण्ड (1) a term used in connection with the first section of the Vākya-padiya named ब्रह्मकाण्ड also, which deals with padas, as contrasted with the second section which deals with Vākyas; (2) a section of the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini, which gives rules about changes and modifications applicable to the pada, or the formed word, as contrasted with the base (अङ्ग) and the suffixes. The section is called पदाधिकार which begins with the rule पदस्य P.VIII.1.16. and ends with the rule इडाया वा VIII. 3. 54.

पदकार lit. one who has divided the Saṁhitā text of the Vedas into the Pada-text. The term is applied to ancient Vedic scholars शाकल्य, अग्निष, कात्यायन and others who wrote the Padapāṭha of the Vedic Saṁhitās. The term is applied possibly through misunderstanding by some scholars to the Mahābhāṣyakāra who has not divided any Vedic Saṁhitā, but has, in fact, pointed out a few errors of the Pada-kāras and stated categorically that grammarians need not follow the Pada-pāṭha, but, rather, the writers of the Padapāṭha should have followed the rules of grammar. Patañjali, in fact, refers by the term पदकार to Kātyāyana, who wrote the Padapāṭha and the Prātiśākhya of the Vājasaneyi-Saṁhitā in the following statement—न लक्षणं पदकार अनुवर्त्याः पदकारिणां लक्षणमनुवर्त्यम्। यथा लक्षणं पदं कर्तव्यम् M. Bh. on P. III.1. 109; VI. 1. 207; VIII. 2.16; cf. also अदीवयुरिति पदकारस्य प्रत्याख्यानपथे उदाहरणमुत्पन्नं भवति (परिभाषासूचन of व्याधि Pari. 42) where Vyāḍi clearly refers to the Vārtika of Kātyāyana 'दीधीव्येः ऋन्दोषिष्यत्वात्' P. I. 1.6 Vārt. 1. The misunderstanding is due to passages in the commentary of ऋन्दस्वामिन् on the Nirukta passage I. 3, उन्वट-टोका on ऋग्प्रातिशाख्य XIII. 19 and others where the statements referred to as those of Patañjali are, in fact, quotations from the Prātiśākhya works and it is the writers of the Prātiśākhya works who are referred to as pada-kāras by Patañjali in the Mahābhāṣya.

पदपक्ष the same as पदसंस्कारपक्ष. See पदसंस्कारपक्ष.

पदपाठ the recital of the Veda text pronouncing or showing each word separately as detached from the adjoining word. It is believed that the Veda texts were recited originally as running texts by the inspired sages, and as such, they were preserved by people by oral tradition. Later on after several centuries, their individually distinct words were shown by grammarians who were called Pada-kāras. The पदपाठ later on had many modifications or artificial recitations such as रुम, जटा, घन etc. in which each word was repeated twice or more times, being uttered connectedly with the preceding or the following word, or with both. These artificial recitations were of eight kinds, which came to be known by the term अष्टविकृतयः.

पदप्रकृति a term used in connection with the Saṁhitā text or संहितापाठ which is believed to have been based upon words (पदानि प्रकृतिः श्रव्यः वा) or which forms the basis of words or word-text or the pada-pāṭha (पदानां प्रकृतिः); cf पदप्रकृतिः संहिता Nir.I.17.

पदप्रभेद lit. divisions of words: parts of speech. There are four parts of speech viz. नामन्, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात given by ancient grammarians and the authors of the Prātisākhya works, while there are given only two, सुवन्त and तिङन्त by Pāṇini. For details see pp. 145, 146 Vol. VII. Mahābhāṣya D. E. Society's edition.

पदमञ्जरी the learned commentary by Haradatta on the काशिकावृत्ति. Haradatta was a very learned grammarian of the Southern School, and the Benares School of Grammarians follow पदमञ्जरी more than the equally learned another commentary काशिकाविवरणपञ्जिका or न्यास. In the Padamanjari Haradatta is said to have given everything of importance from the Mahābhāṣya; cf. अथेति हि महाभाष्ये व्यर्था सा पदमञ्जरी. For details see Mahābhāṣya D. E. S. Ed. Vol. VII P. 390-391.

पदवाक्यरत्नाकर a disquisition on grammar dealing with the different ways in which the sense of words is conveyed. The work consists of a running commentary on his own verses by the author Gokulanātha Miśra who, from internal evidence, appears to have flourished before Koṇḍabhaṭṭa and after Kaiyaṭa.

पदवाद or पदवादिपक्ष view that words are real and have an existence and individuality of their own. The view is advocated by the followers of both the Mīmāṁsā schools and the logicians who believe that words have a real existence. Grammarians admit the view for practical purposes, while they advocate that the अलण्डवाक्य-स्फोट alone is the real sense. cf. Vākyapadiya II.90 and the foll.

पदविधि an operation prescribed in connection with words ending with case or verbal affixes and not in connection with noun-bases or root-bases or with single letters or syllables. पदविधि is in this way contrasted with अङ्गविधि (including प्रातिपदिकविधि and धातुविधि), वर्णविधि and अक्षरविधि. Such Padavidhis are given in Pāṇini's grammar in Adhyāya 2, Pādas 1 and 2 as also in VI.1.158, and in VIII.1.16 to VIII.3.54 and include rules in connection with compounds, accents and euphonic combinations. When, however, an operation is prescribed for two or more padas, it is necessary that the two padas or words must be syntactically connectible; cf. समर्थः पदाविधिः P. II.1.1.

पदविराम pause between two words measuring two mātrās, or equal to the time required for the utterance of a long vowel; e. g. in इहे लोके स्वा, the pause between इहे and स्वा is measured by two mātrās; cf. पदविरामो द्विसात्रः T. Pr. XXII.13. Some Prātiśākhya texts declare that the pause between two words is of one mātrā as at avagraha: cf. R. Pr. II.1 and R. T. 35-38.

पदव्यवस्थासूत्रकारिका a metrical work on the determination of the pada or padas of the roots attributed to Vimalakirti.

पदव्यवस्थासूत्रकारिकाटीका a short gloss on the पदव्यवस्थासूत्रकारिका written by Udayakirti, a Jain grammarian

पदसंस्कारपक्ष an alternative view with वाचस्पत्येकापक्ष regarding the formation of words by the application of affixes to crude bases. According to the Padasaṅskāra alternative, every word is formed independently, and after formation the words are syntactically connected and used in a sentence. The sense of the sentence too, is understood after the sense of every word has been understood; cf. सुविचार्य पदस्यार्थं वाक्यं यद्गच्छति सूर्यः Sira. on Pari. 22. According to the other alternative viz. वाचस्पत्येकापक्ष, a whole sentence is brought before the mind and then the constituent individual words are formed e.g. राम + सु. गम् + अ + ति । Both the views have got some advantages and some defects; cf. Par. Sek Pari. 56.

पदस्फोट expression of the sense by the whole word without any consideration shown to its division into a base and an affix. For instance, the word रामेण means 'by Rama' irrespective of any consideration whether न is the affix or इन is the affix which could be any of the two, or even one, different from the two; cf. उपायाः शिक्षमाणानां शालनामपलापनाः Vākyapadiya II.240.

पदादि (1) beginning of a word, the first letter of a word; cf. शास्त्रदायोः P. VIII.3.111; cf. also स्वरितो वानुदासे पदादौ P. VIII.2.6. Patañjali, for the sake of argument has only once explained पदादि as पदादादि: cf. M.Bh. on I. 1. 63 Vārt. 6; (2) a class of words headed by the word पद् which is substituted for पद in all cases except the nom. and the acc. singular and dual; this class, called पदादि, contains the substitutes पद्, दत्, नम् etc. respectively for पद, दन्त, नासिका etc. cf. Kāś. on P. VI. 1.63; (3) the words in the class, called पदादि, consisting of the words पद्, दत्, नम्, मम् इत् and निष् only, which have the case affix after them accented acute; cf. P. VI. 1.171.

पदाधिकार the topic concerning padas i.e. words which are regularly formed, as contrasted with words in formation. Several grammatical operations, such as accents or euphonic combinations, are specifically prescribed together by Pāṇini at places which are said to be in the Padādhikāra formed by sūtras VIII.1.16 to VIII.3.54.

पदान्त final letter of a word; cf. P. VI.1.76, 109; VII.3.3, 9; VIII.

4.35,37, 42, 59. At one place, Patañjali] for purposes of argument has explained the word as final in a word; cf. नैवे विज्ञायते पदस्यान्तः पदान्तः पदान्तादिति । कथं तर्हि । पदे अन्तः पदान्तः पदान्तादिति M. Bh. on VIII. 4.35.

पदार्थ meaning of a word, signification of a word; that which corresponds to the meaning of a word; sense of a word. Grammarians look upon both—the generic notion and the individual object as Padārtha or meaning of a word, and support their view by quoting the sūtras of Pāṇini जात्याख्यायामेकस्मिन् बहुवचनमन्यतरस्याम् I. 2.58 and सम्पणामेकदेशे एकविभक्ती I. 2.64; cf. किं पुनराकृतिः पदार्थ आहोस्विद् द्रव्यम् । उभयमित्याह । कथं ज्ञायते । उभयथा ह्याचार्येण सूत्राणि प्रणीतानि । आकृति पदार्थ मत्वा जात्याख्यायामित्युच्यते । द्रव्यं पदार्थ मत्वा सम्पणामित्येकदेशे आरभ्यते, M. Bh. in I. 1. first Āhnikā. In rules of grammar the meaning of a word is generally the vocal element or the wording, as the science of grammar deals with words and their formation; cf. स्व ह्यं शब्दस्याशब्द-संज्ञा, P. I. 1. 68. The possession of vocal element as the sense is technically termed शब्दपदार्थकता as opposed to अर्थपदार्थकता; cf. सोऽसौ गोशब्दः स्वस्मात्पदार्थात् प्रच्युतो वासो अर्थपदार्थकता तस्याः शब्दपदार्थकः संपद्यते M. Bh. I. 1.44 V. 3. The word पदार्थ means also the categories or the predicaments in connection with the different Śāstris or lores as for instance, the 25 categories in the Sāmkhyaśāstra or 7 in the Vaiśeṣika system or 16 in the Nyāyaśāstra. The Vyākaraṇaśāstra, in this way to state, has only one category the Akhaṇḍavākyasphoṭa or the radical meaning given by the sentence in one stroke.

पदानाम् a grammarian who wrote a treatise on grammar known as the Supadma Vyākaraṇa. He is believed to have been an inhabitant of Bengal who lived in the fourteenth century A. D. Some say that he was a resident of Mithilā.

पद्य forming a part of a word or pada; cf. उपोत्तमे नानुदात्तं न पद्यम् R. Pr. I, 29; cf. also पूर्वपद्यः R. Pr. I. 30. The word is used in this sense (पदावयव) mostly in the Prātiśākhya works. The word is used in the sense of पादसंज्ञक, made up of the feet (of verses), in the Rk Prātiśākhya in contrast with अवयव, made up of syllables. In this sense the word is derived from the word पाद; cf. पद्याक्षर्यं स उल्लिखितः R. Pr. XVIII. 3.

पर (1) subsequent, as opposed to पूर्व or prior; the word is frequently used in grammar in connection with a rule or an operation prescribed later on in a grammar treatise; cf. विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् P. I. 4. 2; (2) occurring after (something); cf. प्रत्ययः परश्च P. III. 1.1 and 2; cf. also तत् परस्वरम् T.Pr. XXI.2. (3) The word पर is sometimes explained in the sense of इष्ट or desired, possibly on the analogy of the meaning श्रेष्ठ possessed by the word. This sense is given to the word पर in the rule विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यं with a view to apply it to earlier rules in cases of emergency; cf. विप्रतिषेधे परं यदिष्टं तद्भवति M. Bh. on I.1.3. Vārt. 6; परशब्दः इष्टवाची M. Bh. on I. 2.5, I. 4.2. Vārt. 7; II. 1.69 etc.

परंकार्यत्व or परंकार्यत्वपक्ष the view that the subsequent संज्ञा or technical term should be preferred to the prior one, when both happen to apply simultaneously to a word. The word is frequently used in the Mahābhāṣya as referring to the reading आ काढारसु परं कार्यम् which is believed to have been an alternative reading to the reading आ-कढारदेका संज्ञा; cf. ननु च यस्यापि परकार्यत्वं तेनापि परग्रहणं कर्तव्यम्; M. Bh. on I. 4. 1; also भयेदेकसंज्ञाधिकारे सिद्धम् । परकार्यत्वे तु न सिद्धयति; M. Bh. on II. 1.20, II. 2.24.

परकम् a term used in the Prātiśākhya works for 'doubling' of a consonant; cf. सान्तःस्वाद्यौ धारयन्तः परकम् । R. Pr. XIV. 23.

परग्रहण the use of the word पर; insertion of the word पर in a rule; cf. तेनापि परग्रहणं कर्तव्यम्; M. Bh. on I. 4.1; cf. also परग्रहणमनर्थकम् M. Bh. on III. 1.2.

परत्व posteriority; mention afterwards; the word is frequently used in works on grammar in connection with a rule which is mentioned in the treatise after another rule; the posterior rule is looked upon as stronger than the prior one, and is given priority in application when the two rules come in conflict although technically they are equally strong; cf. परत्वादहोपः; M. Bh. on I. 1.4 Vārt 7; परत्वाच्छीभावः I. 1.11 etc.

परत्वन्याय application of the later rule before the former one, according to the dictum laid down by Pāṇini in the rule विप्रतिभेये परं कार्यम् P. I. 4.2; cf. परत्वन्यायो न लक्षितो भवति Sira. Pari. 84.

परनिपात lit. placing after; the placing of a word in a compound after another as contrasted with पूर्वनिपात. A subordinate word is generally placed first in a compound, cf. उपसर्जनं पूर्वम्; in some exceptional cases however, this general rule is not observed as in the cases of राजदन्त and the like, where the subordinate word is placed after the principal word, and which cases, hence, are taken as cases of परनिपात. The words पूर्व and पर are relative, and hence, the cases of परनिपात with respect to the subordinate word (उपसर्जनं) such as राजदन्त, प्राप्तजीविक etc. can be called cases of पूर्वनिपात with respect to the principal word (प्रधान) cf. परशताः राजदन्तादित्वात्परनिपातः Kāś. on P. II. 1.39.

परनिमित्तक caused by something which follows; the term is used in grammar in connection with something caused by what follows; cf. परनिमित्तकोच्चारणः पूर्वविधिं प्रति न स्थानिवत् S. K., on अचः परस्मिन्पूर्वविधौ P. I. 1.57.

परमप्रकृति the most original base; the original of the original base; the word is used in connection with a base which is not a direct base to which an affix is added, but which is a remote base; cf. आपत्यो वा गोत्रम् । परमप्रकृतेश्च आपत्यः । M. Bh. on P. IV. 1. 89; cf. also M. Bh. on IV. 1.93, 98, 163.

परमाणु a time-unit equal to one-half of the unit called अणु, which forms one-half of the unit called मात्रा which is required for the purpose of the utterance of a consonant; cf. परमाणु अर्धानुमात्रा V. Pr. I. 61. परमाणु, in short, is the duration of very infinitesimal time equal to the pause between two individual continuous sounds. The interval between the utterances of two consecutive consonants is given to be equivalent to one Paramāṇu; cf. वर्णान्तरं परमाणु R. T. 34.

पररूप the form of the subsequent letter (परस्य रूपम्). The word is used in grammar when the resultant of the two coalescing vowels (एकादेशः) is the latter vowel itself, as for instance ए in प्रेज्जे (प्र + एज्जे); cf. एहि. परस्यम् P.VI.1.94.

परवाहिकता possession of the gender of the final member of a compound word, which, in tatpuruṣa compounds, is the second of the two or the last out of many; cf. परवाहिकं द्रव्यतत्पुरुषयोः (P. II.4 26) इति परवाहिकता यथा स्यात् M. Bh. on P. V. 4.68.

परविप्रतिषेध the conflict between two rules (by occurrence together) when the latter prevails over the former and takes place by virtue of the dictum विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् P. I. 4.2; cf. ऋथं वै परविप्रतिषेधाः M. Bh. on I.4.2.

परसप्तमी a locative case in the sense of 'what follows', as contrasted with विषयसप्तमी, अधिकरणसप्तमी and the like; cf. लुकीति नैवा परसप्तमी शाक्या विशातुं न हि लुका पीवार्थमस्ति । का तर्हि । सप्तसप्तमी M. Bh. on P. I.2. 49.

परसवर्ण cognate of the latter vowel or consonant. The word is frequently used in grammar in connection with a substitute or आदेश which is specified to be cognate (सवर्ण) of the succeeding vowel or consonant; cf. अनुस्वारस्य ययि परसवर्णः P.VIII. 4. 58.

परस्परव्यपेक्षा mutual expectancy possessed by two words, which is called सामर्थ्यं in grammar. Such an expectancy is necessary between the two or more words which form a compound; cf. परस्परव्यपेक्षां सामर्थ्यमेके P. II.1.1, V.4; cf. also इह राज्ञः पुरुष इत्युक्ते राजा पुरुषमेवैवते ममायमिति पुरुषोपि राजानमप्येवैवते अहमस्य इति । M. Bh. on II. 1.1.

परस्मैपद a term used in grammar with reference to the personal affixes ति, तः etc. applied to roots. The term परस्मैपद is given to the first nine affixes ति, तः, अन्ति, सि, यः, य, मि, वः and मः; while the term आत्मनेपद is used in connection with the next nine त, आताम् etc.; cf. परस्मै परोदेशार्थफलकं पदम् Vāc. Koṣa. The term परस्मैपद is explained by some as representing the Active Voice as contrasted with the Passive Voice which necessarily is characterized by the Ātmanepada affixes. The term परस्मैभाष in the sense of परस्मैपद was used by ancient grammarians and is also found in the Vārttika आत्मनेभाषपरस्मैभाषयोरुपसर्हयानम् P. VI. 3.8 Vārt. 1. The term परस्मैभाष as applied to roots, could be explained as परस्मै कियां (or कियाफलं) भाषन्ते इति परस्मैभाषाः and originally such roots as had their activity meant for another, used to take the परस्मैपद affixes, while the rest which had the activity meant for self, took the आत्मनेपद affixes. Roots having activity for both, took both the terminations and were termed उभयपदिनाः.

परस्मैभाष lit. speaking the activity or किया for another; a term of ancient grammarians for roots taking the first nine personal affixes only viz. ति, तः... मत्. The term परस्मैपदिन् was substituted for परस्मैभाष later on, more commonly. See परस्मैपद above. The term परस्मैभाष along with आत्मनेभाष is found almost invariably used in the Dhātupāṭha attributed to Pāṇini; cf. म् सत्तायाम् । उदात्तः परस्मैभाषः । एषादत्त उदात्ता अनुदात्ते आत्मनेभाषाः Dhātupāṭha.

परा the highest eternal voice or word, the highest and the most lofty of the four divisions of language (वाक्य), viz. परा, पश्यन्ती, मध्यमा and वैखरी, which, (परा), philosophically is identified with नाद (शब्द) or शब्दब्रह्म. It is described as सर्गादि-विशेषरहिता चेतनमिश्रा सुष्ठुपयोगिता जगदुपादानमूला कुण्डलिनीरूपेण प्राणिनां मूलाधारे वर्तते ।

कुण्डलिन्याः प्राणवायुसंयोगे परा व्यञ्ज्यते । इयं निःश्चन्दा पर्यन्त्यादयः सस्चन्दा अस्या विवर्तः । इयमेव सुभ्रस्फोट इत्युच्यते ।

पराङ्मवद्भाव behaviour as having become a part and parcel of another; treatment of a word as a part of another. The term is used by Pāṇini in connection with a word followed by and connected with a word in the vocative case of which it is looked upon as a part for purposes of accent, e. g. कुण्डेनाटन्, मद्राणां राजन् etc. Here the words अटन् and राजन्, being in the vocative case, are आनुदात्त, i.e. अ (at the beginning of अटन्) and आ (in राजन्) are acute and as a result all the other vowels in कुण्डेनाटन् and मद्राणां राजन् become अनुदात्त or grave; cf. सुवामन्त्रिते पराङ्मवत्स्थरे P.II.1.2.

परादि initial or first of the next or succeeding word; cf. किं पुनरयं पूर्वान्त आहोस्त्रिसरादिः आहोस्त्रिसदमकः M.Bh. on P. I. 1.47 Vārt. 3; cf. also M. Bh. on IV.1.87, IV.2, 91.

परादिसस्वर a consonant belonging to the succeeding vowel in syllabication; cf. R.Pr.I.15.

परार्थ (1) the sense of another word; cf. परार्थाभिधानं वृत्तिः इत्याहुः । M.Bh. on II.1.1, Vārt.2; (2) for the sake of, or being of use in, the next (सुत्र); cf. परार्थं मम भविष्यति सन्वत इन्द्रवतीति, M. Bh. on I.1.59 Vārt. 8.

परिकृष्ट dragged to the latter; cf. Puspasūtra III. 114; the word परि stands for पर here.

परिक्रम the same as परक्रम; doubling (द्वित्व) of a subsequent consonant as for example the doubling of स् in शर्मन् स्स्याम; cf. सान्तःस्थादौ धारयन्तः परक्रमं (v. l. परिक्रमं) R.Pr. XIV. 23.

परिगणन lit. enumeration. The word is used in grammar treatises in the sense of 'a definite or complete enumeration' with a view to exclude those that are not included in the enumeration; cf. परिगणने कर्तव्यम् । यद्व्यञ्जयवलोपे प्रतिषेधः M.Bh. on I.1.4 Vārt. 1.

परिग्रह also परिग्रहण. (1) acceptance, inclusion; cf. किं प्रयोजनम् । प्रत्ययार्थं परिग्रहार्थम् M.Bh. on P.III.26.1; (2) repetition of a Saṃhitā word in the Pada recital, technically named वेष्टक also; repetition of a word with इति interposed; e. g. सुप्रान्या इति सुप्रऽअभ्याः Rg. Veda II.13.9, अलला भवन्ती-रित्यललाऽभवन्तीः Rg. IV.18.6; cf. परिग्रहे त्वनार्थान्तात् तंन वैकाशरीकृतात् । परेषां न्यास-माचारं व्यालिखी वेत्स्वरी परी; R. Pr. III. 14. cf. also, R.Pr.XI.32,36,42.

परिपन्न a kind of Saṃdhi or coalescence characterized by the change of the consonant म् into an anusvāra, as by मोनुस्वारः P. VIII. 3.23, before a sibilant or before रेफ; cf. रेफोश्चणोरुदययोर्मैकारः अनुस्वारं तत् परिपन्नमाहुः R.Pr.IV.5; cf. also सम्राट्शब्दः परिष-पन्नापवादः R.Pr.IV.7.

परिभाषा an authoritative statement or dictum, helping (1) the correct interpretation of the rules (sūtras) of grammar, or (2) the removal of conflict between two rules which occur simultaneously in the process of the formation of words, (पदसिद्धि), or (3) the formation of correct words. Various definitions of the word परिभाषा are given by commentators, the prominent ones being—परितो व्यापृतां भाषां परिभाषां प्रचक्षते (न्यास); or, परितो भाष्यते या सा परिभाषा प्रकीर्तिता. The word is also defined as विधौ नियामक-रिणी परिभाषा (दुर्गासिद्धवृत्ति). परिभाषा can also be briefly defined as the convention of a standard author. Puruṣottamadeva applies the word परिभाषा to the maxims of standard writers, cf. परिभाषा हि न पाणिनीयानि वचनानि; Puru. Pari. 119; while Haribhāskara at the end of his treatise परिभाषाभास्कर, states that Vyāḍi was the first writer on Paribhāṣās. The rules तस्मिन्निति निर्दिष्टे पूर्वस्य, तस्मादित्युत्तरस्य and others are in fact Paribhāṣā rules laid down by Pāṇini. For the difference between परिभाषा and अधिकार, see Mahābhāṣya on II.1.1. Many times the writers of Sūtras lay down certain conventions for the proper interpretation of their rules, to which additions are made in course of time according to necessities that arise, by commentators. In the different systems of grammar there are different collections of Paribhāṣās. In Pāṇini's system, apart from commentaries thereon, there are independent collections of Paribhāṣās by Vyāḍi, Bhojadeva, Puruṣottamadeva, Śiradeva, Nilakanṭha, Haribhāskara, Nāgeśa and a few others. There are independent collections of Paribhāṣās in the Kātantra, Cāndra, Śakaṭāyana, Jainendra and Hemacandra systems of grammar. It is a noticeable fact that many Paribhāṣās are common, with their wordings quite similar or sometimes identical in the different systems. Generally the collections of Paribhāṣās have got scholiums or commentaries by recognised grammarians, which in their turn have sometimes other glosses or commentaries upon them. The Paribhāṣenduśekhara of Nāgeśa is an authoritative work of an outstanding merit in the system of Pāṇini's Grammar, which is commented upon by more than twentyfive scholars during the last two or three centuries. The total number of Paribhāṣās in the different systems of grammar may well-nigh exceed 500. See परिभाषासंग्रह.

The treatises of Vyāḍi (Pāṇini system), Durgasimha and Bhāvamisra (Kātantra system), Puruṣottamadeva and Śiradeva (Pāṇini system),

According to the ancient writers on Phonetics, sound or word (वाक्) which is constituted of air (वायु) originates at the Mūlādihāracakra where it is called पर। It then springs up and it is called परयन्ती in the second stage. Thence it comes up and is called मध्यमा in the third stage; rising up from the third stage when the air strikes against the vocal chords in the glottis and comes in contact with the different parts of the mouth, it becomes articulate and is heard in the form of different sounds. when it is called वैखरी; cf. वैखर्या मध्यमायाश्च पश्यन्त्याश्चितदद्भुतम् । अनेकतीर्थ-मेधायास्त्वया वाचः परं पदम् Vākyapadiya I. 144, and also cf. पश्यन्ती तु सा चलाचलाप्रतिवद्भ्रमावाणा संनिविष्टश्रेयाकारा प्रतिलीनाकारा निराकारा च परिच्छिन्नाथैप्रत्यवभासा संसृष्टार्थप्रत्यवभासा च प्रशान्तसर्वाथै-प्रत्यवभासा चेत्यपरिमितभेदा । पश्यन्त्या रूप-मनपन्नशमसंकीर्णं लोकम्यवहारतीतम् । com. on Vākyapadiya I. 144. cf. also तत्र श्रोत्रविषया वैखरी । मध्यमा हृदयदशरेत्या पदप्रत्यक्षानुपपत्त्या व्यवहारकारणम् । पश्यन्ती तु लोकम्यवहारतीता । शैशिनां तु तत्रापि

पाणिनि the illustrious ancient grammarian of India who is well-known by his magnum opus, the Aṣṭaka or Aṣṭādhyāyī which has maintained its position as a unique work on Sanskrit grammar unparalleled upto the present day by any other work on grammar, not only of the Sanskrit language, but of any other language, classical as well as spoken. His mighty intelligence grasped, studied and digested not only the niceties of accentuation and formation of Vedic words, scattered in the vast Vedic Literature of his time, but those of classical words in the classical literature and the spoken Sanskrit language of his time in all its different aspects and shades, noticeable in the various provinces and districts of the vast country. The result of his careful study of the Vedic Literature and close observation of the classical Sanskrit, which was a spoken language in his days, was the production of the wonderful and monumental work, the Aṣṭādhyāyī, which gives an authoritative description of the Sanskrit language, to have a complete exposition of which, several life times have to be spent, in spite of several commentaries upon it, written from time to time by several distinguished scholars. The work is a linguist's and not a language teacher's. Some Western scholars have described it as a wonderful specimen of human intelligence, or as a notable manifestation of human intelligence. Very little is known unfortunately about his native place, parentage or personal history. The account given about these in the Kathāsaritsāgara and other books is only legendary and hence, it has very little historical value. The internal evidence, supplied by his work shows that he lived in the sixth or the seventh century B. C., if not earlier, in the north western province of India of those days. Jinendra-buddhi, the author of the Kāśīkavivaraṇapāñjikā or Nyāsa, has stated that the word शलतुर mentioned by him in his sūtra (IV. 3.94) refers to his native place and the word शलतुरीय derived by him from the word शलतुर by that sūtra was, in fact his own name, based upon the name of the town which formed his native place. Pāṇini has shown in his work his close knowledge of, and familiarity with, the names of towns, villages, districts, rivers and mountains in and near Vāhika, the north-western Punjab of the present day, and it is very likely that he was educated at the ancient University of Takṣaśilā. Apart from the authors of the Prātiśākhya works, which in a way could be styled as grammar works, there were scholars of grammar as such, who preceded him and out of whom he has mentioned ten viz. Āpiśali, Śākaṭāyana, Gārgya, Śākalya, Kāśyapa, Bhā-radvāja, Gālava, Cākравarmaṇa, Senaka and Sphoṭāyana. The grammarian Indra has not been mentioned by Pāṇini, although tradition says that he was the first grammarian of the Sanskrit language. It is very likely that Pāṇini had no grammar work of Indra before him, but at the same time it can be said that the works of some grammarians mentioned by Pāṇini such as Śākaṭāyana, Āpīśali, Gārgya and others had been based on the work of Indra. The mention of several gaṇas as also the exhaustive enumeration of all the two thousand and two hundred roots in the Dhātupāṭha can very well testify to the existence of systematic grammatical works before Pāṇini of which he has made a thorough study and a careful use in the composition of his Gaṇapāṭha and Dhātupāṭha. His exhaustive grammar of a rich language like Sanskrit has not only remained superb in spite of several other grammars of the language written subsequently, but its careful study is felt as a supreme necessity by scholars of philology and linguistics of the present day for doing any real work in the vast field of linguistic research. For details see pp.151-154 Vol. VII of Pāṇinī Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's Edition.

पाणिनिस्त्र called also by the name अष्टक or पाणिनीय-अष्टक; name given to the Sūtras of Pāṇini comprising eight adhyāyas or books. The total number of Sūtras as commented upon by the writers of the Kāśikā and the Siddhāntakāumudī is 3983. As nine sūtras out of these are described as Vārttikas and two as Gaṇasūtras by Patañjali, it is evident that there were 3972 Sūtras in the Aṣṭaka of Pāṇini according to Patañjali. A verse current among Vaiyākaraṇa schools states the number to be 3996; cf. त्रीणि सूत्रसहस्राणि तेषां नव शतानि च । षण्णवतिश्च सूत्राणां पाणिनिः कृतवान् स्वयम् । The traditional recital by Veda scholars who look upon the Aṣṭādhyāyī as a Vedāṅga, consists of 3983 Sūtras which are accepted and commented upon by all later grammarians and commentators. The Sūtras of Pāṇini, which mainly aim at the correct formation of words, discuss declension, conjugation, euphonic changes, verbal derivatives, noun derivatives and accents. For details see Vol. VII, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's edition pp. 152-162.

पाणिनिस्त्रवार्तिक name given to the collection of explanatory pithy notes of the type of Sūtras written mainly by Kātyāyana. The Vārttikas are generally written in the style of the Sūtras, but sometimes they are written in Verse also. The total number of Vārttikas is well-nigh above 5000, including Vārttikas in Verse. There are three kinds of Vārttikas; cf. उक्तानुक्तदुरुक्तानां चिन्ता यत्र प्रवर्तते । तं ग्रन्थं वार्तिकं प्राहुर्वार्तिकज्ञा मनोविणः । Nāgeśa appears to have divided Vārttikas into two classes as shown by his definition 'सूत्रेऽनुक्तदुरुक्ताचिन्ताकरत्वं वार्तिकत्वम्'. If this definition be followed, many of the Vārttikas given in the Mahābhāṣya as explaining and commenting upon the Sūtras will not strictly be termed as Vārttikas, and their total number which is given as exceeding 5000, will be reduced to about 1400 or so. There are some manuscript copies which give this reduced number, and it may be said that only these Vārttikas were written by Kātyāyana while the others were added by learned grammarians after Kātyāyana. In the Mahābhāṣya there are seen more than 5000 statements of the type of Vārttikas out of which Dr. Kielhorn has marked about 4200 as Vārttikas. At some places the Mahābhāṣyakāra has quoted the names of the authors of some Vārttikas or their schools, in words such as कौटिलीयः पठन्ति, भारद्वाजीयाः पठन्ति, सौनागाः पठन्ति. etc. Many of the Vārttikas given in the Mahābhāṣya are not seen in the Kāśikāvṛtti, while some more are seen in the Kāśikāvṛtti, which, evidently are composed by scholars who flourished after Patañjali, as they have not been noticed by the Mahābhāṣyakāra. It is very difficult to show separately the statements of the Bhāṣyakāra popularly named 'igṛis' from the Vārttikas of Kātyāyana and others. For details see Vol. VII Mahābhāṣya, D.E. Society's edition pp. 193-224.

पाणिनिसूत्रवृत्ति a gloss on the grammar rules of Pāṇini. Many glosses were written from time to time on the Sūtras of Pāṇini, out of which the most important and the oldest one is the one named Kāśikāvṛtti, written by the joint authors Jayāditya and Vāmana in the 7th century A.D. It is believed that the Kāśikāvṛtti was based upon some old Vṛttis said to have been written by कुणि, निर्द्धर बुद्धि, शोभति वररक्षि and others. Besides Kāśikā, the famous Vṛtti, and those of कुणि, निर्द्धर and others which are only reported, there are other Vṛttis which are comparatively modern. Some of them have been printed, while others have remained only in manuscript form. Some of these are : the Bhāṣāvṛtti by Puruṣottamadeva, Vyākaraṇasudhānidhi by Viśveśvara, Gūdhārthadīpini by Sadāśivamiśra, Sūtravṛtti by Annambhaṭṭa, Vaiyākaraṇasarvasva by Dharaṇīdhara, Śabdabhūṣaṇa by Nārayaṇa Paṇḍita, Pāṇini-sūtravṛtti by Rāmacandrabhaṭṭa Tāre and Vyākaraṇadīpikā by Orambhaṭṭa. There are extracts available from a Sūtravṛtti called Bhāṅgavṛtti which is ascribed to Bhartṛhari, but, which is evidently written by a later writer (विमलमति according to some scholars) as there are found verses from Bhāravi and Māgha quoted in it as noticed by Śiradeva in his vṛtti on Pāṇi. 76. Glosses based upon Pāṇini Sūtras, but having a topical arrangement are also available, the famous ones among these being the Prakriyākaumudī by Rāmacandra Śeṣa and the Siddhāntakaumudī by Bhaṭṭoji Dikṣita. The मन्वन्कौमुदी and the लघुकौमुदी can also be noted here although they are the abridgments of the Siddhānta Kaumudī. There are Vṛttis in other languages also, written in modern times, out of which those written by Böhtlingk, Basu and Renou are well-known.

The rule पूर्वत्रासिद्धम् is taken also as a governing rule i.e. अधिकार laying down that in the last three quarters also of his grammar, a subsequent rule is invalid to the preceding rule. The purpose of this dictum is to prohibit the application of the rules in the last three quarters as also that of a subsequent rule in the last three quarters, before all such preceding rules, as are applicable in the formation of a word, have been given effect to; cf. एवमिहापि पूर्वत्रासिद्धवचनं आदेशालक्षणप्रतिषेधाद्यर्थमुत्तर्ग-लक्षणभावार्थं च M. I. 4. 2; but sometimes the previous rule has to supersede the subsequent one in spite of the dictum विप्रतिषेधे परम्. The conjugational signs (शच्, स्मन् etc.), the signs of tenses and moods (भिञ्, सिच्, स्य, तास् etc.) and the compound endings(समासान्त) are all called pratyayas according to Pāṇini's grammar, as they are all given in the jurisdiction(अधिकार) of the rule प्रत्ययः III.1.1, which extends upto the end of the fifth chapter (अध्याय). Sek. Pari. 23. The rule यजियेऽक्ष, which prescribes the affix पक् (आयन), has the word यच् and इच् which respectively mean यजन्त and इजन्त; in the word परमगाम्यायण from परमगाम्ये the word गाम्ये is looked upon as यजन्त to which पक् (आयन) is affixed and hence the word परमगाम्यायण is arrived at and not परमगाम्ये.

The practice of using such abbreviations was in existence before Pāṇini, possibly in the grammar attributed to Indra. The term प्रत्याहार is not actually used by Pāṇini; it is found in the Rk. Tantra; cf. प्रत्याहारार्थो वर्णानुबन्धो भ्यञ्जनम् R.T.I.3. The term appears to have come into use after Pāṇini. Pāṇini has not given any definition of the term प्रत्याहार. He has simply given the method of forming the Pratyāhāras and he has profusely used them; cf. आदिरुत्थेन सहेता P. I. 1.71. The word हृन् in P. III.1.40 and हृन् in P. प्रदीप popular name of the famous commentary on the Mahābhāṣya of Patañjali written by the reputed grammarian Kaiyaṭa in the eleventh century A. D. The commentary is a very scholarly and critical one and really does justice to the well-known compliment given to it, viz. that the Pradīpa has kept the Mahābhāṣya alive which otherwise would have remained unintelligible and consequently become lost. The commentary Pradīpa is based on the commentary महाभाष्यदीपिका, or प्रदीपिका written by Bhartṛhari, which is available at present only in a fragmentary form. The Pradīpa is to this day looked upon as the single commentary on the Mahābhāṣya in spite of the presence of a few other commentaries on it which are all thrown into the back-ground by it.

As, however, the प्रयोज्यकर्म originally occupies the place of the subject in the primitive construction, the term प्रयोज्यकर्ता (प्रयोज्यभासी कर्ता च) is often used in connection with it, as contrasted with the term प्रयोजककर्ता which is used with respect to the subject in the causal construction; cf. इह च भेदिका देवदत्तस्य यशदत्तस्य काष्ठानामिति प्रयोज्ये कर्तारि षष्ठी न प्राप्नोति । M.Bh. on P. प्राच्यपदश्रुति succession of two vowels where the former vowel, which is either ए or ओ remains without coalescence with the following vowel अ, even though by rules it is liable to be changed; e.g. सुजाते अक्षसृते । अच्यो अदिभिः सुतम् । In such cases the vowel अ is pronounced like ए. This view is held by the senior Śākalya (स्वविरशाकल्य); cf. प्राच्यपञ्चाल-उपशानिभोदयाः शाकल्यस्य स्वविरस्येत्य स्थितिः, R.Pr. II.44; cf.

also स पूर्वस्यार्धसदृशमेकैवाम्, T. Pr. XI.19 and the commentaries thereon; cf. also छन्दोगानां सात्यमुषि-राजायनीया अर्धमेकारमर्धमीकारं चाधीयेत । सुजाते ए अक्षसृते । अच्यो ओ अदिभिः सुतम् । M. Bh. on Siva Sūtra 3, 4 as also on P.I.1.48.

प्राच्यवैयाकरण an eastern grammarian; the term प्राच्य (eastern) being a relative term, the east is to be taken with respect to the place in the context. The word प्राचा occurs many times in Pāṇini's Sūtras and the term प्राक् may refer to countries east of the river रावती or सरस्वती in the Punjab. See प्राग्देश above. प्राचा is understood by some commentators as referring to time, in which case, the word may refer to ancient grammarians अपिशक्ति, शाकटायन, इन्द्र and others who lived before Pāṇini; cf. प्राचीनवैयाकरणतन्त्रे वाचनिकानि ... Par. Śek. Pari. 1. The word प्राचीन is, of course, mostly used in the sense of ancient, rather than the word प्रात्. For specific peculiarities of the eastern grammarians see pp. 148-149 Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. D. E. Society's Edition.

प्राणपणा a gloss on the Mahābhāṣya of Patañjali, written by the famous eastern grammarian Puruṣottama-deva of the 12th century A. D., of which only a fragment of a few pages is available. As the legend goes, the name प्राणपणा was given to the gloss as it was accompanied by an oath on the part of the author that his life was at stake if he did even the slightest injustice to the author of the Mahābhāṣya.

प्राण्यञ्ज the tad. affix अञ्ज prescribed by the rule प्राणिञ्जतादिभ्योऽञ् P. IV.3.

154; cf. मयटः प्राण्यञ् विप्रतिषेधेन P.IV.3. 156 Vārt. 4.

प्रातिपदिक lit. available in every word. The term प्रातिपदिक can be explained as प्रतिपदं यद्वाति तत् प्रातिपदिकम् cf. P.IV. 4. 39. The term प्रातिपदिक, although mentioned in the Brāhmaṇa works, is not found in the Prātiśākhya works probably because those works were concerned with formed words which had been actually in use. The regular division of a word into the base (प्रकृति) and the affix (प्रत्यय) is available, first in the grammar of Pāṇini, who has given two kinds of bases, the noun-base and the verb-base. The noun-base is named Prātipadika by him while the verb-base is named Dhātu. The definition of Prātipadika is given by him as a word which is possessed of sense, but which is neither a root nor a suffix; cf. अर्थवदधातुरप्रत्ययः प्रातिपदिकम्. P.I. 2.45. Although his definition includes, the kṛdanta words, the taddhitānta words and the compound words, still, Pāṇini has mentioned them separately in the rule कृतद्वितसमासाश्च P.I. 2.45 to distinguish them as secondary noun-bases as compared with the primary noun-bases which are mentioned in the rule अर्थवदधातुरप्रत्ययः प्रातिपदिकम्. Thus, Pāṇini implies four kinds of Prātipadikas मूलमूल, कृदन्त, तद्धितान्त and समास. The Vārttikakāra appears to have given nine kinds—गुणवचन, सर्वनाम, अव्यय, तद्धितान्त, कृदन्त, समास, जाति, संख्या and संज्ञा. See Vārttikas 39 to 44 on P. I. 4. 1. Later on, Bhojarāja in his Śṛṅgāra-Prakāśa has quoted the definition अर्थवदधातुं given by Pāṇini, and has given six subdivisions.; cf. नामान्ययानुकरणकृतद्वितसमासाः प्रातिपदिकानि Śr. Prāk. I. page 6. For the sense conveyed by a Prātipadika or noun-base, see प्रातिपदिकार्थ.

प्रातिपदिककार्य corresponding to अङ्गकार्य in the case of the declinables, which the Sūtrakāra mentions specifically with respect to the noun-base.

प्रातिपदिकग्रहण express mention by wording of a noun-base as in दित्यदित्यादित्य०, सुधानुरकञ् च etc., and not by description as अदन्त in अत इन् (P.IV.1.95) or in a group of words (गण); cf. प्रातिपदिकग्रहणे लिङ्गविशिष्टस्यापि ग्रहणम् Par. Śek. Pari. 71, which recommends the feminine form of the base for an operation, provided the base is specifically expressed and not merely described. e. g. युवतिः सलतिः युवसलतिः, चटकस्यापत्यं चाटकट, बह्वीनां पूर्णा बहुतिथी etc.

प्रातिपदिकस्वर the general accent of the Prātipadika viz. the acute (उदात्त) for the last vowel as given by the Phit sūtra फिः (प्रातिपदिकस्य) अन्त उदात्तः; cf. also प्रातिपदिकस्वरस्थावकाशः । आश्रः । M. Bb. on P. VI. 1.91 Vārt. 7.

प्रातिपदिकार्थ denoted sense of a Prātipadika or a noun-base. Standard grammarians state that the denotation of a prātipadika is five-fold viz. स्वार्थ, द्रव्य, लिङ्ग, संख्या and कारक. The word स्वार्थ refers to the causal factor of denotation or प्रवृत्तिनिमित्त which is of four kinds जाति, गुण, क्रिया and संज्ञा as noticed respectively in the words गौः, शुक्रः, चलः and दित्यः. The word द्रव्य refers to the individual object which sometimes is directly denoted as in अध्वमानय, while on some occasions it is indirectly denoted through the genus or the general notion as in प्रासणः पूव्यः. लिङ्ग the gender, संख्या the number and कारक the case-relation are the denotations of the case-terminations, but sometimes as they are conveyed in the absence of a case-affix as in the words पञ्च, दश, and others, they are stated as the denoted senses of the Prātipadika, while the case-affixes are said to indicate them; cf. वाचिका योतिका वा सुः शब्दादीनां विभक्तयः Vākyapadiya.

प्रातिलोम्य in inverse order, antithesis, reverse sense; e. g. प्र and परा mean the reverse of अ, or प्रति means the reverse of अभि; cf. आ इत्यर्वागर्थे । प्र परेच्येतस्य प्रातिलोम्यम् etc. Nir. 1. 4.

प्रातिशास्त्र्य a work on Vedic grammar of a specific nature, which is concerned mainly with the changes, euphonic and others, in the Pada text of the Saṁhitā as compared with the running text, the Saṁhitā itself. The Prātiśākhya works are neither concerned with the sense of words, nor with their division into bases and affixes, nor with their etymology. They contain, more or less, Vedic passages arranged from the point of view of Saṁdhi. In the Ṛk Prātiśākhya, available to-day, topics of metre, recital, phonetics and the like are introduced, but it appears that originally the Ṛk Prātiśākhya, just like the Atharva Prātiśākhya, was concerned with euphonic changes, the other subjects being introduced later on. The word प्रातिशास्त्र्य shows that there were such treatises for everyone of the several Sākhās or branches of each Veda many of which later on disappeared as the number of the followers of those branches dwindled. Out of the remaining ones also, many were combined with others of the same Veda. At present, only five or six Prātiśākhyas are available which are the surviving representatives of the ancient ones—the Ṛk Prātiśākhya by Śaunaka, the Taittirīya Prātiśākhya, the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya by Kātyāyana, the Atharva Prātiśākhya and the Ṛk Tantra by Śākaṭāyana, which is practically a Prātiśākhya of the Sāma Veda. The word पार्षद or पारिषद was also used for the Prātiśākhyas as they were the outcome of the discussions of learned scholars in Vedic assemblies; cf. परिषदि भवं पार्षदम्. Although the Prātiśākhya works in nature, are preliminary to works on grammar, it appears that the existing Prātiśākhyas, which are the revised and enlarged editions of the old ones, are written after Pānini's grammar, each one of the present Prātiśākhyas representing, of course, several ancient Prātiśākhyas, which were written before Pānini. Uvvaṭa, a learned scholar of the twelfth century has written a brief commentary on the Ṛk Prātiśākhya and another one on the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya. The Taittirīya Prātiśākhya has got two commentaries—one by Somayārya, called Tribhāṣyaraṭna and the other called Vaidikābharāṇa written by Gopālayajvan. There is a commentary by Ananta bhāṭṭa on the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya. These commentaries are called Bhāṣyas also.

On account of the difficult nature of it, it is usual to read the श्रीहमनोरमा upto the end of the Kāraka-prakaraṇa only in the Sanskrit Pāthasālās before the study of the Śabdendu-śekhara and the Paribhāṣendu-śekhara is undertaken.

The work is not a scholarly one and it has got a tone of banter. It was written by Jagannātha to show that he could also write works on Grammar and the bearded pedant Bhaṭṭoji should not be proud of his profound scholarship in Grammar. The work of Jagannātha was named मनोरमाखण्डन possibly by his followers or even by himself.

प्रौढमनोरमाटीका a commentary on Bhaṭṭoji Dikṣita's Prauḍhamanoramā written by Bhaṭṭoji's grandson Hari Dikṣita. The commentary is called लघुशब्दरत्न or simple शब्दरत्न which is an abridgment of the author's work बृहच्छब्दरत्न. The Laghuśabdaratna is widely studied along with the Prauḍhamanoramā in the Pāthasālās.

The word प्लुत is often found for प्लुतो भवति in the Prāṭisākhya works; cf. also मात्रा ह्रस्वस्वावदन-ग्रहान्तरं, द्वे दीर्घस्तिष्ठः प्लुत उच्यते स्वः । अथः स्वित्वासीः दुपरि स्वित्वासीः इदं अर्थं प्लुतिर्भावि विन्दतीति 3 भिः ॥ R. Pr. I.16.

बर्बराता a fault in pronunciation of the type of roughness or barbarousness in the utterance of the letter र्; cf. बर्बराता असौकुमार्यं रेके Uvvaṭa on R.Pr.XIV. 8.

बर्बर्त्य (written as बर्बर्त्य or बर्बर्त्य possibly through mistake in the printed Calcutta Edition); connected with the socket of the teeth. As the utterance of र् proceeds from the socket of the teeth, र् is called बर्बर्त्य. cf. उपसंहृततरे च जिह्वाप्रमुखात्कोल्करिषु बर्बर्त्यसंहरति T.Pr.II.18.बर्बर्त्य is explained here by the commentator as दन्तपङ्क्तेरपरिधादुच्चप्रदेशेषु ककारस्य ऋकारस्य लृकारस्य च बर्बर्त्यः स्थानम् । The word उपरिधात् in the explanation given above is questionable; the explanation given by Uvvaṭa in his comment on बर्बर्त्यमेकं इच्छन्ति रेफम् R. Pr. I. 20.viz. बर्बर्त्येन दन्तमूलादुपरिधादुच्चः प्रदेश उच्यते appears better although apparently बर्बर्त्य is written in the text for बर्बर्त्य or बर्बर्त्य.

बलीयस्त्व relative superiority in strength possessed by rules of grammar or by operations based on rules of grammar. This superiority is decided generally on any one or more of the four recognised criteria such as परत्व, नित्यत्व, अन्तरङ्गत्व and अपवादत्व. The phrase अन्तरङ्गबलीयस्त्वात् very frequently occurs in the Vārtikas and in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. M.Bh. on P. III. 1:67, VI.1:17, 85 Vārt. 15, VI. 4:62 and VII.1:1.

बहुल lit. variously applicable; the word is used in the rules of Pāṇini in connection with a grammatical rule or affix or the like that is seen necessarily applied in some cases, optionally applied in a few other cases and not at all applied in the other cases still. The word बहुलम् is used by Pāṇini in all such cases. See P. II. i.32, 57; II. 3.62; II.4.39, 73,76, 84; III. 1.34 etc.; cf. the usual explanation of बहुलम् given by grammarians in the lines कचिद्वहतिः कचिदप्रवृत्तिः कचिद्विभाषा कचिदन्वयेदेव । विधेविधाने बहुधा समीक्ष्य चतुर्विधे बाहुलकं वदन्ति Com. बहुव्रीहि a compound similar in meaning to the word बहुव्रीहि (possessed of much rice) which, in sense shows quite a distinct object than those which are shown by the constituent members of the compound; a relative or adjective compound. There are various kinds of the Bahuvrihi compound such as समानाधिकरणबहुव्रीहि, व्यधिकरणबहुव्रीहि, संख्याबहुव्रीहि, दिव्यबहुव्रीहि, सहबहुव्रीहि, नञ्बहुव्रीहि, and अनेकपदबहुव्रीहि which depend upon the specific peculiarity noticed in the various cases. Pāṇini in his grammar has not given any definition of बहुव्रीहि, but has stated that a compound other than those already given viz. अन्वयीभाव, दन्द्र and तत्पुरुष, is बहुव्रीहि and cited under Bahuvrihi all cases mentioned above; cf. शेषा बहुव्रीहिः II. 3.23-28; also cf. अन्वयदार्थप्रधानो बहुव्रीहिः M. Bh. on P. II. 1.6; II. 1.20; II. 1.49.

बहुव्रीहिपाद conventional term used for the second pāda of the sixth adhyāya of Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī.

बहुव्रीहिप्रकृतिस्वर the accent peculiar to, or specifically mentioned in the case of the Bahuvrihi compound viz. the retention of its own accents by the first member, in spite of the general rule that a compound word has the last vowel accented acute i.e. उदात्त. cf. बहुव्रीहौ प्रकृत्या पूर्वपदम्. P. VI. 2.1. The expression बहुव्रीहिस्वर in this very sense is used in the Mahābhāṣya cf. बहुव्रीहिस्वरं शास्ति समासान्तविधेः सुकृत् M. Bh. on P. VI. 2.1.

बहुच् multisyllabled, a word which contains three, or more than three vowels; the word occurs many times in the sūtras of Pāṇini. cf. P. II. 4.66, IV. 2.73, IV. 2.109, IV. 3.67; V. 3.78, VI. 2.83, VI. 3.118.

बहुपक्षे lit. depending on many; the word is used in the sense of depending on many causal factors (निमित्तानि) and given as the definition of a kind of बहिरङ्ग by some grammarians; cf. अल्पापेक्षमन्तरङ्ग बहुपक्षे बहिरङ्गम्. This kind of अन्तरङ्गबहिरङ्गत्वं, cited by Kaiyata is, however, disapproved by Nāgśabhaṭṭa; cf. बहिरङ्गान्तङ्गशब्दाभ्यां बहुपक्षत्वात्पक्षत्वयोः शब्दमर्यादया अलाभाच्च । तथा सति असिद्धं बहुपक्षमल्पापेक्षे इत्येव वदेत् । Par. Śek. on Pari. 50.

बहुर्थ lit. the meaning of the word बहु. There are many senses of the word बहु out of which 'plurality' is the sense usually seen. The word also means 'collection'; cf. ग्रामशब्दोऽयं बहुर्थः । अस्त्येव शालसमुदाये वर्तेते । तद्यथा । ग्रामो दन्ध इति M. Bh. on P. I. 1.8, 21.

बह्नादि a class of words headed by बहु to which the fem. affix ई (ङीप्) is added to form the feminine base; the words ending in अ in this class take the fem. affix आ (टाप्) in case ई which is optional, is not added; other words remain as they are, if ई is not added; e. g. बह्नी, बहुः; पदतिः, पदती; गतिः, गती; चण्डी, चण्डी; etc. cf. Kās. on P. IV. 1.45.

बाध sublation, setting aside; सामान्य-शास्त्रस्य विशेषशास्त्रेण बाधः Par. Śek. on Pari. 51.

बाधक lit. that which sublates or sets aside; generally a special rule which sets aside a general rule; cf. येन ना-प्राप्ते यो विधिरन्व्यते स तस्य बाधको भवति,

Pari. Pāṭha of पुरुषोत्तमदेव Pari. 51; cf. also नैतच्छापकसाध्यं अपवादित्सर्गां वाध्यन्त इति । बाधकनानेन भवितव्यं सामान्य-विहितस्य विशेषविहितेन । M. Bh. on P. II. 1.24 Vārt. 5. बाधक is used as a synonym of अपवाद. cf. अपवादशब्दोऽत्र बाधकपरः Par. Śek. Pari. 58.

बाधकत्व the same as बाध; sublation; setting aside; this sublation is described to be of two types— (1) complete sublation when the rule set aside, is for ever set aside and cannot, by the maxim called तदकौण्डिन्यन्याय, be applied again; cf. दधि ब्राह्मणेभ्यो दीयतां तर्क कौण्डिन्यायोत सत्यपि संभवे दधिदानस्य तददानं निवर्तके भवति । cf. M. Bh. on P. I. 1.47; VI. 1.2. VI. 2.1. etc.; (2) temporary sublation when the rule set aside, can be applied, if possible after the special rule has been applied; cf. सर्वथा अनवकाशत्वादेव बाधकत्वे स्वस्य (अनवकाशशालस्य) पूर्वप्रवृत्तिरित्येव बाधः । तत्र बाधके प्रवृत्ते यद्युसंग्रामिर्भवति तदा भवत्येव यथा तत्रैव वादादयः Par. Śek. on Pari. 57. The sublation or बाधकत्व is not only in the case of सामान्यविशेषभाव and अनवकाशत्व as given above, but a rule or operation which is पर (cited later), or नित्य, or अन्तरङ्ग sets aside the rule or operation which is पूर्व, or अनित्य, or बहिरङ्ग respectively. This बाध्यबाधकभाव occupies a very important position in respect of the application of grammar rules for arriving at the correct forms (द्रष्टव्यमिति) and grammarians have laid down a number of Paribhāṣās in the field of बाध्यबाधकभाव.

बालभट्ट (बालभट्ट) surnamed Pāyagunda or Pāyagunde, who has written a commentary on the commentary Mīṭhākṣarā on the याज्ञवल्क्यस्मृति. Some scholars say that he was also a great grammarian and identical with वैद्यनाथ पायगुण्डे who has written the commentary काशिका or गदा on the Paribhāṣenduśekhara, the Cidasthimālā on the Laghuśabdenduśekhara and commentaries on the Vaiyākaraṇabhūṣana, Śabdakaūstubha and Bhāṣyapradipoddyota. Other scholars believe that Bālaṃbhaṭṭa was the son of Vaidyanātha and that he wrote only the commentary on Mīṭāksarā called Bālaṃbhaṭṭi after him.

(2) There was also a comparatively modern grammarian of Tanjore who has written small grammar works बालशोधिनी and बालरञ्जनी.

III. 1.85; also cf. बाहुलके प्रकृतेस्त्वनुदधेः प्रायसमुच्चयनादपि तेषाम् । कार्यसंशोधिविशेष तदुक्तं नेगमशक्तिभवे हि सुसाधु M.Bh. on P. III.3.1. In many sūtras, Pāṇini has put the word बाहुलम् to arrive at such forms; e. g. see. P.II.1.32, 57; II.3.62, II.4. 39, 73, 76, 84 etc.

बाह्यादि a class of words headed by the word बाहु to which the tad. affix इ (इञ्) is added in the sense of a descendant; e. g. बाह्विः, पौत्रस्त्रादिः, पात्रिः etc. The class called बाह्यादि is looked upon as आकृतिगण on the strength of the word च in the rule, so that similar words, not included in the class, could be explained; cf. Kāś. on P.IV.1.96.

विदादि a class of words headed by the word विद to which the affix अ (अञ्) is added in the sense of a grandchild and further descendants; e.g. वैदः, और्वः, काण्वः, कौशिकः etc. The words in this class are mostly names of sages. In the case of such words as are not names of sages, the affix अ is added in the sense of the offspring and not any descendant. e.g. पौत्रः, दीहितः etc.; cf. Kāś. on P.IV.1.104.

बृहच्छब्दरत्न a learned commentary on the commentary मनोरमा of भट्टोजीदीक्षित; the commentary was written by हरिदीक्षित the grandson of Bhaṭṭoji. The work is called बृहच्छब्दरत्न in contrast with the लघुशब्दरत्न of the same author (हरिदीक्षित) which is generally studied at the Pāṭhaśālās all over the country. The work बृहच्छब्दरत्न is only in a Manuscript form at present. Some scholars believe that it was written by Nāgeśabhaṭṭa, who ascribed it to his preceptor Hari Dikṣita, but the belief is not correct as proved by a reference in the Laghuśabdaratna, where the author himself remarks that he himself has written the बृहच्छब्दरत्न, and internal evidences show that लघुशब्दरत्न is sometimes a word-for-word summary of the बृहच्छब्दरत्न. cf. विस्तस्तु अस्मत्कृते बृहच्छब्दरत्ने मदन्तेवासि-

बृहत्संज्ञा the same as महत्संज्ञा or महती संज्ञा; a bigger terminology as contrasted with लघुसंज्ञा brief terminology such as टि, वु, भ etc. for which (latter) Pāṇini is very particular. The bigger terms such as सर्वनाम, आत्मनेपद, परस्मैपद and others are evidently borrowed by Pāṇini from the ancient grammarians who lived before him.

He resided at सार्वभाम on the river Varadā in the first half of the thirteenth century. He wrote a short treatise on Sanskrit Grammar, which has a number of peculiar abbreviations for the usual well-known grammatical terms. His grammar had a wide spread in Bengal and it is today a very common text on Grammar in Bengal. On this account some scholars believe that he lived in Bengal. He was the son of Keśava and pupil of Dhaneśa. He is also the author of the well-known work कविकल्पद्रुम on which he has written a commentary named कामधेनु or काव्यकामधेनु.

भ् fourth letter of the labial class which is possessed of the properties कण्ठसंघृता, नादानुप्रदान, घोष, and महाप्राणत्व.

भ (1) the letter or sound भ् with the vowel अ added for facility of utterance; (2) a technical term in the Grammar of Pāṇini given to a noun-base before such case and taddhita affixes as begin with any vowel or with the consonant व्. The utility of this designation of भ to the base is (1) to prevent the substitutes which are enjoined for the final vowel or consonant of a pada (a word ending with a case-affix or a base before case and tad. affixes beginning with any consonant excepting य्) just as the substitution of Visarga, anusvāra, the first or third consonant, and others given in P. VIII. 4.37 and the following. For the various changes and operations for a base termed भ see P. VI. 4.129 to 175.

भकार the consonant भ् with the vowel अ and the affix कार added for facility of utterance; cf. T. १r. I. 17,21.

भक्ति (1) name given to two of the five divisions of a Sāman which are प्रस्तावभक्ति, उद्गीय, प्रतिहार, उपद्रव and निधानभक्ति; (2) the vowel portion surrounding, or placed after, the consonant ॠ or ॡ which (consonant) is believed to be present in the vowel ऋ or ॠ respectively forming its important portion, but never separately noticed in it. The vowels ऋ and ॠ are made up of one mātrā each. It is contended by the grammarians that the consonants ॠ and ॡ forming respectively the portion of ऋ and ॠ, make up half-a-mātrā, while the remaining half is made up of the भक्ति of the vowel surrounding the consonant or situated after the consonant. The word which is generally used for this 'bhakti' is 'ajbhakti' instead of which the word स्वरभक्ति is found in the Prātiśākhya works; cf. यत्तद्रेफात्वरं भक्तेः स्तेनं व्यवहितत्वात् प्राप्नोति । यच्चात्र रेफात्वरं भक्तेर्न तत् कन्विदपि व्यपवृक्तं दृश्यते । M. Bh. on P. VIII. 4.1 Vārt 2; cf. स्वरभक्तिः पूर्वभागधराङ्ग R. Pr. I. 17; also cf. रेफात्स्वरोपहित्वाद् व्यञ्जनोदयाद् ऋकारवर्णां स्वरभक्तित्तरा । R. Pr. VI. 13.

भक्षित lit. eaten up; a fault in pronunciation when a letter is so hurriedly pronounced that it appears to have been dropped.

भक्ष्यनियम a restriction regarding edibles of a particular kind. The word is quoted to illustrate the नियमविधि or restrictive rule in grammar. Although the restriction in the instance पञ्च पञ्चनखा भक्ष्याः is of the kind of परिसंख्या and called परिसंख्या, and not नियम, by the Mīmāṃsakas, the grammarians call it a niyamavidhi. There is no परिसंख्याविधि according to grammarians; they cite only two kinds of vidhi viz. simple vidhi or apūrva vidhi and niyamavidhi.

भट्टोजी surnamed Dikṣita; a stalwart grammarian of the Pāṇini system who flourished in the first half of the seventeenth century and wrote many independent books and commentaries such as the Siddhāntakaumudī, the Praudhmanoramā, the Vaiyākaraṇasiddhāntakārikā, the Śabdakaustubha and others. The most reputed work out of these, however, is the Siddhāntakaumudī which is very popular even today and which has almost set aside other works of its kind such as the Prakriyākaumudī and others. Bhaṭṭojī was a Telugu Brāhmaṇa, as generally believed, and although he belonged to the South, he made Vārāṇasī his home where he prepared a school of learned Grammarians. Although he carried on his work silently in Vārāṇasī, he was envied by the reputed rhetorician of his time Paṇḍita Jagannātha, who criticised his work (Bhaṭṭoji's work) named Manoramā very severely. See प्रौढमनोरमा above. The Siddhānta-kaumudī has got many commentaries of which the Tattvabodhini written by Bhaṭṭoji's pupil Jñāneन्द्रasarasvatī is appreciated much by learned grammarians.

भत्व the nature or quality of being called भ which causes many grammatical operations which are given together by Pāṇini in VI. 4.12⁹ to 175. See the word भ above.

भर्तृहरि a very distinguished Grammarian who lived in the seventh century A. D. He was a senior contemporary of the authors of the Kāśikā, who have mentioned his famous work viz. The Vākyapadiya in the Kāśikā. cf. शब्दार्थसंग्रहोपेय प्रकरणम् वाक्यपदीयम् Kāś. on P. IV.3.88. His Vyākaraṇa work "the Vākyapadiya" has occupied a very prominent position in Grammatical Literature. The work is divided into three sections known by the name 'Kāṇḍa' and it has discussed so thoroughly the problem of the relation of word to its sense that subsequent grammarians have looked upon his view as an authority. The work is well-known for expounding also the Philosophy of Grammar. His another work "the Mahābhāṣya-Dipikā" is a scholarly commentary on Patañjali's Mahābhāṣya. The Commentary is not published as yet, and its solitary manuscript is very carelessly written. Nothing is known about the birth-place or nationality of Bhartṭhari. It is also doubtful whether he was the same person as king Bhartṭhari who wrote the 'Śatakātaya'.

भवत् (भवन्त्) ancient term for the present tense found in the Brhaddevatā and other works. The term 'vartamānā' for the present tense was also equally common. भविष्यन्ती ancient term for the future tense in general; cf. परिदेवने क्षत्तेनी भविष्यन्त्यर्थे P. III.3.15. Vārt.1; cf. also Kat. III.1.15; Hem. III. 3.15,

The portion of the Aṣṭādhyāyī prescribing the possessive affixes is named मत्प्राधिकार (P. V. 2.92 to 140).

It is, however, doubtful whether the word was used in the limited sense by Pāṇini and Kātyāyana. Later on, the word came to mean any sacred text or even any mystic formula, which was looked upon as sacred. Still later on, the word came to mean a secret counsel. महाभाष्य lit. the great commentary. The word is uniformly used by commentators and classical Sanskrit writers for the reputed commentary on Pāṇini's Sūtras and the Vārttikas thereon by Patañjali in the 2nd century B. C. The commentary is very scholarly yet very simple in style, and exhaustive although omitting a number of Pāṇini's rules. It is the first and oldest existing commentary on the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini, and, in spite of some other commentaries and glosses and other compendia, written later on to explain the Sūtras of Pāṇini, it has remained supremely authoritative and furnishes the last and final word in all places of doubt; cf. the remarks इति भाष्ये स्थितम्, इत्युक्तं भाष्ये, इत्युक्तमाकरे etc. scattered here and there in several Vyākaraṇa treatises forming, in fact, the patent words used by commentators when they finish any chain of arguments. Besides commenting on the Sūtras of Pāṇini, Patañjali, the author, has raised many other grammatical issues and after discussing them fully and thoroughly, given his conclusions which have become the final dicta in those matters. The work, in short, has become an encyclopaedic one and hence aptly called सनि or अकर. The work is spread over such a wide field of grammatical studies that not a single grammatical issue appears to have been left out. The author appears to have made a close study of the method and explanations of the Sūtras of Pāṇini given at various academies all over the country and incorporated the gist of those studies given in the form of Vārttikas at the various places, in his great work. He has thoroughly scrutinized and commented upon the Vārttikas many of which he has approved, some of which he has rejected, and a few of which he has supplemented. Besides the Vārttikas which are referred to above, he has quoted stanzas which verily sum up the arguments in explanation of the difficult sūtras, composed by his predecessors. There is a good reason to believe that there were small glosses or commentaries on the Sūtras of Pāṇini written by learned teachers at the various academies, and the Vārttikas formed in a way, a short pithy summary of those glosses or Vārttis. The explanation of the word इत्तौ सद्यु वार्तिकम् given by Kaiyaṭa may be quoted in support of this point. Kaiyaṭa has at one place even stated that the argument of the Bhāṣyakāra is in consonance with that of Kuṇi, his predecessor. The work is divided into eighty-five sections which are given the name of lesson or आहिक by the author, probably because they form the subject matter of one day's study each, if the student has already made a thorough study of the subject and is very sharp in intelligence. cf. अहा निर्वृत्तम् आहिकम्, (the explanation given by the commentators). Many commentary works were written on this magnum opus of Patañjali during the long period of twenty centuries upto this time under the names टीका टिप्पणी, टीका, प्रकाशिका, व्याख्या, रत्नावली, स्फूर्ति, वृत्ति, प्रदीप, व्याख्यान and the like, but only one of them the 'Pradīpa' of कैयटोपाध्याय, is found complete. The learned commentary by Bhartṛhari, written a few centuries before the Pradīpa, is available only in a fragment and that too, in a manuscript form copied down from the original one from time to time by the scribes very carelessly. Two other commentaries which are comparatively modern, written by Nārāyaṇaśeṣa and Nilakaṇṭha are available but they are also incomplete and in a manuscript form. Possibly Kaiyaṭa's Pradīpa threw into the background the commentaries of his predecessors and no grammarian after Kaiyaṭa dared write a commentary superior to Kaiyaṭa's Pradīpa or, if he began, he had to abandon his work in the middle. The commentary of Kaiyaṭa is such a scholarly one and so written to the point, that later commentators have almost identified the original Bhāṣya with the commentary Pradīpa and many a time expressed the two words Bhāṣya and Kaiyaṭa in the same breath as भाष्यकैयटयोः (एतदुक्तम् or सङ्गमेतत्).

The first page of the manuscript is missing and it is incomplete also, the commentary not going beyond the first seven āhnikas. For details see page 383 Vol. VII Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya D. E. Society's edition.

महाभाष्यप्रदीप a very scholarly commentary on Patañjali's Mahābhāṣya written by Kaiyaṭabhṭṭa in the eleventh century. The commentary has so nicely explained every difficult and obscure point in the Mahābhāṣya, and has so thoroughly explained each sentence that the remark of later grammarians that the torch of the Mahābhāṣya has been kept burning by the Pradīpa appears quite apt and justified. Kaiyaṭa's commentary has thrown much additional light on the original arguments and statements in the Mahābhāṣya. There is a learned commentary on the Pradīpa written by Nāgeśabhṭṭa which is named 'vivarāṇa' by the author but which is well known by the name 'Uddyota' among students and teachers of Vyākaraṇa. For details see pp. 389, 390 Vol VII, Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's Edition.

These long terms such as सर्वनाम, अव्यय, परस्मैपद, आत्मनेपद, and many others were widely in use at the time of Pāṇini and hence he could not but pick them up in his grammar in spite of his strenuous attempts at brevity. The commentators, however, find out a motive for his doing this viz. that appropriate words only could be understood by those terms and not others; cf. महासंज्ञाकरणेन तदनुगुणानामेव अत्र संनिवेशात् । S. युगपदधिकरणवचनता denotation of two or more things by one single member by virtue of their being put together in a dvandva compound of two or more words; the grammarians advocate this doctrine stating that in a dvandva compound such as षट्पट्यौ or षट्पटम्, the word षट् has the capacity of expressing the sense of both षट् and षट्, which in a sentence षटः षट्, it does not possess. Similarly षट् also has the capacity of conveying the sense of both षट् and षट्. Possibly this theory is advocated by grammarians, on the analogy of words like पितरौ or मातरौ for मातापितरौ, यावा for यावापृथिवी and so on; cf. सिद्धे तु युगपदधिकरणवचने द्वन्द्ववचनात् P. II.2.29 Vārt. 2. For details see Vyākaraṇamahābhāṣya on चाथे द्वन्द्वः P. II. 2.29.

See अयोगवाह; cf. also M. Bh. on Śiva sūtra 5.

योगविभाग division of a rule which has been traditionally given as one single rule, into two for explaining the formation of certain words, which otherwise are likely to be stamped as ungrammatical formations. The writer of the Vārttikas and the author of the Mahābhāṣya have very frequently taken recourse to this method of योगविभाग; cf. P.I.1.3 Vart. 8, I.1.17 Vart.1, I.1.61, Vart. 3; I. 4.59 Vart. 1, II. 4. 2. Vart.2, III.1.67 Vart. 5, III.4.2. Vart. 6, VI.1. 1 Vart. 5, VI.1.33 Vart.1 etc. Although this Yogavibhāga is not a happy method of removing difficulties and has to be followed as a last recourse, the Vārttikakāra has suggested it very often, and sometimes a sūtra which is divided by the Vārttikakāra into two, has been recognised as a couple of sūtras in the Sūtrapāṭha which has come down to us at present.

लघुशब्देन्दुशेखर name of a commentary on Bhaṭṭoji's Siddhāntakaumudī written by Nāgeśa Bhaṭṭa, the stalwart Grammarian of the eighteenth century. The work is named लघुशब्देन्दुशेखर which differentiates it from the author's another work बृहत्शब्देन्दुशेखर of which the former is an abridgment. As the study of the Laghuśabdenduśekhara is very common and as the Bṛhatśabdenduśekhara is seldom studied, it is always the Laghuśabdenduśekhara that is understood by the simple and popular name Śekhara.

Although after the disappearance of an affix no operation for the base before, can take place as conditioned by the affix, i. e. although there is no प्रत्ययलक्षण, still, when the disappearance is mentioned as लुप्, the base gets the gender and number of that original form of it which existed before the affix, which has disappeared, was applied; cf. कुतः देशः, चञ्चव पुरुषः चञ्जाः cf. लुपि बुकवद् भ्याक्तिवचने. P. I. 2.51 and Kāśikā thereon.

The forms of लेट् are to be arrived at as they are found actually used in Vedic language, even by placing personal-endings of a person or number different from what is actually required.

वरदराज a scholar of grammar and a pupil of Bhaṭṭoji Dikṣita who flourished in the end of the seventeenth century and wrote abridgments of the Siddhānta-kaumudī for beginners in grammar named लघुसिद्धान्तकौमुदी and मध्यसिद्धान्तकौमुदी as also धातुकारिकावली and गौर्वाणपदमञ्जरी. The work under the name सारसिद्धान्तकौमुदी, which is the shortest abridgment, is, in fact, the लघुसिद्धान्तकौमुदी itself. It is possible that the author first prepared the सारसिद्धान्तकौमुदी and then, he himself or a pupil of his, put additional necessary matter and prepared the Laghusiddhānta-kaumudī.

वररुचि (1) a reputed ancient grammarian who is identified with Kātyāyana, the prominent author of the Vārttikās on the Sūtras of Pāṇini. Both the names वररुचि and कात्यायन are mentioned in commentary works in connection with the Vārttikās on the Sūtras of Pāṇini, and it is very likely that Vararuci was the individual name of the scholar, and Kātyāyana his family name. The words कात्य and कात्यायन are found used in Śloka-vārttikās in the Mahābhāṣya on P.III.2.3 and III.2.118 where references made are actually found in the prose

Vārttikas (see कविषो सर्वत्र प्रसारणम्योः P. III. 2. 3 Vārt. 1 and स्मपुरा भूमन्ति न स्मपुराजतने P. III. 2. 118 Vārt. 1) indicating that the Śloka-vārttika-kāra believed that the Vārttikas were composed by Kātyāyana. There is no reference at all in the Mahābhāṣya to Vararuci as a writer of the Vārttikas; there is only one reference which shows that there was a scholar by name Vararuci known to Patañjali, but he was a poet; cf. वाररुचं कान्ये in the sense of 'composed' (कृत and not प्रोक्त) by वररुचि M. Bh. on P. IV. 2.4. (2) वररुचि is also mentioned as the author of the Prākṛta Grammar known by the name प्राकृतप्रकाश or प्राकृतमञ्जरी. This वररुचि, who also was कान्यायन by Gotra name, was a grammarian later than Patañjali, who has been associated with Śarvvarman, (the author of the first three Adhyāyas of the Kātantra Sūtras), as the author of the fourth Adhyāya. Patañjali does not associate वररुचि with Kātyāyana at all. His mention of वररुचि as a writer of a Kāvya is a sufficient testimony for that. Hence, it appears probable that Kātyāyana, to whom the authorship of the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya and many other works allied with Veda has been attributed, was not associated with Vararuci by Patañjali, and it is only the later writers who identified the grammarian Vararuci, who composed the fourth Adhyāya of the Kātantra Grammar and wrote a Prākṛit Grammar and some other grammar works, with the ancient revered Kātyāyana; the author of Vārttikas, the Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya and the Puṣpasūtra; (3) There was a comparatively modern grammarian named वररुचि who wrote a small treatise on genders of words consisting of about 125 stanzas with a commentary named Lingavṛtti, possibly written by the author himself. (4) There was also another modern grammarian by name वररुचि who wrote a work on syntax named त्रयैगमुखमण्डन discussing the four topics कारक, समास, तद्धित and कृदन्त.

वर्ग name given to the different classes of consonants which are headed by an unaspirate surd; e. g. कवर्ग, चवर्ग, टवर्ग, तवर्ग and पवर्ग. The several consonants in each group or class, are, in their serial order, named वर्गप्रथम, वर्गद्वितीय etc. On the analogy of these five classes, the semivowels are called by the name ववर्ग and sibilants are called by the name शवर्ग.

वर्ग्यादि a class of words headed by the word वार्ष which have their initial vowel accented acute when they stand as second members of a tatpuruṣa compound other than the karmadhāraya type of it; e. g. वामुदेववर्ग्यः, अर्जुनवर्ग्यः; cf. Kāś. on P. VI. 2.131.

वर्ण phonemic unit; a letter. The term was in use in ancient times and found used generally in the

वर्णसमाज्ञाय a collection of letters or alphabet given traditionally. Although the Sanskrit alphabet has got everywhere the same cardinal letters i.e. vowels अ, इ etc., consonants क, ख etc., semivowels य, र, ल, व, sibilants श् ष् स् ह् and a few additional phonetic units such as अनुस्वार, विसर्ग and others, still their number and order differ in the different traditional enumerations. Pāṇini has not mentioned them actually but the fourteen Śiva Sūtras, on which he has based his work, mention only 9 vowels and 34 consonants, the long vowels being looked upon as varieties of the short ones. The Śikṣā of Pāṇini mentions 63 or 64 letters, adding the letter ङ (दुःस्वृत्); cf. त्रिवर्तिः चतुःषड्विंशति वर्णाः शम्भुमते मताः Pāṇini Śikṣā. St.3. The Ṛk Prātiśākhya adds four (Visarga, Jihvāmūliya, Upadhmaniya and Anusvāra) to the forty three given in the Śiva Sūtras and mentions 47. The Taittirīya Prātiśākhya mentions 52 letters viz. 16 vowels, 25 class consonants, 4 semivowels, six sibilants (श्, ष्, स्, ह्, × क्, × प्,) and anusvāra. The Vājasaneyi Prātiśākhya mentions 65 letters 3 varieties of अ, इ, उ, ऋ and ल, two varieties of ए, ऐ, ओ, औ, 25 class-consonants, four semivowels, four sibilants, and ङ्गिहामूलीय, उपधमानीय, अनुस्वार, विसर्गनीय, नासिक्य and four यम letters; cf. एते पञ्चषड्विंशति ब्रह्मराशिरात्मवाचः V. Pr. VIII. 25. The Ṛk Tantra gives 57 letters viz. 14 vowels, 25 class consonants, 4 semivowels, 4 sibilants, Visarga, Jihvāmūliya, Upadhmaniya, Anunāsika, 4 yamas and two Anusvāras. The Ṛk

Tantra gives two different serial orders, the Uddesa (common) and the Upadesa (traditional). The common order or Uddesa gives the 14 vowels beginning with अ, then the 25 class consonants, then the four semivowels, the four sibilants and lastly the eight ayogavāhas, viz. the visarjaniya and others. The traditional order gives the diphthongs first, then long vowels (आ, ऋ, ॠ, ई and ऊ) then short vowels (अ, इ, उ, and lastly ए), then semivowels, then the five fifth consonants, the five fourths, the five thirds, the five seconds, the five firsts, then the four sibilants and then the eight ayogavāha letters and two Ausvāras instead of one anusvāra. Pāṇini appears to have followed the traditional order with a few changes that are necessary for the technique of his work.

वर्णानर्थवत्त्व the view that letters do not possess the sense, as individually in every letter no separate sense is seen; cf. अनर्थकस्तु etc. M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 5, Vārt. 14 and 15.

वर्णार्थवत्त्व the theory or view that individual letters are severally possessed of different senses. For instance, the difference in the meanings of the words कूप, यूप, and सूप is due to the difference in their initial letter. The theory is not acceptable to the Vaiyākaraṇas nor the theory वर्णानर्थवत्त्व given above. They follow the theory of संघातार्थवत्त्व i. e. sense given by a group of words together. See M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 5, Vārttikas 9 to 15.

वर्णाश्रय a grammatical operation depending upon a single letter i. e. an operation caused by a letter singly; cf. वर्णाश्रये नास्ति प्रत्ययलक्षणम् ।

वर्णिकुबेरनाथ or वर्णिकुबेरानन्द an old writer on grammar who has written a work named शब्दविवरण on the meanings of words. The work forms a part of his bigger work दानभागवत. Both the works are incomplete. The शब्दविवरण is based mostly upon ancient grammar works of Patañjali Vararuci, Vārttikakāra, Śarvavarman, Bhartṛhari and others.

वर्णिकदेश a part or a portion of a combined letter i. e. संयुक्तस्वर or संयुक्तव्यञ्जन. The diphthongs or संयुक्तस्वराः are divisible into two Svaras, for instance ऐ into आ and ए, औ into आ and ओ. Similarly double consonants like क्ख, च्च, स्म, स्त् etc. are also divisible. Regarding the point raised whether the individual parts can be looked upon as separate letters for undergoing or causing a grammatical operation, the decision of the grammarians is that they cannot be looked upon as separate, when they are completely mixed as the diphthongs: cf. नाभ्यवृत्तस्यावयवस्य तद्विधियेषा द्रव्येषु M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 3, 4 Vārt. 6.

वर्त a term used by ancient grammarians and later on by commentators for compound words; cf. वर्तन वर्तः समासः Nyāsa on Kāś. II. 4. 15.

वर्तमाना a term used by ancient grammarians for the present tense, along with the term वर्तमान also; cf. यदा हि बुद्धिकर्म तदा वर्तमाना भविष्यति, M. Bh. on P. III. 3. 133 Vārt. 8.

वर्तिन् from वर्त which means a compound; see वर्त, (1) The term वर्तिन् or वर्तिपद is used in the sense of a member of a compound; cf. वर्तोत्यास्तीति वर्ति समासावयवभूतम् Nyāsa on P. II. 4.15. (2) The term वर्तिन् is also used for a syllable (अक्षरम्); cf. वर्ति R.T.47, explained by the commentator as अकारादियु वर्तते व्यञ्जने वर्ति चाप्यक्षरं भवति । cf. also गुर्गक्षराणां गुर्गृत्ति सर्वे R. Pr. XVIII.32.

वर्त्य lit. gingival, or produced at the gums; the letter र according to some scholars who believe that र is produced at the root of the teeth i.e. at the gums; cf. एके आचार्या रेफं वर्त्यमिच्छन्ति । वर्से भवो वर्त्यः । वर्सेशब्देन दन्तमूलादुपरिप्रादुच्छ्रुतः प्रदेशः (gums) उच्यते Uvvaṭa on R.Pr.I.20.

वर्त्येत् future, belonging to future; cf. वर्त्येत्प्रवृत्त्या इह कार्याणि क्रियन्ते Paribhāṣā 87 given by Śirādeva.

वर्धमान (1) a long vowel; (2) name of a famous Jain grammarian, disciple of Govindasūri, who lived in the beginning of the twelfth century A.D. and wrote a metrical work on gaṇas or groups of words in grammar, named गणरत्नमहोदधि, and also a commentary on it. The work consists of 8 chapters and has got some commentaries besides the well-known one by the author himself. He also wrote two other works on grammar कातन्त्रविस्तर and क्रियागुणक as also a few religious books.

वर्ध name of an ancient scholar of grammar and Mīmāṃsā, cited by some as the preceptor of कात्यायन and Pāṇini. If not of Pāṇini, he may have been a preceptor of Kātyāyana.

वर्त्य or वर्त्यं gingival, produced at the gums; the word वर्त्य is probably the correct word meaning the root of the teeth or gums; the word वर्स was also used in the same sense as वर्त्य from which the word वर्त्य could be derived. वर्त्य and वर्त्य are only the variant pronunciations of वर्त्य and वर्त्य. The word वर्त्य, with त् inserted between र and स्, is given above as explained by Uvvaṭa from वर्स. It is very likely that वर्स is wrongly written for वर्त्य or वर्स.

instruments and adverbs; cf. आख्यातं वाक्यं सकारकं सकारकविशेषणं वाक्यसंज्ञं भवतीति वक्तव्यम् । साम्बयम् । उच्यैः पठति । सकारकम् । ओदनं पचति । M. Bh. on P. II. 1.1. Vārt. 10. Regarding the different theoretical ways of the interpretation of a sentence see the word शाब्दबोध. वाक्यकार a term used for a writer who composes a work in pithy, brief assertions in the manner of 'Sūtras, such as the Vārttikas. The term is found used in Bhartṛhari's Mahābhāṣyadīpikā where by contrast with the term Bhāṣyakāra it possibly refers to the Vārttikakāra Kātyāyana; cf. एषा भाष्यकारस्य कल्पना न वाक्यकारस्य Bhartṛhari Mahābhāṣyadīpikā. cf. also Nāgeśa's statement वाक्यकारो वार्तिककारभवेत्; cf. also सुदुस्मादयो वाक्यकारीयाः Mādhaviyā Dhātuvṛtti.

वाक्यपदी name of a work on the denotation of words in verse-form with a commentary of his own written by a grammarian named गङ्गादास. The name वाक्यपदी is confounded with वाक्यपदीय of Bhartṛhari through mistake.

वाक्यपदीय a celebrated work on meanings of words and sentences written by the famous grammarian Bhartṛhari (called also Hari) of the seventh century. The work is looked upon as a final authority regarding the grammatical treatment of words and sentences for their interpretation and often quoted by later grammarians. It consists of three chapters the Padakāṇḍa or Brahmakāṇḍa, the Vākyakāṇḍa and the Saṁkirṇakāṇḍa, and has got an excellent commentary written by Punyarāja and Helārāja.

वाक्यपदीयटीका name of a commentary on Bhartṛhari's Vākyapadiya written by Punyarāja on the first and the second Kāṇḍa. Some scholars hold the view that the commentary on the first kāṇḍa was written by Bhartṛhari himself.

वाक्यपरिसमाप्ति completion of the idea to be expressed in a sentence or in a group of sentences by the wording actually given, leaving nothing to be understood as contrasted with वाक्यपरिसमाप्ति used in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. वाक्यपरिसमाप्तेर्वा P.I.1.10 Vārt. 4 and the Mahābhāṣya thereon. There are two ways in which such a completion takes place, singly and collectively; cf. प्रत्येकं वाक्यपरिसमाप्तिः illustrated by the usual example देवदत्तवज्रदत्तविष्णुमित्रा मोक्ष्यन्ताम् where Patañjali remarks प्रत्येकं (प्रत्येकवचनं) भुविः परिसमाप्यते; cf. also समुदाये वाक्यपरिसमाप्तिः where Pātañjali remarks गर्गाः शतं दण्ड्यन्ताम् । अर्थिनश्च राजानो हिरण्येन भवन्ति न च प्रत्येकं दण्ड्यन्ति । M. Bh. on P.I.1.1 Vārt. 12; cf. also M. Bh. on P.I.1.7, I.2.39, II.2.1 etc.

Sek. on Pari. 13.

Bh. on P. I. 1.57 Vārt. 6; cf. कामचाश्व वतिनिर्देशे वाक्यशेषं समर्थयितुम् । तथाया ! उशीनस्वन्मद्रेषु गावः ! सन्ति न सन्तीति । मातृवदस्याः कलाः ! सन्ति न सन्तीति ! M. Bh. on P.I.3.62.

वाक्यसंस्कारपक्ष the grammarian's theory that as the individual words have practically no existence as far as the interpretation or the expression of sense is concerned, the sentence alone being capable of conveying the sense, the formation of individual words in a sentence is explained by putting them in a sentence and knowing their mutual relationship. The word गाम् cannot be explained singly by showing the base गो and the case ending अम् unless it is seen in the sentence गाम् आनय; cf. यथा वाक्यसंस्कारपक्षे कृष्णादि-संबुद्धयन्त उपपदे कथेः किन्ति कृते कृष्ण कथु ति इति स्थिते, अस्मिद्धस्यात्पूर्वमाद्रुणे कृते अचो रूढाम्यामिति द्वित्वं . . Pari. Bhaskara Pari. 99. The view is put in alternation with the other view, viz. the पदसंस्कारपक्ष which has to be accepted in connection with the गौणमुख्य-न्याय; cf. पदस्थैव गौणार्थकत्वस्य ग्रहेण अस्य

(गौणमुख्यव्यायस्य) पदकार्यविषयत्वेमेवोचितम् । अन्यथा वाक्यसंस्कारपक्षे तेषु तदनापत्तिः Par. Sek. on Pari. 15. The grammarians usually follow the वाक्यसंस्कारपक्ष.

वाक्यार्थ the meaning of a sentence, which comes as a whole composite idea when all the constituent words of it are heard; cf. पदानां सामान्ये वर्तमानानां यद्विशेषोऽवस्थानं स वाक्यार्थः, M.Bh. on P.I.2.45 Vārt. 4. According to later grammarians the import or meaning of a sentence (वाक्यार्थ) flashes out suddenly in the mind of the hearer immediately after the sentence is completely uttered. The import is named प्रतिभा by Bhartṛhari, cf. Vākya-padiya II.45; cf. also वाक्यार्थश्च प्रतिभामाश्रयिष्यः Laghumaṅgūṣṭh. For details and the six kinds of vākya-rtha, see Vākya-padiya II.154.

वाक्यार्थचन्द्रिका name of a commentary on the Paribhāṣenduśekhara by Hari Śāstrī Bhāgawata.

वाक्यैकदेश part of a sentence which sometimes, on the strength of the context, conveys the whole meaning; cf. दृश्यन्ते हि वाक्येषु वाक्यैकदेशान् प्रयुञ्जानाः पदेषु च पदैकदेशान् । प्रविश पिण्डीम् । प्रविश तपणम् । पदेषु पदैकदेशान् देवदत्तो दत्तः । सत्यमामा भागेति M.Bh. on P.I.1.45 Vārt. 3.

वाच् (1) expression from the mouth; speech; series of sounds caused by expelling the air from the lungs through differently shaped positions of the mouth and the throat; cf. स संवातादीन् प्राप्य वाग्भवति Vaj. Pr.I.9; see the word वाणी; (2) the sacred or divine utterance referring to the Veda; cf. ऋच्या वाचः परं पदम्; (3) term used for उपपद in the Jainendra Vyākaraṇa; cf. वाचिभक्तेः कारक-पिभक्तिर्वैलीयस्य Jain. Pari. 104.

वाचक expressive, as contrasted with शैलक, व्यञ्जक, सूचक and भेदक which mean suggestive; the term is used in connection with words which directly convey their sense by denotation, as opposed to words which convey indirectly the sense or suggest it as the prefixes or Nipātas do.

वाचनिक expressly cited by a वचन or a statement of the authors of the Sūtra, the Vārttika and the Mahābhāṣya, as contrasted with what naturally occurs or is inferred from their statements; cf. नेदं वाचनिकम-लिङ्गता असंशयता च (अव्ययानाम्) । स्वाभाविकमेतत् M.Bh. on P.I. 1.38 Vārt. 5 and P. II.2.6; cf. also M.Bh. on P.I.2.64 Vārt. 53.

वाचनिकी See वाचनिक above; cf. किं स्वाभाविकी निवृत्तिरहेतिस्विद्वचनिकी M.Bh. on P. II.2.6; cf. also the usual expression वाचनिकी एषा with respect to some Paribhāṣās or maxims.

वाचिका expressing directly, denoting; (fem. of वाचक); cf. तयोरेनिसंवाच्यस्य षष्ठी वाचिका भवति M. Bh. on P.II. 1.1 Vārt. 4.

वाच्य (1) directly expressed (sense) as contrasted with व्यङ्ग्य or ध्वनित; cf. शब्दनाथान् वाच्यान् दृष्ट्वा बुद्धौ कुर्यात्तौर्वाच्यम् । M.Bh. on P. I.4.109 Vārt. 10; (2) which should be stated or which deserves to be stated. The word वाच्य is generally put in connection with the additions or corrections to the sūtras by the Vārttikakāra and the Mahābhāṣyakāra in their explanations; cf. तत्रैतावदाच्यम्, M.Bh. on P. I.4.1; cf. also वाच्य ऊर्णोष्णद्वयः M.Bh. on P. III.1. 22 Vārt. 3; III. 1. 36 Vārt. 6.

वाजप्यायन an ancient grammarian who holds the view that words denote always the jāti i.e. they always convey the generic sense and that the individual object or the case is understood in connection with the statement or the word, as a natural course, when the purpose is not served by faking the generic sense; cf. आहृत्यभिधानाद् एकं शब्दं विभक्तौ वाजसनेयान् आचार्यो न्यायं मन्यते M. Bh. on P. I.2.64 Vārt. 35.

वाजसनेयिप्रातिशाख्य the Prātisākhya work belonging to the Vājasaneyi branch of the White Yajurveda, which is the only Prātisākhya existing to-day representing all the branches of the Śukla Yajurveda. Its authorship is attributed to Kātyāyana, and on account of its striking resemblance with Pāṇini's sūtras at various places, its author Kātyāyana is likely to be the same as the Vārttikakāra Kātyāyana. It is quite reasonable to expect that the subject matter in this Prātisākhya is based on that in the ancient Prātisākhya works of the same White school of the Yajurveda. The work has a lucid commentary called Bhāṣya written by Uvvaṭa.

वाडव possibly the same as Kuṭṭara-vādava; an ancient grammarian quoted in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. तत्र सौम्यमगवतोऽवतमनिष्ठो वाडवः पठति, M. Bh. on P. VIII. 2. 106 Vārt. 3.

वाणी speech; utterance; the same as वाच् which is believed to be of four kinds as cited by the grammarians and explained by Bharṭrhari; the four kinds are based upon the four places of origin, the three first places belonging to the inarticulate speech and the fourth belonging to the articulate one; cf. चत्वारि वाच्यरिमिता पदानि तानि विदुर्ब्रह्मणा ये मनोविणः । गुहा त्रीणि निहिता मेह्वयन्ति तुरीयं वाचो मनुष्या वदन्ति, M. Bh. I Āhnika 1 and the Pradīpa and Uddyota thereon.

वात्सप्र an ancient writer of Prātisākhya works who believed in the very feeble utterance (लघुप्रयत्नतर) of the consonants व and वृ, when preceded by अ and standing at the end of a word. See लघुप्रयत्न.

वादनक्षत्रमाला a work on grammatical debates etc. by Appaya Dikṣita, a well-known scholar and a senior contemporary of Jagannātha in the seventeenth century.

वादि roots headed by वा and similar to वा. Really there is no class of roots headed by वा given anywhere but in the interpretation of the rule भूवादयो वातवः it is suggested that 'the roots which are similar to वा are termed roots (वातु)' could also be the interpretation of the rule; cf. भूवादय इति च वादय इति M. Bh. on P. I. 3. 1. Vārt. 11.

वादित्रटसुदूर name of a commentary on the Śārasvata Vyākaraṇa by a grammarian Jayanta.

वान the suffix वन् mentioned as वान in the Atharvaprātisākhya and illustrated in the word कृतावान्; cf. A. Pr. III. 24.

वामन name of one of the joint authors of the well-known gloss or वृत्ति upon the Sūtras of Pāṇini, who lived in the seventh century A. D. It cannot be ascertained which portion of the Kāśikā was written by Vāmana and which by his colleague जयादित्य. There was another famous scholar of Kashmir by name Vāmana who flourished in the tenth century and who wrote an independent grammar treatise विभ्रान्तविद्याचर, together with उणादिसूत्रशुचि and लिङ्गानुशासन.

वायु air or प्राण, which is believed to spring up from the root of the navel and become a cause (even a material cause according to some scholars) of sound of four kinds produced at four different places, the last kind being audible to us; cf. प्राणो वर्णानभिन्वय्य दग्धेऽथेवोपलभ्यते Vāk-yapadiya I.116; cf. also R.Pr.XIII. 13. V.Pr. I.7-9; T.Pr.II.2; Śikṣā of Pāṇini st. 6.

वारणाचवेश a grammarian of the seventeenth century who wrote a gloss named अमृतलुति on the Prakriyā-kaumudī.

वारह्व a work attributed to बरह्वि; cf. वारह्वं कान्यम् M. Bh.on P. IV.3.101; cf. also वारह्वो ग्रन्थः S.K.on P.IV.3. 101. This work possibly was not a grammar work and its author also was not the same as the Vārttikakāra Kātyāyana. See बरह्वि above. The name वारह्वन्धाकरम् was given possibly to Kātyāyana's Prakrit Grammar, the author of which was बरह्वि surnamed Kātyāyana. For details see p.395 Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. D. E. Society's Edition.

वारह्वकारिका an ancient grammar-work in verse believed to have been written by an ancient scholar of grammar, who, if not the same as Kātyāyana who wrote the Vārttikas, was his contemporary and to whom the authorship of the Uṇādi Sūtras is ascribed by some scholars. See बरह्वि.

वार्त of no use; serving no purpose; the word is possibly derived from वार्ता (लोकवार्ता) meaning people's gossip; cf. एतच्च वार्तम् M.Bh.on P.I.2. 64 Vārt. 25; also on P. II.2.24, II. 4.13 etc.

वार्तिक a statement which is as much authoritative as the original statement to which it is given as an addition for purposes of correction, completion or explanation. The word is defined by old writers in an often-quoted verse उक्तानुक्तदुरुक्तानां चिन्ता यत्र प्रयतेते । तं ग्रन्थं वार्तिकं प्राहुर्वार्तिकशा मनोविष्णुः। This definition fully applies to the vārttikas on the Sūtras of Pāṇini. The word is explained by Kaiyaṣa as वृत्ती साधु वार्तिकम् which gives strength to the supposition that there were glosses on the Sūtras of Pāṇini of which the Vārttikas formed a faithful pithy summary of the topics discussed. The word vārttika is used in the Mahābhāṣya at two places only इत्येः पूर्वविप्रविधेवो वार्तिकस्य शक्तिः M.Bh. on P.III.4.37 and अपर आह यद्वार्तिकं इति M.Bh. on P. II.2.24 Vārt. 18. In अपर आह यद्वार्तिकं इति the word is contrasted with the word वृत्तिरुच which means the original Sūtra (of Pāṇini) which has been actually quoted, viz. संख्ययान्वयासन्नो II.2. 25. Nāgeśa gives सूत्रे अनुस्तदुपसृति-न्ताकरत्वं वार्तिकत्वम् as the definition of a Vārttika which refers only to two out of the three features of the Vārttikas stated above. If the word उक्त has been omitted with a purpose by Nāgeśa, the definition may well-nigh lead to support the view that the genuine Vārttikapāṭha of Kātyāyana consisted of a smaller number of Vārttikas which along with a large number of Vārttikas of other writers are quoted in the Mahābhāṣya, without specific names of writers. For details see pages 193-223 Vol. VII Pāṇinīya Mahābhāṣya, D.E. Society's Edition.

वार्तिककार believed to be Kātyāyana to whom the whole bulk of the Vārttikas quoted in the Mahābhāṣya is attributed by later grammarians. Pāṇinīya gives the word वार्तिककार in four places only (in the Mahābhāṣya on P.I.1.34, III.1.44; III.2.118 and VII.1.1) out of which his statement, स्यादि-

विधिः पुरान्तः यद्यदिशेषेण भवति किं वार्तिककारः प्रक्षिपेन करोति in explanation of the Sloka-vārttika स्वादिविधिः...इति भुवता काल्यायनेनेह, shows that Patañjali gives काल्यायन as the Vārttikakāra (of Vārttikas in small prose statements) and the Sloka-vārttika is not composed by Kātyāyana. As assertions similar to those made by other writers are quoted with the names of their authors (भारद्वाजीवाः, सीनागाः, कौश्टीयाः etc.) in the Mahābhāṣya, it is evident that the Vārttikas quoted in the Mahābhāṣya—(even excluding the Sloka-vārttikas) did not all belong to Kātyāyana. For details see pp. 193-200, Vol. VII, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's Edition.

वार्तिकपाठ the text of the Vārttikas as traditionally handed over in the oral recital or in manuscripts. As observed above(see: वार्तिक), although a large number of Vārttikas quoted in the Mahābhāṣya are ascribed to Kātyāyana, the genuine Vārttikapāṭha giving such Vārttikas only, as were definitely composed by him, has not been preserved and Nāgeśa has actually gone to the length of making a statement like "वार्तिकपाठः ब्रह्म"; cf. Uddyota on P.I.1.12 Vārttika 6.

वार्तिकवचन a small pithy statement or assertion in the manner of the original sūtras which is held as much authoritative as the Sūtra; cf. न ह्यमो वृत्तिसूत्रवचनप्रामाण्यादिति । किं तर्हि । वार्तिकवचनप्रामाण्यादिति । M.Bh. on P.II.1.1 Vārttika 23.

वार्तिकसिद्धान्त categorical conclusive statements made by the Vārttikakāra many of which were cited later on as Paribhāṣās by later writers. For details see pp. 212-

220 Vol. VII, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya, D. E. Society's edition.

वार्तिकसूत्र the same as वार्तिकवचन which see above. The Vārttikas are termed Vārttika sūtras on account of their close similarity with the original Sūtras, which in contrast are termed Vṛttisūtras.

वार्थ्यायणि an ancient grammarian quoted in the Mahābhāṣya and the Nirukta in connection with the six-fold division of bhāva or verbal activity; cf. षड् भावविकारा भवन्तीति वार्थ्यायणिः । जायते अस्ति विपरिणमते षषेते अपथीयते विनश्यतीति Nir. I. 3.

वाचचन citing an option not specifically by the particle वा, but by the terms विभाषा, अन्यतरस्याम् and the like; cf. ह्यक्रोर्वाचने अभिवादिदेशोरात्मनेपद उपसंख्यानम् P. I. 453 Vārt. 1; cf. also M.Bh. on P.I.3.79, II.1.18 etc.

वाविधि, वाविधान also, laying down an option regarding a grammatical operation; cf. स्वस्तियोगे चतुर्थी कुशलार्थ्य-रक्षिणि वाविधानात् P.II.3.16 Vārt. 1; cf. also अविशेषेण अवादिनां वाविधिमुक्त्वा सार्वधातुके नित्यमिति वक्ष्यामि M.Bh. on P.III.1.31 Vārt. 2; cf. also M.Bh. on P.III.1.94.

वासरूपन्याय the dictum of applying optionally any two or more kṛt affixes to a root if they become applicable at one and the same time, only provided that those affixes are not in the topic of स्त्रियाम् (P.III.3.94 etc.) and are not the same in appearance such as ण, अ, क etc., which are the same viz. अ; cf. वासरूपोऽस्त्रियाम् P.III.1.94; cf. also वासरूपन्यायेन ण्लुपि भविष्यति M.Bh. on P.III.2.146 Vārt. 1; cf. also M.Bh. on P.III.2.150 Vārt. 1. The word वासरूप and वासरूपविधि are also used in the same sense; cf. ताच्छीलिका वासरूपेण न भवन्तीति M.Bh. on P.III.

2.150 Vārt. 2, as also ताच्छ्रील्लिङ्गेषु वासु- देवविधिर्नास्ति Par. Śek. Pari. 67.

वासुदेव दीक्षित son of महादेव दीक्षित, the author of the Bālaṃanorāṃā, a commentary on the Siddhāntakaumudī. Vāsudevadīksita was a resident of Tanjore who lived in the beginning of the eighteenth century A.D. and wrote a few works on Pūrvamīmāṃsā.

वासुदेव (शाल्बी) surnamed Abhyankar, who lived from 1863 to 1942 and did vigorous and active work of teaching pupils and writing essays, articles, commentary works and original works on various Shāstras with the same scholarship, zeal and acumen for fifty years in Poona.
He wrote गूढार्थप्रकाश a commentary on the Laghuśabdenduśekhara and तत्त्वादरश a commentary on the Pari-bhāsenduśekhara in 1889. His edition of the Pātañjala Mahābhāṣya with full translation and notes in Marāṭhī can be called his magnum opus. See अभ्यंकर.

वि (1) Uṇādi affix वि quoted by Pāṇini in the rule जाप्रोऽविचिञ्चुङ्ङित्सु VII.
1.85; e.g. जापविः; cf. ज्ञयुस्नुजापभ्यः
किन् Uṇādi IV. 54; also वृद्ध्यां विन्
IV.53; (2) common term for the affixes क्विप्, क्विन्, क्वि, क्वि, क्विन्, क्विञ् and विद्. See वृ.

विकृ augment वि as seen in the word दक्षिशुतत् given as a nipātana in the sūtra दाधार्तिदधति ...P. VII.4.65; cf.
दक्षिशुतदिति शुतेर्यद्दुलगतस्य शतरि अन्वासस्य
संप्रसारणाभावः अलं विकृ आगमश्च निपात्यते
Kāś. on P.VII.4.65.

विकम्पित a fault in the pronunciation of vowels, the utterance being attended with a kind of tremor;
cf. मल्लं निस्त...विकम्पितम् | M. Bh. at the end of Āhnika 1.

विकरण an affix placed between a root and the personal ending, for showing the specific tense or mood or voice to convey which, the personal ending is applied; e. g.

the conjugational signs शप्, स्वप्, धु, श, भम्, उ, आ and यक्, आम्, as also स्य, तास्, सिप्, आम् and च्छि with its substitutes. Although the term विकरण is used by ancient grammarians and freely used by the Mahābhāṣyakāra in connection with the affixes, mentioned in the sūtras of Pāṇini, such as शप्, स्वप्, and others, the term is not found in the Sūtras of Pāṇini. The vikaraṇas are different from the major kinds of the regular affixes लिङ्, कृत्य and other similar ones. The vikaraṇas can be called कृत्; so also, as they are mentioned in the topic (अधिकार) of affixes or Pratyayas, they hold the designation 'pratyaya'.
For the use of the word विकरण see M. Bh. on P. I.3. 12, III, 1.31 and
VI. 1.5. The term विकरण is found in the Yājñavalkya Śikṣā in the sense of change, (cf. उपधारजनं कुर्वात्मनोर्विकरणे सति) and possibly the ancient grammarians used it in that very sense as they found the root कृ modified as कर् or कुर्, or चि as चिन्, or भू as भव before the regular personal endings लिप्, तस् etc.

विकर्ष (1) a fault in the utterance of a vowel with its proper accent (acute, grave or circumflex) which results from the proper accent being mixed with another in the utterance; cf. विकर्षो नामाक्षिप्तता Uvvaon R. Pr. III. 18; (2) protraction of the accent especially of the circumflex accent.

विकल्प choice or option re : the application of a rule as stated by the word वा, विभाषा, अन्यतरस्याम् or the like; cf. वेति प्रतिषेधो वेति विकल्पः तयोः प्रतिषेधविकल्पयोः 'विभाषा' इति संज्ञा भवति ,

विभाषाप्रक्रमे प्रतिषेधविकल्पी उपतिष्ठते ! तत्र प्रतिषेधेन समाहृते विषये पश्चाद्विकल्पः प्रवर्तते Kās. on P. I. 1.44.

विकार lit. change; modification; modification of a word-base or an affix, caused generally by the addition of suffixes; cf. प्रकृतेरवस्थान्तरं विकारः Kās. on P. IV.3.134; cf. also लोपागमवर्णविकारो हि सम्बन्धेदान् परिपालयित्ति Mahābhāṣya Āhnika 1.

विकार्य lit. changeable; that which gets changed in its nature; a variety or subdivision of कर्म or the object; cf. त्रिविधं कर्म । निर्वर्त्य विकार्यं प्राप्य चेति । Kās. on P. III. 2.1. The विकार्यकर्म is explained as वस्य प्रकृत्युक्तेदो वृणान्तरं वा उत्पद्यते तद्विकार्यम् । यया भुक्त ओदनः । दृग्मानः कदारः । Śrī-gṛāprakāśa II; cf. also, Vākya-padiya III. 7.78.

विकीर्ण a fault in the utterance of a vowel when one vowel appears, or is heard as another; cf. विकीर्णा वर्णान्तरे प्रसृतः । एकाच्यनेकनिर्मासोत्परे Pradipa on the Mahābhāṣya Āhn. 1 end.

विकृत mutilated, changed in nature: e. g. the word राम into राम् in रामो which is equivalent to राम् + ओ. For technical purposes in grammar a word, although mutilated a little by lopa, āgama or varṇavikāra, is looked upon as the original one for undergoing operations: cf. एकदेशविकृतमन्यथम् Par. Śek. Pari. 37.

विकृतनिर्देश utterance of a word in its mutilated form with some object in view; e. g. दीभ्यन् for दीभ्यति in प्राग्दीभ्यतोऽम् P. IV. 1. 83; cf. किं पुनः कारणं विकृतनिर्देशः क्विचेत् । M. Bh. on P. IV.1.83; cf. also कर्ष इति विकृतनिर्देशः कुम्भेनेर्दृश्यथः Kās on P. VI. 1. 159; cf. also गोहृ इति विकृतिकरणं विषयार्थम् Kās. on P. VI. 4. 89.

विकृति change, modification as different from the original which is called प्रकृति; cf. प्रकृतिस्पादानकारणं तस्यैव उत्तरमवस्थान्तरं विकृतिः Kās. on P. V. 1.12.

विकृतिवह्वी a work on the modified recital of the Veda words, or पदपाठविकृति, ascribed to Vyādi who is believed to have been a pupil of वर्ष.

विकृतिवह्वीटीका name of a commentary on विकृतिवह्वी (which see above) written by a Vedic scholar गङ्गाधर.

विक्रम (1) name given to a grave vowel placed between two circumflex vowels, or between a circumflex and an acute, or between an acute and a circumflex; cf. स्वारितयोर्मध्ये यत्र नाचं स्वात्, उदात्तयोर्वा अन्यतरतो वा उदात्तस्वारितयोः स विक्रमः T.Pr. XIX.1; (2) name given to a grave vowel between a pracaya vowel and an acute or a circumflex vowel; cf. प्रचयपूर्वश्च कौण्डिन्यस्य T.Pr.XIX.2; (3) repetition of a word or पद as in the Krama recital of the Veda words; (4) name given to a visarjaniya which has remained intact, as for instance in यः प्राणतो निर्मितः; cf. R.Pr. I.5; VI.1; the word विक्रम is sometimes used in the sense of visarjaniya in general; cf. also अनिङ्गयन् विक्रमेषु कुर्यात् R.Pr. XIII.11.

विक्रान्त name given to a saṁdhi where the visarga remains intact although it can optionally be changed into a sibilant consonant; e.g. यः ककुभः, यः पन्न, यो वः शिवतमो रसः । cf. विक्रान्तसंघिसृत् प्राकृतेःपवो वेदितव्यो यत्र विसर्गः श्येत R.Pr.IV.11.

विकृष्ट a fault in the utterance of a letter when there does not take place the necessary contact with the proper place of the utterance of a word; cf. हृन्योः प्रकृतेः सर्वात्त्रलने धिक्लिं नाम दोषो भवति । धिक्लिं नाम असंयुक्तम् R.Pr.XIV.3.

bined elements, for instance, the two or more words in a compound or, the base or affix from a word which is a combination of the base (प्रकृति) and the affix (प्रत्यय:); cf. तदेव सूत्रं विग्रहीतं व्याख्यानं भवति M.Bh. on I.1. Ahnika 1, Vārt. 11, 14; also cf. अवारपाराद् विग्रहोतादपि P. IV.2. 93 Vārt.1.

विग्रह lit. separation of the two parts of a thing; the term is generally applied to the separation of the constituent words of a compound word; it is described to be of two kinds: (a) शास्त्रीयविग्रह or technical separation; e. g. राजपुरुषः into राजन् ऊर् पुश्च सु and (2) लौकिकविग्रह or common or popular separation; e. g. राजपुरुषः into राजः पुरुषः. It is also divided into two kinds according to the nature of the constituent words (a) स्वपदविग्रह separation by means of the constituent words, e.g. राजहितम् into राजे हितम्; (b) अस्वपदविग्रह, e. g. राजायेन् into राजे इदम्; or e.g. सुमुखी into सोमने मुखं अस्याः; cf. M.Bh. on P.V.4.7. The compounds whose separation into constituent words cannot be shown by those words (viz. the constituent words) are popularly termed nityasamāsa. The term नित्यसमास is explained as नित्यः समासो नित्यसमासः । अस्य विग्रहो नास्ति । M.Bh. on P.II.2.19 Vārt. 4. The upapadasamāsa is described as नित्यसमासः. Sometimes especially in some Dvandva compounds each of the two separated words is capable of giving individually the senses of both the words e.g. the words चावा and क्षामा of the compound चावाक्षामा. The word विग्रह is found used in the Prāṭisākhya works in the sense of the separate use of a word as contrasted with the use in a compound; cf. अच्छेति विग्रहे ष्टुतं भवति R.Pr.VII.1. विग्रह is defined as वृत्त्यावयोधकं वाच्यं विग्रहः in the Siddhāntakāumudī.

I.1.50 Vārt. 15; cf. also the famous Paribhāṣā संनिपातलक्षणो विधिरनिमित्तं तद्विघातस्य Par. Śek. Pari. 85; M.Bh. on P.I.1.24 etc.

विग्रहकृत् impediment to an operation caused by something preceding on account of its coming in the way; a vyavāya or vyavadhāna or intervention which is not admissible just as the interruption of palatals, linguals, dentals and sibilants excepting इ for the change of न् into ण्; cf. अभ्येतेत विग्रहे विग्रहकृद्भिः R.Pr. V.25.

विच् kṛt affix वि (which also becomes nil or zero) applied to a root in the sense of an agent, as observed in Vedic and classical use, as also to the root यञ् with उप and roots ending in आ generally in Vedic Literature but sometimes in popular language; cf. विजुषे छन्दसि । आतो मभिन्कनिव्वनिपश्च । अन्येभ्योपि इत्यन्ते । कीलालपाः, शुभेयाः etc. Kāś. on P. III. 2.73, 74, 75.

विचिकित्सार्थीय the indeclinable नूनम् called विचिकित्सार्थीय in the Nirukta; the word विचिकित्सा is explained as confirmation after deliberation by Durgācārya. cf. भाषायाम् । उभयमन्व-प्यायम् । विचिकित्साथीयश्च पदसूत्रश्च । नूनमिति

विचिकित्साथीयः Nir. I.5.

विचित्र of various or wonderful kinds beyond our ken or comprehension

Pr.I.156; (2) doubling of a consonant technically called यम; cf.
अन्तःपदे अपञ्चमः पञ्चमेषु विच्छेदम् V.Pr.
IV.163.

विजयगणिन a Jain grammarian of the seventeenth century who wrote a विप्रतिषेधे परं कार्यम् P.I.4.2; cf. also स तुल्यबलविरोधो विप्रतिषेधः Kās. on P.I.

V. Pr. I.159. The dictum of the application of the subsequent rule is adopted only if the conflicting rules are of equal strength; hence, rules which are either nitya, antaraṅga or apavāda, among which each subsequent one is more powerful than the preceding one and which are all more powerful than the पर or the subsequent rule, set aside the पर rule. There is another dictum that when by the dictum about the subsequent rule being more powerful; an earlier rule is set aside by a later rule, the earlier rule does not apply again in that instance, barring a few exceptional cases; cf. सङ्कटतो विप्रतिषेधे

I.4.104. The term is also applied to tad-affixes which are applied to pronouns, किम् and यद्, ending in the ablative or in the locative case or in other cases on rare occasions. Such affixes are त् (तस्मिन्), च, (त्रल्), इ, अत्, दा, ऋहिल्, दानोम्, था (थाल्) and यम् given in P.V.3.1 to V.3.26. The case affixes are further divided into उपपदविभक्ति affixes and कारकविभक्ति affixes. For details see P.II.3.1 to 73.

विभक्तिप्रतिरूपक a term applied to such words ending with कृत् affixes as appear similar to words ending with case-affixes; such words have no further case affixes put after them, and hence, they are called by the term 'avyaya'; e.g. कर्तुम्; cf. विभक्तिप्रतिरूपकमव्ययम् similar to उपसर्ग-विभक्तिप्रतिरूपकश्च निपाताः gaṇasūtra inside the Cāḍigāṇa P. to a vowel. Such words are looked upon, and are treated as indeclinables; e.g. शनिः, चिरेण, अस्ति, उ, ए etc.; cf. the usual expressions तिष्ठन्तप्रतिरूपकमव्ययम् etc. cf. विभक्तिस्वरप्रतिरूपकाश्च निपाता भवन्ति M. Bh. on P. I.1.38.

विभज्यान्वाख्यान a method of forming a word, or of arriving at the complete form of a word by putting all the constituent elements of the word such as the base, the affix, the augment, the modification, the accent, etc. one after another and then arriving at the form instead of completing the formation stage by stage; e. g. in arriving at the form लौघ्रि the wording लौघ्र + अ + ई is to be considered as it stands and not लौघ्र + अ = लौघ्र and then लौघ्र + ई. The विभक्त्यान्वयस्यानपक्ष in connection with the formation of a word corresponds to the पद-संस्कारपक्ष in connection with the formation of a sentence.

विभाग (1) lit. division, splitting; the splitting of a sentence into its constituent parts viz. the words; the splitting of a word into its constituent parts viz. the base, the affix, the augments and the like; (2) understanding or taking a thing separately from a group of two or more; cf. अवश्यं खल्वपि विभक्त्यो-पदग्रहणं कर्तव्यं यो हि बहूनां विभागस्तदर्थम् । सोकायकेभ्यश्च पाठलिपुत्रकेभ्यश्च माथुरा अभि-रूपतः; M. Bh. on P.V.3.57; (3) splitting of 'a Samhitā text of the Vedas into the Pada text; cf. अथादावुच्यते विभागे ह्रस्वं व्यञ्जनपरः T. Pr. विभाषा optionally, alternatively; the word is explained by Pāṇini as नवा in the rule न वेति विभाषा (P.I.1.44) in consonance with its derivation from the root भाष् with वि; cf. नेति प्रतिषेधे वेति विकल्पस्तयोः प्रतिषेधविकल्पयो-र्विभाषेति संज्ञा भवति । विभाषाप्रदेशेषु प्रतिषेधविकल्पानुपपत्तिरिति । तत्र प्रतिषेधेन समीकृते विषये पश्चाद्विकल्पः प्रवर्तते. The option (विभाषा) is further divided into three kinds प्राप्ते विभाषा, अप्राप्ते विभाषा and उभयत्र विभाषा. For details see Mahābhāṣya on P. I.1.44.

विभाषित (1) stated or enjoined optionally; cf. भेष्यः पशार्थिभाषितः । आलम्ब्यभ्यो नालम्ब्य इति M. Bh. on P. I.1. 44 Vārt. 15; cf. also मन्वे चातुर्विभाषितः ।

विमलकीर्ति a Jain grammarian of the sixteenth century who wrote a short metrical work on the padas of roots, known by the name पदव्यवस्थायुक्कारिका.

विमलमति an old grammarian who is believed to have written a gloss named भागवृत्ति on Pāṇini's Sūtras to which the grammarians Puruṣottamadeva, Śiradeva and others of the twelfth century refer. Some scholars say that भागवृत्ति was written by भर्तृहरि; but it is not feasible, as there is a reference to Māghakāvyā in भागवृत्ति. In books on grammar, especially of the Eastern School in the 11th and the 12th century, there are several quotations from the Bhāgavṛtti. See भागवृत्ति.

विमोक्ष liberation of the last letter (especially a class consonant) of a word from phonetic modifications by coalescence with the initial letter of the following word, or liberation of modification of a consonant or vowel standing at the end of a verse or sometimes even in the middle of a verse; e.g. तत् नो भिन्नः, रुम् यौभिः, संमधुमतीर्यधुमतीभिः पृष्यन्ताम् शुक्रं दुदुह्नि अह्वयः; cf. V. Pr. I.90, 91,

विराम omission of a consonant, sometimes when it is preceded and also followed by another consonant, as if it were squeezed between the two; this is no doubt looked upon as a fault; e.g. the omission of the consonant द in उपमा ष्ट् द्वा द्वा uttered as उपमा ष्ट् वा द्वा: cf. अन्येन्येन व्यञ्जनानां विरामः R. Pr. XIV where Uvvaṭa explains विराम as श्लेष.

विराम an ancient term used in the Prātisākhya works for a stop or pause in general at the end of a word, or at the end of the first member of a compound, which is shown split up in the Padapāṭha, or inside a word, or at the end of a word, or at the end of a vowel when it is followed by another vowel. The duration of this virāma is different in different circumstances; but sometimes under the same circumstances, it is described differently in the different Prātisākhyas. Generally, there is no pause between two consonants as also between a vowel and a consonant preceding or following it. The Taittiriya Prātisākhya has given four kinds of विराम (a) ऋग्विराम, pause at the end of a foot or a verse of duration equal to three mātrās or moras, (b) पदविराम, pause between two words of duration equal to two mātrās; e. g. शुभे वा ऊर्जे वा, (c) pause between two words the preceding one of which ends in a vowel and the following begins with a vowel, the vowels being not euphonically combined; this pause has a duration of one mātrā e.g. स इधानः, त एनम्, (d) pause between two vowels inside a word which is a rare occurrence; this has a duration of half a mātrā; e.g. प्रउगम्, शितउः; cf. ऋग्विरामः पदविरामो विवृतिविरामः समानपदविवृतिविरामस्त्रिमात्रो

द्विमात्र एकमात्रोर्धमात्र इत्यानुपूर्व्येण T. Pr. XXII. 13. The word विवृति is explained as स्वरस्योत्सृष्टिः. The vivṛti-virāma is further divided into वत्सानुवृत्ति which has the preceding vowel short and the succeeding long, वत्सानुसारिणी which has the preceding vowel a long one and the succeeding vowel a short one, पाकवती which has both the vowels short, and पिपीलिका which has got both the vowels long. This four-fold division is given in the Śikṣā where their duration is given as one mātrā, one mātrā, three-fourths of a mātrā and one-fourth of a mātrā respectively. The duration between the two words of a compound word when split up in the पदपाठ is also equal to one mātrā; cf. R. Pr. I. 16. The word विराम occurs in Pāṇini's rule विसमोऽवसानम् P. I. 4.110 where commentators have explained it as absence; cf. वर्णानामभाजोऽवसानसंज्ञः स्यात् S. K. on P. 1.4.110; cf. also विरामविरामः | विराम्यते अनेन इति वा विरामः Kās. on P. I.4.110. According to Kāsikā even in the Saṁhitā text, there is a duration of half a mātrā between the various phonetic elements, even between two consonants or between a vowel and a consonant, which, however, is quite imperceptible; cf. परो चः संनिष्कर्मो वर्णानां अर्धमात्राकालव्यवधानं स संहितासंज्ञो भवति Kās. on P. I.4.109, cf. also विरामे मात्रा R. T. 35; cf. also R. Pr. I. 16 and 17. For details see Mahābhāṣya on P. I. 4.109 and I.4.110.

Bh. on P. I.1.70; cf. also द्रुतविलम्बितयोश्चानुपदेशात् P. I.1.69 Vārt. 11.

Bh. on P. I.1.66-67, I.2.64 Vārt. 53, IV. 1.3; cf. also विवक्षाधीना शब्दव्युत्पत्तिः Durgh. V. II.2.8; cf. also इतिकरणो विवक्षार्थः Kās. on P. II. 2.27, IV. 2.21, IV. 2.55, 57, etc.

the name परिभाषासूचन which from its style and other peculiarities seems to have been written after the Vārttikas, but before the Mahābhāṣya. Vyāḍi is well-known to have been the oldest exponent of the doctrine that words denote an individual object and not the genus. For details see pp. 136-8,

शकन्धवादि name of a class of words in which an irregular coalescence of the vowels of the kind of the latter vowel in the place of the former and latter both is observed; e.g. शकन्धुः, कुलटा, सोमन्तः, मनोवा etc. cf. कन्धवादिषु च (परस्मै वाच्यम्) P.VI.1. 94 Vārt. 4.

शक्त endowed with शक्ति i. e. the potentiality to express the sense; potent to show the particular sense.

शक्ति potentiality of expressing the sense which is possessed by words permanently with them; denotative potentiality or denotation; this potentiality shows the senses, which are permanently possessed by the words, to the hearer and is described to be of one kind by ancient grammarians as contrasted with the two (अभिधा and लक्षणा) mentioned by the modern ones. It is described to be of two kinds—(a) स्मारिका शक्ति or recalling capacity which combines चैत्रत्व with पाक, and अनुभावि-का शक्ति which is responsible for the actual meaning of a sentence. For details see Vākyapadiya III.

शक्य the substratum of potentiality which forms the object pointed out by means of the potentiality to the hearer by the word (i. e. शब्द) which directly communicates the sense, in which case it is termed वाचक as contrasted with भेदक or द्योतक when the sense, which is of the type of संवन्ध is conveyed rather indirectly. This nice division into वाचकता and भेदकता was introduced clearly by भरतृहरि; cf. Vākyapadiya Kāṇḍa 2.

The words formed with this शत् (अत्) affix are termed present participles in the declension of which, by virtue of the indicative vowel क in शत्, the augment नुम् is inserted after the last vowel of the base, and the root receives such modifications as are caused by a Sārvadhātuka affix, the affix शतृ being looked upon as a Sārvadhātuka affix on account of the indicatory letter श्. The word ending in this affix शतृ governs a noun forming its object, in the accusative case.

शतृस्वर the acute accent specifically stated for the vowel of the case-affix beginning with a vowel etc. prescribed by the rule शतृत्तुमो नञ्जादी P. VI. 1.173; cf. शतृस्वर । तुदती तुदती ... शतृत्तुमो नञ्जादिरस्तादाच्चादित्येय स्वरो यथा स्यात् M. Bh. on P. VIII. 2.6. Vārt 2.

शप् a vikaraṇa affix (conjugal sign) applied to roots of the first conjugation and in general to all secondary roots i. e. roots formed from nouns and from other roots before personal-endings which are Sārvadhātuka and which possess the sense of agent, provided there is no other vikaraṇa affix prescribed; e. g. भवति, पठते, कारयति, क्षारयति, बुभूषति, पुत्रीयति, पुत्रकायति, कामयते, गोपायति, कण्ठयति, पटयति, दिनन्ति (यामिन्यः) etc. cf. कर्त्तरि शप्, P. III.1.68. This affix शप् is dropped after roots of the second conjugation (अदादि) and those of the third conjugation (क्षेष्टाद्यादि) and in Vedic Literature wherever observed; cf. P. II.4.72, 73, 75, 76.

शबरस्वामिन् a grammarian to whom a metrical treatise on genders named लिङ्गानुशासन is ascribed. This शबरस्वामिन् was comparatively a modern grammarian who was given the title शालयोगीश्वर. This लिङ्गानुशासन has a commentary written by हर्षवर्धन. Evidently these grammarians शबरस्वामिन् and हर्षवर्धन are different from the famous author of the मीमांसाभाष्य and the patron of the poet Bāṇa respectively.

शवादिश the Vikaraṇa affixes श्वन्, श्-अम्, उ and श्वा according to those who hold the view that these affixes do not form the exceptions of शप्, but they are substituted for शप्. cf. शवादिशः श्वनादयः कतिचन्यन्ते M. Bh. on P. I.1.27, II.2.3, III.1.33 and III.1.67.

शब्द lit. 'sound' in general; cf. शब्दं कुरु शब्दं मा कार्यः । ध्वनिं कुर्वन्नेवमुच्यते । M. Bh. in Āhnika 1; cf. also शब्दः प्रकृतिः सर्ववर्णानाम् । वर्णपुंसः शब्दो वाच उत्पत्तिः T. Pr. XXIII.1, XXIII.3. In grammar the word शब्द is applied to such words only as possess sense; cf. प्रतीतपदार्थको लोके ध्वनिः शब्दः M. Bh. in Āhnika 1; cf. also येनोच्चारितेन अर्थः प्रतीयते स शब्दः Śringāra Prakāśa I; cf. also अथ शब्दानुशासनम् M. Bh. Āhnika 1. In the Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya, शब्द is said to be constituted of air as far as its nature is concerned, but it is taken to mean in the Prātiśākhya and grammar works in a restricted sense as letters possessed of sense. The Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya gives four kinds of words लिङ्ग, कृत, तद्धित and समास while नाम, आख्यात, निपात and उपसर्ग are described to be the four kinds in the Nirukta. As शब्द in grammar, is restricted to a phonetic unit possessed of sense, it can be applied to crude bases, affixes, as also to words that are completely formed with case-endings or personal affixes. In fact, taking it to be applicable to all such kinds, some grammarians have given twelve subdivisions of शब्द, viz. प्रकृति, प्रत्यय,

- शब्दतत्त्व lit. the essence of a word; the ultimate sense conveyed by the word which is termed स्फोट by the Vaiyākaraṇas. Philosophically this Śabdātattva or Sphoṭa is the philosophical Brahman of the Vedāntins, which is named as Śabdabrahma or Nāḍabrahma by the Vaiyākaraṇas, and which appears as the phenomenal world on the basis of its own powers such as the time factor and the like; cf. अनादिनिघनं ब्रह्म शब्दतत्त्वं यदक्षरम् । विद्यतेतेर्धर्माधेन प्रक्रिया जगती यतः ॥ Vākyapadiya, I.1; cf. also Vākyapadiya II.31.

The word शब्दानुशासन later on, became synonymous with Vyākaraṇa and it was given as a title to their treatises by later grammarians, or was applied to the authoritative treatise which introduced a system of grammar, similar to that of Pāṇini. शिक्षा general name given to a work on Phonetics. Although there are many such works which are all called शिक्षा, the work, which is often referred to, by the word, is the Śikṣā named पाणिनीयशिक्षा, about the authorship of which, however, there is a doubt whether it was the work of Pāṇini or of somebody belonging to his school. ful, no doubt, for the study of grammar, but no topic belonging to Śikṣā is given by Pāṇini which apparently means that these works do not come under the subject or province of Grammar. The origin of the Śivasūtra given by the writer of the Kārikā is summed up in the stanza — दत्तावसाने नटराजराजो ननाद दकां नवपञ्चवारम् । उदरुक्तामः सनकादि-सिद्धान्तद् विमर्शे शिवसूत्रगालम् ॥ Nand. 1.

Prātiśākhya treatise pertaining to the White Yajurveda which is also called the Vājasaneyi-Prātiśākhya.
This work appears to be a later one as compared with the other Prātiśākhya works and bears much similarity with some of the Sūtras of Pāṇini. It is divided into eight chapters by the author and it deals with letters, their origin and their classification, the euphonic and other changes when the Saṁhitā text is rendered into the Pada text, and accents. The work appears to be a common work for all the different branches of the White Yajurveda, being probably based on the individually different Prātiśākhya works of the different branches of the Shukla Yajurveda composed in ancient times. Kātyāyana is traditionally believed to be the author of the work and very likely he was the same Kātyāyana who wrote the Vārtikas on the Sūtras of Pāṇini.

संहिता position of words or parts of words in the formation of a word quite near each other which results into the natural phonetic coalescence of the preceding and the following letters. Originally when the Vedic hymns or the running prose passages of the Yajurveda were split up into their different constituent parts namely the words or padas by the Padakāras, the word संहिता or संहितापाठ came into use as contrasted with the पदपाठ. The writers of the Prātisākhya have consequently defined संहिता as पदप्रकृतिः संहिता, while Pāṇini who further split up the padas into bases (प्रकृति) and affixes (प्रत्यय) and mentioned several augments and substitutes, the phonetic combinations, which resulted inside the word or pada, had to be explained by reason of the close vicinity of the several phonetic units forming the base, the affix, the augment, the substitute and the like, and he had to define the word संहिता rather differently which he did in the words परः संनिकर्षः संहिता; cf. P.I.4.109; cf. also संहितैकपदे नित्या नित्या धातुपरमयोः । नित्या समासे वाच्ये तु सा शिवशामपेक्षते Śabdakautubha on Māheshvara Sūtra 5.1.

संहितापाठ the running text or the original text of the four Vedas as originally composed. This text, which was the original one, was split up into its constituent padas or separate words by ancient sages द्वािनक, आश्विन and others, with a view to facilitating the understanding of it, and consequently to preserving it in the oral tradition. The original was called मूलप्रकृति of which the पदपाठ and the क्रमपाठ which were comparatively older than the other artificial recitations such as the जटापाठ, घनपाठ and others, are found mentioned in the Prātisākhya works.

सकृद्गत or सकृद्विन्वाय the maxim or convention of the non-application of a grammatical rule or operation any longer when, on conflict with another, it has been once set aside. The maxim is सकृदतां विप्रतिषेधे यद्वाचितं तद्वाचितमेव M. Bh. on P. I. 1. 56, I. 4. 2, VI. 3. 42 etc. cf. also Par. Śek. Pari. 40.

VI. 1. 158 Vārt. 9.

सत् existence, supreme or universal existence; the Jāti par excellence which is advocated to be the final sense of all words and expressions in the language by Bhartṛhari and other grammarians after him who discussed the interpretation of words. The grammarians believe that the ultimate sense of a word is सत्ता which appears manifold and limited in our everyday experience due to different limitations such as deśa, kāla and others. Seen from the static viewpoint, सत्ता appears as द्रव्य while, from the dynamic viewpoint it appears as a शिवा. This सत्ता is the soul of everything and it is the same as शब्दतत्त्व or ब्रह्मन् or अस्त्यर्थः; cf. Vākyapadiya II. 121. The static existence, further, is called व्यक्ति or individual with reference to the object, and जाति with reference to the common form possessed by individuals.

सत्त्वं an aspect of सत्ता of the type of the static existence possessed by substantives as contrasted with भाव the dynamic type of existence possessed by verbs; cf. भावप्रधानमाख्यातम् ! सत्त्वप्रधानानि नामानि. Nir. I; cf. also सत्त्वाभिधायकं नाम निपातः पादसूत्रः R.Pr. XII. 8. V. Pr. VIII. 50.

Bh. on P.I.2.49 Vārt. 2. On account of the frequent occurrence of the word सति in a large number of examples of this locative absolute, the term सतिवत्सप्तमी is used by modern grammarians for the better word सत्सप्तमी in the Mahābhāṣya; cf. M.Bh. on P.VI.4.23 as also on P.VIII. 3.61.

P. III. 1. 5 and 6. The roots to which सन् is applied are redupli-cated and the reduplicated form ending with सन् (स) is looked upon as a different root from the original one for purposes of conjugation, which takes, however, conjugational affixes of the same Pada as the original root; cf. सनाचन्ता धातयः III. 1.32.

VII. 4.79. This सन्वद्भाव is prescribed in the case of a root ending in इ (णिच्) before the aorist sign (विकण) चङ्. cf. सन्वदयुनि चङ्परेनग्लोपे VII. 4.93.

सपादसप्ताध्यायी a term used in connection with Pāṇini's first seven books and a quarter of the eighth, as contrasted with the term Tripādī, which is used for the last three quarters of the eighth book. The rules or operations given in the Tripādī, are stated to be asiddha or invalid for purposes of the application of the rules in the previous portion, viz. the Sapādasaptādhyāyī, and hence in the formation of words all the rules given in the first seven chapters and a quarter, are applied first and then a way is prepared for the rules of the last three quarters. It is a striking thing that the rules in the Tripādī mostly concern the padas or formed words, the province, in fact, of the Prātisākhya treatises, and hence they should, as a matter of fact, be applicable to words after their formation and evidently to accomplish this object, Pāṇini has laid down the convention of the invalidity in question by the rule पूर्वधासिद्धम् P. VIII. 2.1.

III. 1. 20; Hemacandra III. 3. 7.

सप्तस्वर lit. the seven accents; the term refers to the seven accents formed of the subdivisions of the three main Vedic accents उदात्त, अनुदात्त and स्वरित viz उदात्त, उदात्तर, अनुदात्त, अनुदात्तर, स्वरित, स्वरितोदात्त, and एकश्रुति; cf. त एते तन्त्रे तदनिर्देशे सप्त स्वरा भवन्ति । उदात्तः । उदात्तरः । अनुदात्तः । अनुदात्तरः । स्वरितः । स्वरिते य उदात्तः सोऽन्येन विशिष्टः । एकश्रुतिः सप्तमः ॥ M. Bh on P. I. 2. 33. It is possible that these seven accents which were turned into the seven notes of the chantings of the sā-

mans developed into the seven musical notes which have traditionally come down to the present day known as सा रे ग म प ध नीः; cf. उदात्ते निषादगान्धारी अनुदात्ते ऋवभवेवती । स्वरितप्रमवा ह्यते बहुलमध्यमपञ्चमाः । Pān. सरस्वतीकण्ठाभरण called also सरस्वतीसूत्र, name of a voluminous grammar work ascribed to king Bhoja in the eleventh century. The grammar is based very closely on Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī, consisting of eight chapters or books. Although the affixes, the augments and the substitutes are much the same, the order of the Sūtras is considerably changed. By the anxiety of the author to bring together, the necessary portions of the Gaṇapāṭha, the Uṇādi-pāṭha and the Paribhāṣās, which the author has included in his eight chapters, the book instead of being easy to understand, has lost the element of brevity and become tedious for reading. Hence it is that it is not studied widely. For details see pp. 392, 393 Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya Vol. VII. D. E. Society's edition.

समानानामेकदेश इत्युच्यमाने यत्र सर्वं समानं शब्दार्थश्च सर्वत्र स्यात् । वृक्षाः प्लक्षाः इति । इह न स्यात् । अक्षाः पादाः माषाः इति । स्वप्रयोगे पुनः क्रियमाणे न दोषो भवति । M. Bh. on P. I. 2.64.

Some words such as पूर्व, पर, अवर, दक्षिण, उत्तर, अपर, अघर, स्व, अन्तर etc are treated as pronouns under certain conditions. In any case, attention has to be paid to the literal sense of the term सर्वनामन् which is an ancient term and none of these words when standing as a proper noun, is to be treated as a pronoun; cf. सर्वोदोनि सर्वनामानि P. I.1. 27, cf. also संशेषसर्वनामूतास्तु न सर्वोदयः M. Bh. on P. I. 1, 27 Vārt. 2; (2) The word सर्वनामन् means also a common term, a general term; cf. एकध्रुतिः स्वरसर्वनाम, यथा नपुंसकं लिङ्गसर्वनाम M. सर्वनामस्थान a term used in Pāṇini's grammar, for the first five caseaffixes सु, औ, अम्, अम् and औ as also for the nom. and acc. pl. affix इ (णि) of the neuter gender. The term appears to be an old one, which was used, by a specific mention, for the first five case-affixes which caused a special change in the base before them in the case of many words; cf. णि सर्वनामस्थानम् । सुडनपुंसकस्य P. I.1.42-43. For details see Vyākaraṇamahābhāṣya Vol. VII. D. E. Society's ed. p. 239 footnote.

सापेक्ष with an expectancy in sense; although in grammar expectancy is at the root of, and forms a sort of a connecting link for, the various kinds of relations which exist between the different words of a sentence which has to give a composite sense, yet, if a word outside a compound is connected with a word inside a compound, especially with a second or further member, the sense becomes ambiguous; and expectancy in such cases is looked upon as a fault; c. g. अप्रविष्टविषयो हि रक्षसाम् Raghū XI. When, however, in spite of the fault of expectancy the sense is clear, the compound is admissible; cf. यदि साविशेषणानां वृत्तिर्न वृत्तस्य वा विशेषणं न प्रयुज्यते इत्युच्यते देवदत्तस्य गुरुकुलम् देवदत्तस्य गुरुपुत्रः, अत्र वृत्तिर्न प्राप्नोति । अगुरुकुलपुत्रादीनामिति वक्तव्यम् । M. For instance in the Mahābhāṣya there is a passage "ननु च भोष्ण्योगानां सात्यगुधिराणायनायाः अर्धमेकार्थमोकारं चाधीयते ।.. पार्थदृष्टिरित्येता तत्रभवताम्" which refers to such works. At present, however, one such work common to the several branches of the Sāmaveda, called Rktraṅtra is available, and it is called Sāmaveda Prātiśākhya. सुपद्मसमाससंग्रहटीका a commentary by a grammarian named विष्णुमिश्र, on the सुपद्मसमाससंग्रह which see above.

सुप्सुप्समास a popular name given to a compound formed of two nouns, which cannot be ordinarily explained by the rules of grammar laid down in definite terms by Pāṇini in II.1.51 to II. 2.29. These so called irregular compounds are explained as formed in accordance with the rule सह सुपा II. 1.4 wherein the word पद presents itself by अनुवृत्ति from सुवामन्त्रिते पराङ्गवत् स्वरं II. 1. 2, the rule सह सुपा as a result being explained as सुप् सुपा सह समस्येत. As these compounds cannot be put under the topics of अव्ययीभाव, तत्पुरुष and others mentioned by Pāṇini in II. 1.5 to II. 2.29 they are called सुप्सुप्समास or केदलसमास.

सुबन्त name given to a word formed with the addition of a case-affix and hence capable of being used in a sentence by virtue of its being called a पद by the rule सुप्तिङन्तं पदम्. The ancient grammarians gave four kinds of words or padas viz. नाम, आख्यात, उपसर्ग and निपात which Pāṇini has brought under two heads सुबन्त including नाम, उपसर्ग and निपात and तिङन्त standing for आख्यात; cf. सुप्तिङन्तं पदम् P. I. 4. 14.

सुबोधिनी name given to (1) a commentary on the Siddhāntakaumudī by Kṛṣṇamaunin or Jayakṛṣṇamaunin; (2) a commentary on the Sārasvata Vyākaraṇa by Amṛta-bhārati; (3) a commentary on the Sārasvata Vyākaraṇa by Candrakīrti.

सुधातु a root formed from a noun or a subanta by the addition of any of the following affixes— क्यच् (by P. III. 1.8, 10 and 19), काम्यच् (by P.III.1.9), क्यह् (by P. III.1.11, 12 and 14-18), क्यच् (by P.III.1.13), णिह् (by P.III.1.20), णिच् (by P.III.1.21 and 25) and यक् (by P.III.1.27) and also by क्तिप् or zero affix by P. III.1.11 Vārttika 3. All these formations ending with the affixes mentioned above are termed roots by the rule सनायन्ता घातवः (P. III. 1. 32) and are regularly conjugated in all the ten tenses and moods with the general conjugational sign षप् added to them in the conjugational tenses, and स्य, ताश्च and others in the other tenses and moods, and have verbal derivatives also formed by the addition of suitable krt affixes.

सुमनोरमा name of a commentary written by a Southern grammarian तिरुमल्ल on Bhattoji's Siddhānta-kaumudi.

सूत्र a short pithy assertion laying down something in a scientific treatise; aphorism; the word is sometimes used in a collective sense in the singular, referring to the whole collection of Sūtras or rules; cf. व्याकरणस्य सूत्रम् M. Bh. on Āhnika 1. The term is defined as आख्यायकमसंदिग्धं सारवद्विधत्तोमुखम् । अस्ती-मननवर्थं च सूत्रं सूत्रविदो विदुः. There are given generally six kinds of Sūtras viz. संज्ञासूत्र, परिभाषासूत्र, विधिसूत्र, नियमसूत्र, प्रतिषेधसूत्र and अधिकारसूत्र; cf. also संज्ञा च परिभाषा च विधिनियम एव च प्रतिषेधोधिकारश्च षड्विधं सूत्रलक्षणम् ॥ Com. on Kāt. I. 1.2.

सूत्रकार the original writer of the sūtras; e. g. पाणिनि, शाकटायन, शर्ववर्मन्, हेमचन्द्र and others. In Pāṇini's system, Pāṇini is called Sūtrakāra, as contrasted with Kātyayana, who is called the Vārttikakāra and Patañjali, who is called the Bhāṣyakāra; cf. पाणिनिः सूत्रकारस्य M. Bh. on P. II. 2.1.1.

सूत्रपाठ the text of Pāṇini's Sūtras handed down by oral tradition from the preceptor to the pupil. Although it is said that the actual text of Pāṇini was modified from time to time, still it can be said with certainty that it was fixed at the time of the Bhāṣyakāra who has noted a few different readings only. The Sūtra text approved by the Bhāṣyakāra was followed by the authors of the Kāśikā excepting in a few cases. It is customary with learned Pandits and grammarians to say that the recital of the Sūtras of Pāṇini was originally a continuous one in the form of a Saṁhitā-text and it was later on, that it was split up into the different Sūtras, which explains according to them the variation in the number of Sūtras which is due to the different ways of splitting the Sūtrapāṭha.

सूत्रभेद (1) splitting up of a grammatical rule (योगविभाग); (2) change in the wording of a rule; cf. स एष सूत्रभेदेन लृकारोपदेशः प्लुत्याद्यर्थः सन् प्रत्याख्यायते सैवा महती वंशस्तम्भाल्लङ्कारुभ्यते M. Bh. on Śiva Sūtra 2 Vārt. 5.

सूत्रशाटकन्याय reference to something as present, when, in fact, it is yet to come into existence, on the analogy of the expression अस्य सूत्रस्य शाटकं वयः; cf. भाषिनी संज्ञा विशारत्प्ले सूत्रशाटकवत् । M. Bh. on P. I. 3. 12 Vārt. 2.

सृष्टिपर name of the famous commentator on Puruṣottamadeva's Bhāṣyāvṛtti, who lived in the fifteenth century A.D.

सेदं together with the augment 'इ', prescribed in general for being prefixed to an Ārdhadhātuka affix beginning with any consonant except व्. The word is also used in the sense of a root which allows the augment इट् (इ) to be prefixed to valādi Ārdhadhātuka affixes placed after it, in contrast with such roots which do not allow it and hence which are termed अनिट्.

सोपसर्ग together with a preposition (उपसर्ग) prefixed; the term is used in connection with a root to which a preposition such as प्र, परा etc. has been prefixed; cf. अकर्मका अपि वै सोपसर्गाः सकर्मका भवन्ति M. Bh. on P. I. 1.44.

स्थान place of articulation; place of the production of sound, which is one of the chief factors in the production of sound; cf. अनुग्रहानात् संसर्गात् स्थानात् कश्चनित्ययात् । जायते वर्ण-वैशेष्यं परिमाणान्च पञ्चमात्, T.Pr. XXIII. 2. Generally there are given five places of the production of sound viz. कण्ठ, तालु, मूर्धन्, दन्त and ओष्ठ, respectively for the articulation of guttural, palatal cerebral, dental and labial letters and नासिका as an additional one for the articulation of the nasal consonants झ, म्, ङ्, ण् and न्. For the Jihvāmuliya sound (ञ्क), जिह्वामूल is given as a specific one. For details and minor differences of views, see T. Pr. III, R. Pr. 1.18 to 20, R. T. 2-10; V. Pr. I. 65 to 84 and M. Bh. on P. I. 1. 9.

(2) place, substratum, which is generally understood as the sense of the genitive case-affix in rules which prescribe substitutes; cf. षष्ठी स्थोनेवागा. P. I. 1. 49.

स्थानिन् the original word or part of a word such as a syllable or two of it or a letter of it, for which a substitute (अदिश) is prescribed; cf. स्थानिवदादेशोऽन्वित्थौ P. 1.1. 56.

स्थानिवत् similar to the original in behaviour; cf. स्थानिवदादेशोऽन्वित्थौ P. I. 1.59. See स्थानिवद्भाव.

स्थानिवद्भाव behaviour of the substitute like the original in respect of holding the qualities of the original and causing grammatical operations by virtue of those qualities. By means of स्थानिवद्भाव, the substitute for a root is, for instance, looked upon as a root; similarly, a noun-base or an affix or so, is looked upon like the original and it can cause such operations or be a recipient of such operations as are due to its being a root or a noun or an affix or the like. This स्थानिवद्भाव cannot be, and is not made also, a universally applicable feature; and there are limitations or restrictions put upon it, the chief of them being अन्वित्थौ or in the matter of such operations as are caused by 'the property of being a single letter' (अन्वित्थौ). There are two views regarding this 'behaviour like the original': (1) supposed behaviour which is only instrumental in causing operations or undergoing them which is called शास्त्रातिदेश and (2) actual restoration to the form of the original under certain conditions only as prescribed which is called स्थातिदेश. The स्थातिदेश is actually resorted to by some grammarians in the case of the reduplication of roots; cf. Kāś. on द्विवचनचि P.I.1.59 and M. Bh. on P.I.1.59. See the word स्थातिदेश also. For details see Vol. VII p.p. 241-243, Vyākaraṇa Mahābhāṣya D.E. Society's Edition.

स्थानेद्विवचनपक्ष one of the two alternative views regarding reduplication according to which two wordings or units of the same form replace the original single wording, cf. स्थानेद्विवचनपक्षे स्थानियद्वावात्मकृति व्यपदेशः Śīradeva Pari. 68. The other kind of reduplication is called द्विःप्रयोगद्विवचनपक्ष which looks upon reduplication as the mere placing of an exactly similar unit or wording after the original first unit. This alternative view is accepted in the Kāśikā; cf. Kāś. on P. VI.1.1.

स्थानेयोगा a variety of the genitive case when it is connected in sense with the Prātipadika by the relationship of स्थान or place, as contrasted with the relationships of the kind of विश्व-विषयिभाव, अवयवावयविभाव and others. As grammar is a science of words, in those places where one word is mentioned for another by the use of the genitive case it should be understood that the word mentioned is to be substituted for the other; cf. the rule of Pāṇini for that purpose षष्ठी स्थानेयोगा explained by Bhaṭṭoji Dikṣita as आनिर्धारितसम्बन्धीदेशा षष्ठी स्थानेयोगा बोध्या; cf. S.K. on P.I.1.49. In some grammars the sthānin and ādeśa are expressed in the same case, viz. the nominative case.

स्थान्यादेशभाव the relation between the original and the substitute which is described as of two kinds (1) supposed and actual; cf. अनुमानिकस्थान्यादेशभावकल्पनेषु श्रौतस्थान्योदशमावस्य न त्यागः Pari, Śek. Pari.

स्थापितव्य to be established, to be brought about.

स्थित (1) happened, come to pass; e. g. राम उच्य इति स्थिते etc.; (2) established; remaining intact after the removal of doubts; cf. एवं हि स्थितमितत्; (3) remaining unaffected as referring to अव्युत्करण; cf. स्वराणामनुस्वारस्य ऊन्मन्वा न् अव्युत्करणं वेदितव्यम् तत्र स्थितामित्युच्यते। यत्र वर्णस्थानमाश्रित्य जिह्वावतिष्ठते तत् स्थितामित्युच्यते Uvvaṭa on R. Pr. XIII.; (4) established or stated in the Padapāṭha; cf. स्थिते षडे षडपठे इत्यर्थः gloss on T. Pr. XX.2.

स्थिति utterance of a pada or padas in the Padapāṭha without इति; the utterance with इति being called उपस्थिति; cf. षडे यदा केवलमाह सा स्थितिः R. Pr. XI.15; (2) established practice or view; cf. शाकल्यस्य स्थविरस्येतरा स्थितिः। R. Pr. II. 44.

स्त tad. affix स्त added optionally with रु, to the word च्च् in the sense of praiseworthy; e. g. मूला also मूला; cf. सर्वज्ञा प्रशंसायाम्। P.V.4.40.

स्तञ् tad. affix स्त, added in many taddhita senses, अपत्य, जात, समूह, आगत and others mentioned upto P. V. 1st pāda end; e. g. स्तञ्: पींसः, cf. स्त्री-पुंसाभ्यां नञ्चनञौ भवनत् P. IV.1.87.

स्पर्ध a word used in the sense of 'a conflict of two rules' (विप्रतिषेध) in some grammars such as those of Jainendra, Śākaṭāyana and Hemacandra; cf. Jain. I.2.39, Śāk. I.1.46 and Hema. VII.4. 119.

स्पर्श a contact consonant; a term used in connection with the consonants of the five classes, verily because the karaṇa or the tip of the tongue touches the place of utterance in the mouth in their pronunciation; cf. कादयो मावसानाः स्पर्शाः S.K. Sañjñāprakaraṇa on P. VIII. 2.1; cf. also अशाः स्पर्शाः पञ्च ते पञ्चवर्गाः R.Pr. I.78; cf. also T.Pr.I.7.

स्पर्धार्थ an expression used often by commentators with reference to a line or a passage of the text the meaning of which is clear and no explanation is necessary.

स्युष्ट name of one of the four internal efforts when the instrument (करण) of articulation fully touches the sthāna or the place of the production of sound in the mouth. See the word स्पर्श above; तत्र स्युष्टं प्रयतनं स्वर्शानाम् S.K. on P. VIII.2.1; cf. also M.Bh. on P.I.1.9.

स्फ a short technical term used in the Jainendra Vyākaraṇa instead of the संयोग in Pāṇini's grammar.

स्फोट name given to the radical Śabda which communicates the meaning to the hearers as different from ध्वनि or the sound in ordinary experience. The Vaiyākaraṇas, who followed Pāṇini and who were headed by Bhartṛhari entered into discussions regarding the philosophy of Grammar, and introduced by way of deduction from Pāṇini's grammar, an important theory that शब्द which communicates the meaning is different from the sound which is produced and heard and which is merely instrumental in the manifestation of an internal voice which is called Sphoṭa. स्युष्टयतेनेन अर्थः इति स्फोटः or स्फोटः शब्दो ध्वनिस्तस्य व्याचमानुपजास्ते Vākyapadiyā; cf. also अभिव्यक्तवादको मध्यमावस्थ आन्तरः शब्दः Kaiyata's Pradīpa. For details see Vākyapadiya I and Śabdakaustubha Āhnika 1. It is doubtful whether this Sphoṭa theory was advocated before Pāṇini. The word संयोगायन has been put by Pāṇini in the rule अवष्टु स्फोटायनस्य only incidentally and, in fact, nothing can be definitely deduced from it although Haradatta says that स्फोटायन was the originator of the स्फोटावाद. The word स्फोट is not actually found in the Prātiśākhya works. However, commentators on the Prātiśākhya works have introduced it in their explanations of the texts which describe वर्णोत्पत्ति or production of sound; cf. com. on R.Pr.XIII.4, T.Pr. II.1. Grammarians have given various kinds of sphoṭa; cf. स्फोटो द्विधा । न्यासितस्फोटो जातिस्फोटश्च । न्यासितस्फोटः सलण्ड अलण्डश्च । सलण्ड । वर्णपदवाच्यभेदेन त्रिधा । अलण्डः पदवाच्यभेदेन द्विधा । एवं पञ्च न्यासितस्फोटाः । जातिस्फोटः वर्णपदवाच्यभेदेन त्रिधा । इत्येवमर्थो स्फोटः तत्र अलण्डवाच्यस्फोट एव मुख्य इति नन्याः । वाच्य जातिस्फोट इति तु प्राञ्चः ॥; cf. also पदप्रकृतिः संहिता इति प्रातिशाख्यमत्र मानम् । पदानां प्रकृतिरिति धर्शितत्पुत्रे अलण्डवाच्यस्फोटप्रश्नः । बहुश्रोहो सलण्डवाच्यस्फोटः ॥

स्वपाठ the original recital of the Veda; the Saṁhitāpāṭha as opposed to the Padapāṭha which is looked upon more or less as artificial.

स्वर (1) vowel, as contrasted with a consonant which never stands by itself independently. The word स्वर is defined generally as स्वयं राजन्ते ते स्वराः (M. Bh. on pān. The word स्वर is always used in the sense of a vowel in the Prātisākhya works; Pāṇini however has got the word अच् (short term or Pratyāhāra formed of अ in 'अद्उच्' and च् at the end of ऐऔच् Māheśvara sūtra 4) always used for vowels, the term स्वर being relegated by him to denote accents which are also termed स्वर in the ancient Prātisākhyas and grammars. The number of vowels, although shown differently in different ancient works, is the same, viz. five simple vowels अ, इ, उ, ऋ, ए, and four diphthongs ए, ऐ, औ, and औ. These nine, by the addition of the long varieties of the first four such as आ, ई, ऊ, and ऋ, are increased to thirteen and further to twentytwo by adding the pluta forms, there being no long variety for ए and short one for the diphthongs. All these twentytwo varieties have further subdivisions, made on the criterion of each of them being further characterized by the properties उदात्त, अनुदात्त and स्वरित and निरनुनासिक and सानुनासिक. (2) The word स्वर also means accent, a property possessed exclusively by vowels and not by consonants, as they are entirely dependent on vowels and can at the most be said to possess the same accent as the vowel with which they are uttered together. The accents are mentioned to be three; the acute (उदात्त), the grave अनुदात्त and the circumflex (स्वरित) defined respectively as उच्चैरनुदात्तः, नीचैरनुदात्तः and समाहारः स्वरितः by Pāṇini (P. I. 2.29, 30,31). The point whether समाहार means a combination or coming together one after another of the two, or a commixture or blending of the two is critically discussed in the Mahābhāṣya. (vide M. Bh. on P. I. 2.31). There are however two kinds of svarita mentioned by Pāṇini and found actually in use : (a) the independent स्वरित as possessed by the word स्वर (from which possibly the word स्वरित was formed) and a few other words as also many times by the resultant vowel out of two vowels (उदात्त and अनुदात्त) combined, and (b) the enclitic or secondary svarita by which name, one or more grave vowels occurring after the udātta, in a chain, are called; cf. P. VIII. 2.4 VIII. 2.6 and VIII 4.66 and 67. The topic of accents is fully discussed by the authors of the Prātisākhya as also by Pāṇini. For details, see R. Pr. III. 1.19; T. Pr. 38-47 V. Pr. I. 108 to 132, II. 1.65 A. Pr. Adhyāya 1 pādas 1, 2, 3 and Rk. Tantra 51-66; see also Kaiyaṭa on P. I. 2.29; (3) The word स्वर is used also in the sense of a musical tone. This meaning arose out of the second meaning 'accent' which itself arose from the first viz. 'vowel', and it is fully discussed in works explanatory of the chanting of Sāmas. Patañjali has given seven subdivisions of accents which may be at the origin of the seven musical notes. See सप्तस्वर above.

स्वरप्रतिरूपक a word or Prātipadika which is exactly similar to a single vowel such as उ or आ or ए and the like; such words are to be looked upon as Avyayas and the case-affixes after them are dropped when they are used. cf. स्वरप्रतिरूपकमव्ययम्.

स्वरभक्ति a vowel part; appearance of a consonant as a vowel; the character of a vowel borne by a consonant. Many times a semi-vowel which consists of one letter has to be divided especially for purposes of metre, as also for accentuation into two letters or rather, has to be turned into two letters by inserting a vowel before it or after it, for instance य् is to be turned into ह्य् e. g. in त्रियम्बकं यजामहे, while र् or रेफ् is to be turned into र्क् as for instance in कर्हि चित् which is to be uttered as कर्क् चिच्. This prefixing or suffixing of a vowel is called स्वरभक्ति; cf. स्वरभक्तिः पूर्वभागक्षराङ्गं द्राघीयत्वां सार्धमात्रतरे च । अर्धोनात्या । R. Pr. I. 32.35; cf. also न संयोगे स्वरभक्तिर्विहन्ति R. Pr. VI. 35; cf. also रेफाद् स्वरोपहितान् व्यञ्ज-

नोदयाद् ऋकारवर्णां स्वरभक्तिरुत्तरा; R. Pr. VI. 46. In Pāṇini's grammar, however, the word अन्वक्ति, which means the same, is used for स्वरभक्ति; cf. ऋति ऋ वा लृति लृ वा इत्युभयत्रापि विधेयं यणद्वयं द्विमात्रम् । आद्यस्य मध्ये द्वौ रेफौ तयोरेका मात्रा । अभितोऽन्वक्तोरपरा । S. K. on VI. 1.101.

स्वरभिन्न differing in the matter of accent; words so differing are practically looked upon as one and the same; cf. स्वरभिन्नानां बल्योचरस्वरविधित्वत्वेकत्रेषो वक्तव्यः । अक्षश्च अक्षश्च अक्षौ । M. Bh. on I. 2. 64 Vārt. 24. For technical purposes, they are sometimes looked upon as different; cf. स्वरभिन्नस्य च प्राप्नुवन् विधिरनित्यः । Par. Śek. Pari. 49.

स्वरविधि a rule prescribing an accent or a modification of accent.

स्वरधिराम a pause between two vowels in one and the same word as in तितउ or पउग or in two different words coming close by the visarga or व् between the two being elided, as for instance in देवा इह.

स्वरविज्ञप्ति (1) the same as स्वरधिराम which see above; (2) a short treatise on Vedic accents written by a modern Vedic scholar and grammarian named Indradattopādhyāya.

स्वरसंधि euphonic combination of two vowels, a detailed description of which forms a small topic in the Prātisākhya and grammar works; vide R. Pr. chapters II. 1-26; T. Pr. chapters 9 and 10 V. Pr. III and अन्वयिप्रकरणम् in the Siddhāntakaumudī.

स्वरसर्वनाम a common accent; the accent which is supposed to be present in a word when none of the three accents are definite. cf. एकश्रुतिः स्वरसर्वनाम यया ननुसकं लिङ्गसर्वनाम

M. Bh. on P. VI. 4.174.

स्वरसाहितोच्चारण recital of the Veda Saṁhitā text with intonation or accents, as contrasted with एकश्रुत्युच्चारण which is specially prescribed in a few cases; tonal system showing distinction between words of different senses although pronounced alike, in the Saṁhitā text. e. g. नतेन and न तेन.

स्वरार्थ for purposes of accent, meant for accent; cf. अवश्यं चैषा परिभाषा (आदिदे वदिरङ्गमन्तरङ्गे) आश्रयितव्या स्वरार्थम् M. Bh. on P. I. 1.57.

स्वरित the circumflex accent, the accent between the acute (उदात्त) and the grave (अनुदात्त); for details see स्वर.

स्वरितकरण marking or characterizing by a svarita accent, as is supposed to have been done by Pāṇini when he wrote down his sūtras of grammar as also the Dhātupāṭha, the Gaṇapāṭha and other subsidiary appendixes. Although the rules of the Aṣṭādhyāyī are not recited at present with the proper accents possessed by the various vowels as given by the Sūtrakāra, still, by convention and traditional explanation, certain words are to be believed as possessed of certain accents. In the Dhātupāṭha, by oral tradition the accents of the several roots are known by the phrases अयं स्वरितः, अयंशुदात्तः, अयान्तोदात्तः, अयानुदात्तः put therein at different places. In the sūtras, a major purpose is served by the circumflex accent with which such words, as are to continue to the next or next few or next many rules, have been marked. As the oral tradition, according to which the Sūtras are recited at present, has preserved no accents, it is only the authoritative word, described as 'pratiñā' of the ancient grammarians, which now is available for knowing the svarita. The same holds good in the case of nasalization (आनुनासिक्य) which is used as a factor for determining the indicative nature of vowels as stated by the rule उपदेशेऽनुनासिक इत्; cf. प्रतिज्ञानुनासिक्याः पाणिनीयाः S. K. on P. I.3.2.

स्वरितप्रतिज्ञा the conventional dictum that a particular rule or part of a rule, is marked with the accent स्वरित which enables the grammarians to decide that that rule or that part of a rule is to occur in each of the subsequent Sūtras, the limit of continuation being ascertained from convention. It is possible that Pāṇini in his original recital of the Aṣṭādhyāyī recited the words in the rules with the necessary accents; probably he recited every word, which was not to proceed further, with one acute or with one circumflex vowel, while, the words which were to proceed to the next rule or rules, were marked with an actual circumflex accent (स्वरित), or with a neutralization of the acute and the grave accents (स्वरितत्व), that is, probably without accents or by एकश्रुति or by प्रत्यय; cf. स्वरितोनाधिकारः P. I.3.11 and the Mahābhāṣya thereon.

स्वरितत्व marked with a mute circumflex vowel; the term is used in connection with roots in the Dhātupāṭha which are said to have been so marked for the purpose of indicating that they are to take personal endings of both the padas; cf. स्वरितभितः कर्त्तृभिर्प्राये क्रियापदेषु P. I.3.72.

and not by the description of characteristics; e. g. मूर्जेष्टुदिः P. VII. 2.114; सृजिदशोऽस्यमाकिति VI. 1. 58; cf. पातोः स्वरूपग्रहणे तत्प्रत्यये कार्यविज्ञानम् M. Bh. on P. VI. 1.58.

स्वरूपविधि an operation prescribed for the verbal form of the word and not for such words as possess the meaning of the word; cf. अस्ति कश्चिद्युष्मारम्भः । कः । स्वरूपविधिनामि । हन्ते-रात्मनेपदमुच्यमाने । हन्तेरेव स्वाद्धर्षेण स्यात् । M. Bh. on P. I. 1.56 Vārt. 1. In grammar there is a general dictum that in connection with words of a Sūtra, unless they are technical terms, the word-forms are to be understood, and not those shown by the sense of the word; cf. स्व रूपं शब्दस्याशब्दसंज्ञा P. I. 1.68. This rule has some exceptions; for example in the rule नदीभिश्च P. II. 1.20 the various rivers are to be understood and not the word नदी.

स्वस्थ lit. remaining in its own form without admitting any euphonic change for the final letter; an ancient term for 'pragṛhya' of Pāṇini.

स्वस्वामिसंबन्ध relationship of the possessor and the possessed; one of the general meanings by the type of relation, expressed by the genitive case; cf. अभिराज्ये । ईश्वरः स्वामी । स च स्वमपेक्षते तदर्थं स्वस्वामिसंबन्धः कर्मप्रवचनार्थसंज्ञो भवति । Kāś. on P. I. 4.97.

स्वाङ्ग (1) one's own limb, as contrasted with that of another person; cf. स्वाङ्गकर्मकान्चेति वस्तुभ्यम् । स्वाङ्गं चेह न परि-माधिकं गृह्यते । किं तर्हि स्वमङ्गं स्वाङ्गम् । Kāś. on P. I. 3.28; (2) forming a part, a portion; cf. स्वाङ्गान्चोपसर्जनादसंयोगो-पयात् । किं स्वाङ्गं नाम । अत्रवं मूर्तिमत्स्वाङ्गं प्राणिस्यर्थाविकारजम् । अतस्तथं तत्र दृष्टं च तस्य चेतत्तथा युतम् ॥ अग्राणिनोपि स्वाङ्गम् । M. Bh. on P. IV. 1.54.

स्वातन्त्र्य independence, or autonomy as a characteristic of the agent (कर्ता); cf. कर्मकर्तारि कर्तुंशमासि । युतः । स्वातन्त्र्यस्य विवाधितत्वात् । स्वातन्त्र्येणैवात्र कर्ता विवक्षितः । M. Bh. on P. III. 1. 87 Vārt. 5.

स्वादि the affixes headed by सु; a general term for case-affixes; cf. स्वीजसमोद्देशस्थान्यां ... ङ्योऽसुप् P. IV. 1.2.

स्वाद्युत्पत्ति the addition of case-affixes which requires the designation प्रातिपदिक for the preceding base by the rule अर्थवदधातुप्रत्ययः प्रातिपदिकम् or कृत्तद्वितसमासाश्च । P. I. 2.45, 46. The addition of a case-affix entitles the word, made up of the base and the case-affix, to be termed a Pada which is fit for use in language; cf. अपदे न प्रयुञ्जते; cf. निपातस्य अनर्थकस्य प्रातिपदिकसंज्ञा वक्तव्या । किं पुनरत्र पदसंज्ञया प्राच्यते । प्रातिपदिकादिति स्वाद्युत्पत्तिः, सुवर्तं पदमिति पदसंज्ञा, पदस्य पदादिति निपातो यथा स्यात् । M. Bh. on P. I. 2.45 Vārt. 12.

स्वाभाविक natural, unartificial; the word is used frequently in connection with the capacity of denotation which words naturally possess; cf. अभिधानं पुनः स्वाभाविकम् P. I. 2. 64 Vārt. 36.

स्वाभाव्य inherence; natural capacity; the word is used many times in connection with the power of denotation; cf. शब्दशक्तित्वाभावात् । Nyāsa on P. III. 1. 112 or अभिधान-शक्तित्वाभावात् Nyāsa on P. IV. 4.60.

स्वार a term used in the Prāṭisākhya works for स्वरित or the circumflex accent; स्वारः स्वरितः । Com. on T. Pr. XVII. 6; cf. also T. Pr. XX. 20; XXIII. 24. There are seven varieties of स्वार given in the Prāṭisākhya works, viz. क्षेप, नित्य, प्रातिहृत, अभिनित्य, प्रकृष्ट, पादयुक्त and तैरोभ्यञ्जन, cf. T. Pr. XX. 1-7.

स्वार्थ one's own sense possessed by a word, such as जाति, गुण, क्रिया or संज्ञा which is called प्रवृत्तिनिमित्त in the case of nouns, and क्रिया in the case of verbs; cf. also अनिर्दिशार्थाः प्रत्ययाः स्वार्थे भवन्ति M. Bh. on P. III. 2. 4 Vārt. 2.

The word is used in connection with a large number of tad, affixes which are prescribed without any special sense attached to them; vide P. V.3.36 to P. V. 4.67. The Samāsānta affixes prescribed from P.V.4.68 onwards can also be called स्वार्थिक. cf. स्वार्थिकाश्च प्रकृतितो लिङ्गवचान्यनुवर्तन्ते । M. Bh. on P. V. 4. 14, 27. See the word स्वार्थे.

ह the last of the spirant consonants, which is a glottal, voiced letter called also ऊष्म or spirant of a partial contact, i. e. possessed of the properties कण्ठ्य, नादानुप्रदान, ऊष्म and रूचस्पृश्यत्व. This letter has been given twice in the Pāṇinian alphabet, viz. the Maheśvara Sūtras, and the Bhāṣyakāra has given the purpose of it, viz. the technical utility of being included among soft consonants along with semi-vowels, nasals and the fifth, the fourth, and the third class-consonants (ह्रस्व अश्चैतन्.), as also among the hard consonants along with the fourth and the third class-letters and spirants (ह्रस्व,). The second letter ह्र in ह्रस्व appears, however, to have only a technical utility, as the purpose of its place there among spirants is served by the Jihvāmūliya and the Upadhmaniya letters which are, in fact, the velar and the labial spirants respectively, besides the other three श्, ष् and स्. The Rk Prātiśākhya calls ह्र as a chest sound. For details, see Mahābhāṣya on the Śiva Sūtra ह्रवत् Vārttikas 1, 2 and 3.

II.6; (3) name of an external effort causing घोष; cf. सांप्रतिके प्रकृतिस्थे कण्ठे सति ह्रकारे नाम वाह्यः प्रयत्नः कियते । तेन च व्यञ्जनं घोषो जायते । Vaidikābharṇa on T.Pr. II.6; (4) name of a kind of external effort of the type of अनुप्रदान found in the utterance of the consonant (ह्र) and the fourth class-consonants; cf. ह्रकारो ह्रचतुर्थ्यु • T.Pr.II.9.

हरदत्त name of a reputed grammarian of Southern India who wrote a very learned and scholarly commentary, named पदमञ्जरी, on the Kāśikāvṛtti which is held by grammarians as the standard vṛtti or gloss on the Sūtras of Pāṇini, and studied especially in the schools of the southern grammarians, Haradatta was a Drāvida Brāhmana, residing in a village on the Bank of Kāveri. His scholarship in Grammar was very sound and he is believed to have commented on many grammar-works. The only fault of the scholar was a very keen sense of egotism which is found in his work, although it can certainly be said that the egotism was not ill-placed and could be justified; cf. एवं प्रकटितोऽस्माभिर्भाष्ये परिचयः परः। तस्य निःशेषतो मन्ये प्रतिपत्तापि दुर्लभः ॥ also प्रक्रियतर्कग्रहणे प्रविष्टो ह्युमानसः हरदत्तहृदिः सैरं शिदन् केन वायते ॥ Padamañjari, on P. I. 1. 3, 4. The credit of popularising Pāṇini's system of grammar in Southern India goes to Haradatta to a considerable extent.

His commentary named लघुशब्दरत्न, but popularly called शब्दरत्न on Bhaṭṭoji Dikṣita's Praudhāmanoramā, is widely studied by pupils along with the Praudhāmanoramā in the Vyākaraṇapāṭhasālās. There is a work existing in a manuscript form but recently taken for printing, named 'Bṛhatsabdaratna' which has been written by Haridikṣita, although some scholars believe that it was written by Nāgeśa who ascribed it to his preceptor. For details see लघुशब्दरत्न.

हेमचन्द्र a Jain sage and scholar of remarkable erudition in the religious works of the Jainas as also in several Shāstras. He was a resident of Dhandbukā in Gujarat, who, like Śāṅkarācārya took संन्यास-दीक्षा at a very early age and wrote a very large number of original books and commentaries, the total number of which may well nigh exceed fifty, during his long life of eighty-four years (1088 to 112). He stayed at Anhilavādī-Pattana in the North Gujarat and was patronised with extreme reverence by King Kumārapāla who, in fact, became his devoted pupil. Besides the well-known works on the various Shāstras like Kāvyaṅuśāsana, Abhidhānacintāmaṇi, Deśināmamālā, Yogasūtra, Dvyāśrayakāvya, Triṣaṣṭīśālākāpuṣacarita and others which are well-known, he wrote a big work on grammar called सिद्धहेम-चन्द्र by him, but popularly known by the name हेमव्याकरण or हेमशब्दानुशासन. The work consists of eight books or Adhyāyas, out of which the eighth book is devoted to Prākṛit Grammar, and can be styled as a Grammar of all the Prakṛit dialects. The Sanskrit Grammar of seven chapters is based practically upon Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī, the rules or sūtras referring to Vedic words or Vedic affixes or accents being entirely omitted. The wording of the Sūtras is much similar to that of Pāṇini; at some places it is even identical. The order of the treatment of the subjects in the सिद्धहेम-शब्दानुशासनम् is not, however, similar to that obtaining in the Aṣṭādhyāyī of Pāṇini. It is somewhat topicwise as in the Kātantra Vyākaraṇa. The first Adhyāya and a quarter of the second are devoted to Saṁjñā, Paribhāṣā and declension; the second Pāda of the second Adhyāya is devoted to kāraka, while the third Pāda of it is devoted to cerebralization and the fourth to the Stripratyayas. The first two Pādas of the third Adhyāya are devoted to Samāsa or compound words, while the last two Pādas of the third Adhyāya and the fourth Adhyāya are devoted to conjugation. The fifth Adhyāya is devoted to verbal derivatives or kṛdanta, while the sixth and the seventh Adhyāyas are devoted to formations of nouns from nouns, or taddhita words. On this Śabdānuśāsana, which is just like Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī, the eighth adhyāya of Hemacandra being devoted to the grammar of the Āṛṣa language similar to Vedic grammar of Pāṇini, Hemacandra has himself written two glosses which are named लघुवृत्ति and बृहद्वृत्ति and the famous commentary known as the Bṛhannyāsa. Besides these works viz. the हेमशब्दानुशासन, the two Vṛttis on it and the Bṛhannyāsa, he has given an appendix viz. the Lingānuśāsana. The Grammar of Hemacandra, in short, introduced a new system of grammar different from, yet similar to, that of Pāṇini, which by his followers was made completely similar to the Pāṇiniya system by writing works similar to the Siddhāntakaumudī, the Dhātuvṛtti, the Manoramā and the Paribhāṣeṇ-dusekhara.

ह्रस्वनी imperfect tense; a term used by ancient grammarians for the affixes of the immediate past tense, but not comprising the present day, corresponding to the term लृङ् of Pāṇini. The term is found in the Kātantra and Haimacandra grammars; cf. Kāt. III. 1.23, 27; cf. Hema. III. 3.9.

ह्रस्व short, a term used in connection with the short vowels taking a unit of time measured by one mātrā for their utterance; cf. ऊकालोऽस्त्वदीर्घच्छ्रुतः P. I. 2.27.
